RAILROAD BILL FAILS TO PASS

A Defection of Citizens Blocks the Duquesne Way Ordinance.

SENT TO COMMITTEE

Corporations Body to Make Radical Amendments and Insert $50,000 Rental Clause.

BLANKET MEASURE NOT UP YET

COMMON COUNCIL'S WORK EPITOMIZED

Votes of Citizens' majority defeated an attempt to rush through the Duquesne way ordinance under a suspension of rules. Measure was returned to corporations committee to be amended. A clause providing an annual rental is to be inserted.

Council adjourned before Director E. M. Bigelow's blanket ordinance could be considered.

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad ordinance, extending grant on Monongahela wharf, passed without opposition.

D. C. Crawford's committee presented ordinance abolishing fee system in delinquent tax collector's office, but not to take effect until February 1, 1904.

The ordinance vacating Station street for the enlargement of the Pennsylvania Company's East Liberty station was postponed.

A split in the ranks of the Citizens party members and the defection of the leaders of that faction accounts for the failure to rush the Duquesne way railroad ordinance of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company through common council last night without debate under a suspension of the rules. Seventeen members voted against suspension of the rules and 30 members in favor of suspension, the latter number being six short of the three-fourths vote required to put the measure on final passage.

The determined opposition of the small body of Citizens councilmen also prevented the ordinance being referred to a special committee, according to the program outlined by Thomas S. Bigelow, and the vote of a majority of the Citizens members, later in the session, enabled the leaders of that faction, who had fought the ordinance from the first, to send the bill back to the joint corporations committee to be reconsidered and reported again to common council at the regular meeting next Monday night.

Blanket Ordinance Sidetracked.

The Bigelow faction was so demoralized by the failure to put the Duquesne way railroad ordinance through that they were unable to prevent Director E. M. Bigelow's blanket ordinance being taken up in the order of unfinished business from the previous session. When the order of unfinished business was reached a motion was made to adjourn and it carried, only a few Bigelow councilmen voting in the negative.

Of the 17 members who voted against the suspension of the rules to put through the Duquesne way ordinance at one sitting, 16 were Citizens and the other was E. J. Edwards, a former Republican of the Second ward, who voted with the Bigelow faction in the technical school fight. The 16 Citizens who lined up against the Duquesne way ordinance were as follows:

John P. Baldauf, Twenty-seventh ward; Frederick Beehner, Twenty-third ward; Thomas M. Brown, Twentieth ward; George W. McNeil, Twenty-first ward; William C. Keitz, Thirty-fifth ward; Gebhardt Sahner, Twenty-seventh ward; Charles C. Schad, Thirteenth ward; Jacob Schuck, Thirty-first

MILLIONS ARE BADLY NEEDED

Andrew D. White in Speech at Yale Answers Carnegie's Query.

SHOT AT PITTSBURGH

Holds This City Up as One of the Examples of Municipal Misgovernment.

ADDRESS BY WHITELAW REID

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

New Haven, June 22.—A call to American millionaires, and especially to Andrew Carnegie, for $14,000,000 was made tonight at Yale by Andrew D. White, formerly ambassador to Germany and ex-president of Cornell. Mr. White said that the greatest good a millionaire could do in making a large benefaction at present would be to contribute either a part or the whole of that sum to be used for the following objects:

First. Endowments in 25 American universities of professorships and fellowships for instruction of public affairs to fit the youth of America for office holding.

Second. Professorships and fellowships in 25 American universities for study and teaching in administration.

Third. The establishment on a similarly large scale in American universities of professorships in international law.

Fourth. The establishment of 25 professorships and fellowhips in the history of civilization.

Fifth. Endowments in 25 universities for chairs in American history.

Sixth. Similar endowments in 25 American universities for the study of music and literature as inspiring accompaniments to civic virtue and public life.

Mr. White said that he was tonight giving his answer to Andrew Carnegie, who sat next him at the table at the anniversary banquet at the celebration at St. Andrew's college, the oldest in Scotland, last year, when he suggested to Mr. Carnegie that there was much good remaining to be done in America by millionaires.

Mr. Carnegie Answered.

"Here was an opportunity I had waited a lifetime to have presented and before I could grasp it our conversation was interrupted, so I will answer the question now."

Mr. White's address was given at a meeting unprecedented in the history of Yale, if not of any American university. It was the semi-centennial of his own class, '53, the most famous in Yale, and there were present 35 of the 43 members, now alive, all of them more than 70 years of age. They applauded vigorously the greatest plea in the life of their most renowned member at the last reunion they will ever hold.

Mr. White spoke an hour in explanation of his claim that the greatest need in American life today is educated young men to hold public office, honestly, capably, intelligently. He scored roundly the shameful conditions existing in the state of Delaware and the cities of Minneapolis, St. Paul and Pittsburgh, and declared that courses in universities in the subjects he mentioned would aid America more than anything else open to university influence at present.

Addressing the graduating class of the Yale law school today, Mr. Whitelaw Reid, former minister to France, made a strong plea for the expulsion of anarchists from all countries of which they are not subjects or citizens, and for the most stringent surveillance over them in all cases.

In discussing the Monroe doctrine he declared that he believed its influence would become more widespread as the years roll by, if our extreme claim to

MAD MOB TAKES MURDERER FROM DELAWARE JAIL AND BURNS HIM AT THE STAKE

Negro Slayer of Helen Bishop Confessed and Was Lynched by a Crowd of Angry and Determined Citizens.

THE GUARD WAS OVERPOWERED

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

Wilmington, Del., June 23.—A mob of 2,000 men and boys broke into the workhouse shortly after midnight this morning and secured George White, the negro murderer of Helen Bishop, after a desperate battle with the guards. He was taken to Price's corners, the scene of his dastardly crime, and burned at a stake. As his tortured body writhed in the flames he was shot to death, his body being fairly riddled with bullets.

It was 9:30 o'clock last night when Chief of Police Black of this city received a telephone message from the warden of the jail announcing that a mob was gathering about the workhouse and asking that help be hurried from Wilmington. Chief Black at once called in 30 men and sent them to the workhouse in a special trolley car. Upon the arrival of the officers at the workhouse they found fully 2,000 men congregated about the place. Many were armed.

Guards Were Powerless.

Efforts to disperse the mob was without avail and the officers co-operated with the force of guards on duty about the grounds and awaited developments. As on Sunday morning, there were two distinct bodies.

The first of these, who come from the section surrounding the home of Miss Bishop, congregated at Price's corner. The most of them were armed and several carried coils of rope. The men were not masked. The other mob congregated about the workhouse and many of these were from Marshallton and Wilmington. They were young men and boys and were nearly all armed.

The first move made by the mob was about 10 o'clock when the telephone wires between the workhouse and this city were cut. Shortly after this about 50 horsemen, dressed in women's attire and wearing masks, came charging through a piece of woodland and rode up within a stone's throw of the workhouse. This appeared to be a signal for the mob, which had remained quiet and undemonstrative, made a rush for the front of the building, yelling at the top of their voices. The members had nearly reached the porch, from whence some one in the second story fired into the crowd.

Broke in the Doors.

Chief of Police Black and several of the guards rushed out and tried to quiet the men, but they appeared to be wild and paid no heed. Rushing into the porch, they broke in a door and gained the first corridor, while others swarmed over an unfinished part of the building. A second section of the mob waited until the first rush was over and then ran to the front of the workhouse. They dragged a battering ram after them and crushed in the heavy doors leading to the rotunda.

After the first shot had been fired there was a volley exchanged between the mob and the guards. The guards and police were evidently firing over the heads of the crowd at first. When the main corridor had been gained a Virginian who is said to have come here for the purpose of taking charge of the affair, called for six men to stick close and that they would get the negro. This speech was hailed with cheers and over 100 followed him down the corridor.

Four members of the mob are said to have been shot, but in the confusion it is impossible to obtain names, except it is known that Peter Smith, aged 17, was shot in the back.

Burned at the Stake.

It is stated that when the mob entered the final door of the workhouse, the deputies and guards within were terrorized and huddled together, offering no resistance. They saw that it would be useless to fight against such a large force.

The trembling negro was finally discovered crouching in a cell. He was taken to Prices Corners, the scene of his crime. He there confessed to having assaulted the girl, and was burned at the stake, and his body riddled with bullets.

The crime for which White was lynched was one of the most revolting in the criminal annals of Delaware. The victim, Helen S. Bishop, daughter of the Rev. Dr. E. A. Bishop, superintendent of the Ferris Industrial school, would have been 18 years old next October. She was a student of the Wilmington High school, and was on her way home from the school last Monday afternoon when she was attacked.

Late Monday afternoon a farmer working in the field saw a young woman stagger and fall in the road. She got up and fell again, then she tried to crawl. The farmer and his sons went to her assistance, but when they reached the girl she was lying unconscious in the road. They found her to be Miss Bishop.

Died from Her Hurts.

She had three ugly gashes in her throat, her body was badly scratched and her clothing was torn in many places. In one hand she clutched a small penknife which she used at school in sharpening pencils. There was every evidence that Miss Bishop had made a desperate resistance in defense of her honor and her life. The wounded girl was taken home and died the next afternoon without regaining consciousness.

The entire neighborhood was instantly aroused and a man hunt was immediately instituted. Suspicion was soon fastened on George F. White, a negro, just out of the workhouse and who was engaged as a laborer on the farm of Edward Woodward, near the scene of the assault. White was found in bed that same night and when taken into custody denied all knowledge of the crime. He was identified by several persons who said they saw him in the vicinity of the scene of the crime. A knife, which Mrs. Woodward said belonged to him, was found where the girl was assaulted. White was brought to Wilmington, but later was transferred to the county workhouse, where the police officials thought he would be safe from mob violence.

SHE HORSEWHIPPED HIM AND THEN TOOK HIM HOME

Unique Justice Administered to Man and Wife in a Kentucky Court.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

LEXINGTON, KY., June 22.—City Judge John Riley went on record today as a man of original ideas in the punishment of offenses against the law. Anderson Gass a civil war veteran, 76 years old, was brought before the judge charged with beating his wife. The woman told a pitiful story of how he beat and abused her.

After hearing the woman's story, Judge Riley asked her: "You are an athletic looking woman, why don't you take him in hand, a good whipping might make him change his ways."

"I would whip him judge, but I always heard that you was very severe on wife beaters and I thought I had better let you punish him." "You think then you could whip him if I would let you?" said the judge.

"Yes, I can whip him all right, but I don't like to do it," said the woman. "Well you must whip him and I will furnish you with a whip," said the judge. A horsewhip was procured and the woman whipped her husband until he danced and cried for mercy. The husband promised to quit his evil ways and she took him home.

QUAY IN THE WOODS

Pennsylvania Political Napoleon Making Heroic Fight Against Maine Flies.

KINEO, MOOSEHEAD LAKE, MAINE, June 22.—(Special.)—Senator Quay of Pennsylvania is washing in a tin basin each morning these days. The mututinal scrub is outdoors and the washstand is a board nailed between two trees. He sleeps on a browse bed between two blankets, and his face, reddened by exposure and smeared with black fly slush, looks like a beet boiled in oil.

Senator Quay frankly admits that he isn't a thing of beauty way back here in the Maine woods, but he adds that he doesn't care whether he is or not. He tried to look well the first day he went out on a canoe trip and the result was that the flies got after him so fiercely that both eyes were nearly closed. He is now well settled in camp with the others of his party, Walter Merrick of Philadelphia, Stephen P. Stone of Beaver, Pa., and Capt. Ben Sooey of Atlantic City.

BLOSS WINS OFFICE.

Titusville Editor Will Be New Postmaster Despite Vigorous Opposition.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(Special.)—The Titusville postoffice fight has been brought to an end and Mr. Bloss, editor of the Herald, will be appointed to succeed M. R. Rouse, the present postmaster. Representative Bates of Meadville today saw President Roosevelt and Postmaster General Payne, after which the announcement was made that the president had decided to appoint Bloss.

Bloss' name was sent to the senate by the president at the regular and at the extra session, but it was not acted upon. Republicans from Titusville have recently been here to prevent the appointment of Bloss, but he had strong backing not only from his own district but from other parts of Western Pennsylvania.

De Rousse Is Removed.

PHILADELPHIA, June 2.—(Special.)—Louis De Rousse of Camden, who left the postoffice last Wednesday while inspectors were making an examination of his accounts, in which they found a shortage of $2,148.71, was removed as postmaster today, and Charles P. Sayers, his assistant, was put in charge temporarily. The action was taken at the request of the bondsmen.

MRS. LORENZ IS INDICTED

Arrest of Former Toledo Postmaster and His Wife Is Ordered

CHARGE IS SERIOUS

Offense Alleged Is Conspiracy to Defraud the Government, and Penalty Is Heavy.

PROGRESS OF INVESTIGATION

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Room 29, Postal Building, WASHINGTON, D. C., June 22.

Indictments against five more persons were handed down by the grand jury today as a result of the postoffice department investigation. The defendants are August W. Machen, Diller B. Groff, Samuel A. Groff, George E. Lorenz and Martha J. Lorenz. They are charged with conspiracy to defraud the government, the penalty for which is a fine of $10,000 or two years imprisonment, or both, at the discretion of the court.

Machen and the two Groffs are already under indictment, the former charged with accepting and the two latter with giving a bribe. This was in connection with the contract for letter box fasteners, the patent for which was owned by the Groff brothers. The postoffice inspectors had worked up what they considered a strong case here, but they were not satisfied, because it appeared that there were others concerned in the deal—the persons who acted as go-betweens, who collected the money from the Groffs and paid it over to Machen. Further investigation pointed to George E. Lorenz and his wife of Toledo as the persons who looked after the collection department.

In brief the charge is: That it cost about 25 cents each to manufacture the Groff letter box fasteners; that through the influence of Machen they were sold to the postoffice department for $1.25 each. Forty per cent, or 50 cents on each fastener, was the rake-off that was paid to Machen, his share being collected by Lorenz or his wife.

"Rakeoff" Was Large.

The dates and the amounts paid to the Groff brothers upon which it is charged that Machen received a commission are as follows: September 1, 1900, $6,202 50; November 27, 1900, $7,500; August 17, 1901, $3,391 25; January 3, 1902, $1,732 50; November 1, 1901, $1,883 75; January 8, 1902, $6,250; April 1, 1902, $6,250; February 24, 1902, $250; August 11, 1902, $6,872; August 29, 1902, $750; October 22, 1902, $6,250; October 18, 1902, $6,250.

It is understood that Machen and the Groff brothers will not be arrested under this indictment, nor will their bail be increased. The purpose of this charge was to reach Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz, and the other three, if they are convicted upon the bribery charge, will be tried only upon one count of the conspiracy indictment.

A copy of the indictment has been forwarded to Toledo with bench warrants issued for the arrest of Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz by the district supreme court. Much complaint was raised at the apparent dilatoriness of the district attorney's office in acting upon these cases, but the length of the indictment is a defense of the officials for the delay. Other cases have been referred to the district attorney and they will be laid before the grand jury soon. Among these is the Tyner case.

That Franklin Contract.

The investigation will likely be extended to the office of Third Assistant Postmaster General Edwin C. Madden. Charges have been filed in this office affecting a contract with the General Manifold Company of Franklin, Pa. This concern furnishes receipt books for registered letters, and it is charged by the

LEGAL LIGHTS IN THE ARENA

Affairs of the Shipbuilding Company Presented to Judge Kirkpatrick.

MAKES NO DECISION

POINTS BROUGHT TO LIGHT

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, June 22.

Judge Kirkpatrick was unable today in the United States circuit court at Trenton to determine whether or not a receiver should be appointed for the United States Shipbuilding Company and ordered the litigants to assemble again tomorrow. All through the hearing sharp rejoinders were the rule.

Counsel for the Shipbuilding Company made admissions that led Judge Kirkpatrick to observe that it seemed as if the parent company had all the assets and the subsidiary concerns owed all the debts, and that by the terms of transfers made when Mr. Schwab threw his Bethlehem plant into the merger he obtained very ample security. The aim of the reorganization committee to further intrench Mr. Schwab was indicated in the proposed name of the suggested rehabilitated combination which was "The Bethlehem Steel and Shipbuilding Company."

The case was opened by Mr. Woolman reading at length the bill of complaint, the substance of which has already been published. During the reading Mr. Woolman brought out the facts that Charles M. Schwab had received for the Bethlehem steel works $30,000,000, made up as follows: $10,000,000 preferred stock, $10,000,000 common stock, and $10,000,000 in collateral bonds.

Schwab Well Secured.

Judge Kirkpatrick asked what the collateral consisted of and was told that it embraced two mortgages, one on the Bethlehem plant and another on the shipbuilding company's entire property. He made a humorous comment to the effect that Schwab was well secured. When the reading of the bill of complaint was completed Mr. Woolman began reading the exhibits in the case, one of which was a statement issued by the Republic Trust Company containing a very flattering statement as to the company's condition. Mr. Corbin objected to this exhibit as not properly before the court. Judge Kirkpatrick remarked that the statement seemed to favor the defendant, but that at any rate it was immaterial as what the court wanted to get at was the company's present condition and not what somebody else thought or said was the condition some months ago.

When Mr. Woolman had concluded reading the bill of complaint and the accompanying affidavits, Attorney General McCarter arose to read the answer and also the affidavit of Lewis Nixon, the president, and A. C. Gary, secretary of the company.

General Denial Made.

The answer in the main is a general denial of the salient points of the bill of complaint. It denies absolutely that there was any insolvency and states the company was able to meet its obligations. It was stated that no arrangement had been made whereby bonds were to be issued on account of the Bethlehem plant; that the plant was not separately acquired; that it was included in the general purchase, and that the promoter was neither Nixon nor Schwab, but John W. Young; that the value paid was a matter of judgment, and that good judgment had been exercised. It was denied that any excessive prices had been paid, and the company denied that it had made any exaggerated state-

Special Grand Jury Will Attempt to Make an End of Crime in Breathitt County.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

FRANKFORT, KY., June 22.—At the request of Gov. Beckham Circuit Judge Redwine will convene the Breathitt circuit court in special session at Jackson July 20, and at once impanel a special grand jury which will be carefully selected by officials other than those of Breathitt county.

State Inspector Hines, the representative of the governor, has in possession evidence sufficient to warrant indictments for the burning of Ewen's hotel, for the attempted bribery of Capt. Ewen, for the bribery of witnesses and the intimidation, if not bribery of a juror. In addition there is evidence against accessories to the murder of James B. Marcum and others picked off by the Hargis faction, sufficient, it is claimed, to warrant the indictment of men high in office in the county and prominently identified as leaders of the Hargis faction. The proof is said to be absolute and can be brought out if the witnesses can be assured of safety.

Meantime 100 soldiers will remain on duty at Jackson. There will be ample protection for the witnesses, and after the grand jury adjourns the witnesses will be cared for.

Mrs. Ewen remains in Jackson and on the advice of friends she will personally oversee the 50 men who are engaged in the work of getting out timber under a contract made by Capt. Ewen with the Hargis Bros. Mrs. Ewen is determined that the Hargis Bros. shall be held to the contract.

CELEBRATED M'COY GANG AGAIN ON THE WARPATH

One Was Killed, Others Hurt During Their Attack Upon a West Virginia Town.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ROANOKE, W. VA., June 22.—A party of mountaineers, led by Floyd McCoy, a member of the McCoy-Hatfield feudists, went to Keystone, McDowell county, West Virginia, last night and insulted many people. John Reynolds resented this. McCoy's crowd crossed the railroad and opened fire on Reynolds.

A large crowd gathered and the entire police went in pursuit. McCoy retreated 400 yards, took his stand and opened fire on the officers and a pitched battle raged in the darkness. One of McCoy's men was killed and another fatally wounded, others also being injured. The police escaped injury.

The McCoy crowd escaped to the mountains, taking their dead and wounded with them.

FIRST LADY WILL RIDE GIFT HORSE WYOMING

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(Special.)—Wyoming, the saddle horse President Roosevelt received from the people of Douglas, Wyoming, was really intended for Mrs. Roosevelt. This fact was kept secret until today. Mrs. Roosevelt will ride him as soon as he becomes accustomed to automobiles, street cars and other things he did not know on the plains. The trainer who brought him from Douglas to Washington has had him out every day since he arrived and now says he is gentle enough for Mrs. Roosevelt.

DEMOCRATS TO AVOID NATIONAL QUESTIONS

Convention at Harrisburg Will Deal Strictly With Pennsylvania Issues.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—Democratic City Chairman Charles H. Donnelly today informed The Gazette correspondent that the September convention would not indorse a presidential candidate nor express any opinion upon national issues. As Chairman Donnelly is the eastern representative of Col. J. M. Guffey, the Pennsylvania leader, his expression may be regarded as official.

"It would be absurd for Pennsylvania, which appears to be irrevocably and eternally wrong politically, to attempt to dictate a party presidential candidate or to frame a national platform," was the terse summary of the Quaker City leader.

"The Democratic state convention, which will be held at Harrisburg in September," continued Mr. Donnelly, "will attend exclusively to affairs within its own jurisdiction."

"Who is your personal choice for the presidential nomination?"

"At this time I have none."

"Who does Col. Guffey favor?"

"He has not informed me."

"Pennsylvania," continued Mr. Donnelly, "should remain in the background on the presidential question. With our 64 delegates we may be the balance of power when the national convention meets next year."

Chairman Donnelly was evasive when pressed for an expression upon the Cleveland and Gorman candidacies.

"I hear he is a good judge," he replied, with ironic emphasis, when asked about Judge Parker's availability.

CHRISTMAS RECOUNTS BATTLES AND SIEGES

American Soldier of Fortune Home on Vacation After Exciting Edventures.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, June 22.—Lee Christmas, the sunburned athletic American soldier of fortune, who commanded a detachment of revolutionists in 10 engagements in Spanish Honduras during the recent insurrection, the first person to enter Tegucigalpa, the capital, after a three days' siege, arrived here today from Porto Cortez. Mr. Christmas was the second in command on the staff of President Manuel Bonilla and was one of the leaders in the war that put Bonilla in the president's chair.

Christmas has come home on a two months' vacation, which he will spend with friends in the city. He holds the important position of director general of police of Tegucigalpa. He has been fighting his way to fame and fortune in Honduras since 1897.

Christmas brings the first authentic information as to the actual disposition of ex-President Arias upon Bonilla's triumphal entry into the city. The ex-president was declared to have violated the peace protocol when he took a detachment of 30 soldiers and refused the National bank of Tegucigalpa of over $30,000. Bonilla's force pursued him and found him and all his retinue staff having a convivial rejoicing over their booty. The party was captured and returned to the capital, where they were thrown into the penitentiary and are still lying there chained to the stone floors with no prospect of release. It is alleged there are 50 prisoners of the Honduras law lodged against one of Arias' cabinet.

MORE TROUBLE IN SERVIA

Cabinet Thrown Into Panic by Russian and Austrian Notes Demanding Punishment of the Assassins—Peter Said to Have Instigated the Crimes.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

GENEVA, June 23.—King Peter of Servia left Geneva on his way to Belgrade at 8:45 p. m. today. The city made quite a holiday of the King's departure. All afternoon the king's house was surrounded by a good-natured crowd, which increased in numbers all along the route to the railroad station, where several thousand persons were congregated.

The king dined with the members of his household before his departure, when he drove to the station, accompanied by Gen. Topovics, the head of the Servian military deputation, and followed in carriages by the president of the Servian senate and the other members of the parliamentary delegation.

The station was strongly guarded by gendarmes and detectives in order to prevent any untoward incident. On the platform was gathered a deputation of Geneva women, who presented the king with magnificent bouquets of flowers and many other flowers were thrown in the carriage. The Russian consul was among the last to shake the king's hand as the train pulled out of the station amid loud cheering in response to which King Peter cried "Vive la Suisse."

BELGRADE, SERVIA, June 23.—King Peter's promotion of officers of the Geneva military deputation have given serious offense here and it is probable that they will be cancelled. The position of the ministry is becoming unenviable in consequence of the Russian and Austrian demands for the punishment of the assassins of King Alexander and Queen Draga. The Russian note almost caused a panic among the cabinet who are anxiously awaiting the arrival of King Peter to extricate them from the dilemma.

The foreign representatives have not been authorized as asking their respective governments what attitude they shall assume at the reception of King Peter. The Russian minister is in a quandary. He had resumed relations with the provisional government when the czar telegraphed his recognition of King Peter but the minister takes the subsequent publication of Russia's demands for the punishment as an indication that Russia will possibly order the suspension of relations until the murderers are punished.

VIENNA, June 22. The Tilegemeine Correspondenz learns that the new king of Servia was not only fully informed of the military conspiracy of Belgrade, but that it was actually carried out by his agents. The officers broke into the kneak with the fixed determination of killing the royal couple. The question of demanding the abdication of King Alexander was not mentioned. On the contrary the latter being, realizing his peril, spontaneously offered to renounce the crown, but the officers ignored this and proceeded to the murder.

M. Simmengovic, the mayor of Belgrade, and a number of leading merchants, oldgarb and peasants, arrived here today from Servia to participate in a reception to be given to King Peter on his arrival here at 10 o'clock tonight.

NO CHANGE IN FULTON'S OFFICE UNTIL 1904

New Ordinance Retains Fee System Until Next February. Station Street Vacation.

After a delay of over a month, D. F. Crawford, chairman of the special committee to which the matter had been referred, presented two ordinances to common council last night, providing that the delinquent tax collector be paid a salary instead of fees as compensation. The ordinances stipulate, however, that the change is not to take effect until February 1, 1904, which is just prior to the next comptroller election.

The ordinance fixes no salary for the collector or his assistants, but leaves the space blank to be filled by the finance committee to which the ordinance was referred.

Common council postponed action on the ordinance of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, enabling Stetion street for the enlargement of the East Liberty station. Councilman C. W. McNeil and J. E. Wymard of the Twenty-first ward, objected to the ordinance on the grounds that it closed up a thoroughfare from Penn and Frankstown avenues to the railroad. The matter was laid over until more information could be obtained from the railroad company.

Jacob Soffel presented an ordinance for the appointment of two tenement house inspectors at a salary of $700 a month each.

Ordinances for the vacation of portions of South Twentieth street and Edwards alley were passed finally. Ordinances also passed finally for grading, paving and curbing Aporto, Ridge, Keystone, Pearl, Ecaton and Bedford streets; Kendall, Lincoln and Lang avenues; for sewers on Rutledge, Sheridan, Rebecca and East Carson streets.

Other bills passed were ordinances authorizing Mercy hospital to construct a tunnel under Locust street and authorizing the letting of contracts for the purchase of an asphalt repair plant; for the purchase of brooms, sweepers, carts, etc., for the department of public works; for the repair of bridges; for the extension of the Negley run sewer in the Allegheny river, and for the cutting of the channel in the river at Brilliant station.

The following bills were presented: Revoking the contract let to J. H. McQuade for improving the Bedford avenue park; grading, paving and curbing Elm street, Woolf avenue and Meade street; establishing the grades of Stella and Cairo streets, Wesley avenue, Allum and Star alleys; re-establishing grades on Second avenue, Meadow and South Tenth streets; opening Wilkinsburg and Meadow streets and for a sewer in Woodlawn avenue.

Mr. Brown presented an ordinance providing for an appropriation of $10,000 to the chamber of commerce to defray the expenses of an exhibit for the city at the St. Louis fair next year.

THEIR SILVER JUBILEE.

Knights of St. John Celebrate the Event in an Appropriate Manner.

COLUMBUS, O., June 22.—The silver jubilee of the International Knights of St. John opened here today, several thousand knights and ladies being in attendance. Solemn pontifical high mass was celebrated by Archbishop Henry Moeller, supreme spiritual adviser of the order, this morning.

Following the religious exercises the delegates adjourned to the board of trade auditorium, where the convention was called to order by Col. George M. Kegelmeyer. The roll of delegates was taken and badges and souvenirs distributed, following which the convention adjourned for the great parade, which was scheduled to take place at 3 p. m.

ARE NOW MIDSHIPMEN.

List of Pennsylvania and Ohio Applicants Who Passed at Annapolis.

ANNAPOLIS, MD., June 22.—Following are the names of the 42 candidates, principals and alternates who passed the mental examinations for admission to the naval academy as midshipmen, which were held in the academy last week. Two hundred and fifty boys in all completed the examinations: J. O. Adams, Pennsylvania; E. G. Allen, Pennsylvania; M. Z. Bell, Pennsylvania; John Sherman, Ohio; Charles William Carlson, Ohio; Charles F. Chambers, Ohio; Gaylord Church, Pennsylvania.

CRUEL ATTACK MADE UPON AN AGED EAST END WOMAN LAST NIGHT

An attempt to assault and rob an aged woman in Shady avenue, East End, was frustrated last night. The victim, Mrs. Caroline Krausman, aged 72 years, of No. 168 Shady avenue, is prostrated as a result of her experience, and her assailant is locked up in Police station No. 6, where he will be arraigned for a hearing before Alderman E. C. Negley this morning.

Mrs. Krausman conducts a laundry in Penn avenue and is quite wealthy. She was reputed to carry considerable money on her person and it is thought by the police that she was looked upon by thieves as a profitable victim. While returning along Shady avenue from the laundry, with her day's receipts, at 9 o'clock last night, she was confronted by a man near the intersection of Aurelia street. She attempted to defend herself with her umbrella and screamed for help. The highwayman attempted to gag her by placing his hands over her mouth, but before he succeeded in this, Peter Schusler of Penn avenue, and a coachman, heard her cries and ran to the scene. On their approach the man released Mrs. Krausman and fled down Shady avenue. He ran but a short distance when he was caught by Policeman Louis Miller.

At the police station the prisoner at first refused to talk, but finally stated that his name was Morris Gormley of Denniston avenue. Mrs. Krausman was taken to her home and required medical attention resulting from her nervous condition.

LEGAL LIGHTS IN THE ARENA

ment as to the company's condition. The company denied absolutely any responsibility for the statements put out by the Republic Trust Company. The statement given the New York stock exchange it was claimed, was given in good faith, while containing some errors that were afterward discovered and that were immaterial.

It was denied also that the company was under control of Schwab or that there had been any understanding between Nixon and Schwab along the lines indicated in the bill of complaint.

The affidavit of Mr. Nixon was a sweeping denial of the charges in the bill of complaint. He said he had absolutely nothing to do with the conception or carrying out of the formation of the United States Shipbuilding Company. The promoter, he said, was John W. Young, and that what he did was to give Young an option on his own plant. Naturally, he said, he had been appalled to see that as to the advantages of the consolidation, and whenever asked he stated he believed the combination would be a good thing, in that it would increase earnings. He also gave as his opinion, based on an experience of 18 years in the shipbuilding business, that the plants absorbed, exclusive of the Bethlehem works, were worth $20,000,000.

Mr. Nixon said that he had absolutely nothing to do with the selection of those companies, outside of the Crescent Company, that were to form the United States Shipbuilding Company. These companies, he said, were selected by Mr. Young. He denied that he, with other directors of the company, or anybody else employed, the Trust Company of the Republic or through or by their means or agency caused the circulation and publication of the statement put out by the Republic Company. He said he never saw the circular until after it had been published.

No Arrangement With Schwab.

He denied also that there had been any arrangement between Schwab and himself whereby Schwab should acquire the plant of the Bethlehem Steel Company and thereafter sell the same to the Shipbuilding Company at an enormous profit. On the contrary, he said the facts were that Schwab had acquired the Bethlehem plant long before the formation of the Shipbuilding Company. He also denied that he had recommended or approved the supposed reorganization plan with a view to having a supposed investigation and exposure of his conduct as an officer or director of the Shipbuilding Company, and he also denied that there had been any misconduct on his part in the management of the company. Mr. Nixon also denied that he had any arrangement or understanding with Mr. Schwab.

The affidavit of Mr. Gary was to the effect that the United States Shipbuilding Company was entirely solvent.

When these affidavits were presented Mr. McCarter offered other affidavits from officers of the subsidiary companies, showing their solvency. These additional affidavits were objected to on technical grounds because the complainant had no notice that they would be presented. After a long discussion it was agreed that these affidavits should be admitted with the provision that the complainant be permitted to call as witnesses and cross examine the signers of the affidavits.

Sheldon Not Present.

After recess the complainant sought to have called as a witness Mr. Sheldon of the reorganization committee. He was not present, although it was insisted that he had been served with a subpoena. Council for the Shipbuilding company argued that the alleged subpoena was of no validity, but that Mr. Sheldon was willing to appear at the direction of the court. Finally it was agreed to proceed without Mr. Sheldon's testimony.

This closed the taking of testimony and after some parleying adjournment was taken until tomorrow morning, when the case will be argued before Judge Kirkpatrick at Newark. Each side will be given three hours in which to present its side of the case.

COUNCIL DEADLOCKED ON PRICE OF CHAIRS

Wilkinsburg Lawmakers Having Trouble Selecting Furniture for Their Chambers.

Wilkinsburg, the long-suffering, is undergoing a new crusade. Its councilmen want more comfortable seats while deliberating on the borough's welfare. Revolving chairs with leather cushions and frames of figured mahogany, hand carved and ornamented with enameled tacks are desired by the borough lawmakers. Last night their wishes were put to the test and a tie vote resulted. The matter will come up at the next meeting of the council and several astute members scent trouble.

Councilman S. H. Thompson was instrumental in introducing a resolution providing for the purchase of a dozen revolving chairs and some new desks for $150, the contract being to a local firm. Several members seconded the idea. Mr. Thompson pointed out the unattractive appearance of the old chairs. Councilman S. A. Steel stated that the sum asked for the chairs was beyond reason. He said that seats could be purchased for $3 or $4 which would supply all the comfort needed. It was pointed out that the average cost of a good dining chair was not much over $3 and when people could enjoy an $8 banquet on a chair like that, there was no reason why a chair where a town politician sat and smoked cheap stogies should cost so much more.

About the same time the question of re-decorating the council chamber came up. There was less opposition to this resolution and it was passed without dissent. Burgess J. A. Reed stated that next week the new Penn avenue car line would pass the loop around Center avenue and Franklin streets, and that transfers to the cars of the Pittsburgh Railways Company would be given at Franklin and Mulberry streets.

ASSAULT PLANNED ON REBELS' STRONGHOLD

CARACAS, VENEZUELA, June 22.—The government has decided to attack by land and from the river Orinoco, the town of Ciudad Bolivar, in the hands of the revolutionary Gen. Rolando. Twelve hundred troops have gone to San Felix, where they will meet Gen. Gomez, who is on his way thither by sea with 3,400 men. After a junction has been effected they will march on Ciudad Bolivar which, it is expected, will be attacked next Saturday.

MILLIONS ARE BADLY NEEDED

interfere is moderated. Under the topic "The Doctrine of Anarchism," Mr. Reid said, after sketching the absence of treaty provisions covering crimes against chief magistrates and the great increase in such offenses in the last century:

"The gift for protecting the life of the president failed, because certain senators held that the head of the government was entitled to no greater protection than the lawless, humblest or most worthless and vicious citizen. Their motives are beyond reproach, but to me, at least, their logic and law seems to belong not to the America of which we are so proud, but to the sans-culotte period in France.

"In an imperfect list of assassinations, successful or attempted, on sovereigns or their chief magistrates during the last century, I have counted up over 40—more than one in three years, nearly one every other year. The men who committed some of these crimes are said to have enjoyed our hospitality and to have been chosen by lot for their infamous work at meetings under our protection. In at least one case a public meeting has been held to rejoice over the assassination of one of the most liberty loving of modern kings, if not to claim a share of the credit.

"I present that foreign suggestion for surveillance of the anarchists and for their expulsion from all countries of which they are not subjects or citizens. And I put it to you whether that is preferable to the emperor and the czar in that crisis came nearer than the American congress to the demands of the highest Christian civilization.

On the Monroe Doctrine.

Of the Monroe doctrine Mr. Reid said in part:

Considering at present merely as a barrier against the reactionary designs of the holy alliance upon the new republics we had just recognized in the American continent at the close of the French revolutionary and Napoleonic period, its condition somewhat resembles that of a long neglected barrel around which have accumulated the debris of years. The hoops, the thing that made a barrel, have dropped away; only the pressure of the debris outside holds the staves together.

I do not say that the illustration exactly fits the case or that the Monroe doctrine would disappear if Europe ceased to oppose it. For the sake of precision it may be well at the present to restate a few facts about it, not always remembered. The doctrine is not international law. It is not American law. It consists merely of declarations of policy by presidents and secretaries of state and these are not uniform.

It is always an advantage in any effort to see all around a subject to find the other man's point of view. Perhaps we may get a clearer insight into the action of the European mind on this subject if we should try to work out some European Monroe doctrine, and especially some European Polk doctrine.

China, or at any rate, China and Russia combined, hold a position in Asia far more commanding than that of the United States in the three Americas. Suppose China or China and Russia together had taken ground that the Asiatic continent was no longer a field for colonization or conquest by any American power, and on that ground the outbreak of the Spanish-American war had warned us off Manila and the Philippines? Do you seriously suppose the United States would have meekly accepted the doctrine in Asia or even in Africa?

Tone May Be Moderated.

In this day, in the light of the last 100 years and more of the development of the strength of representative government on this continent, it is for us to say if there is any ground of justice or right on which we rest the Monroe doctrine, as that of our proper predominance, in our own interest, and in the interest of republican institutions generally, within the legitimate sphere of our national influence, that in the present conditions, if no foreign interference arises suddenly to affect the national judgment, it is at least among the possibilities that we may find two chapters taking place in the popular esteem of the Monroe doctrine. We may see a considerable increase in the stringency of their application, where our interest clearly calls for them, within the world's hemisphere of our influence. We may see them slowly moderated as to remote countries.

Toward the rest of the American continent beyond the Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean sea, it may some day prove more convenient for us to assume less responsibility. A railroad crossing through the three Americas will draw us more closely together.

In the senior appointments of Yale today, which included the general scholarship averages of the members of the class of 1903 for the four years of the course, the following leading seniors were won by Pittsburgh and Western Pennsylvania boys:

Honors for Pennsylvanians.

Philosophical oration, Donald John Cowling, Scottdale; orations, Donald Thompson, Pittsburgh; dissertations, Albert Hileman, Frankstown, and Roy Arthur Hunt, Pittsburgh; second disputes, Claude Garfield Bennethum, Harrisburg, and Horace Burton Pomeroy, Troy, N. Y.; first colloquies, Harry Wilfred Dupuy, Allegheny city; Harvey Childs McClintock, and August Kountze Oliver, Pittsburgh; second colloquies, William Frew, Pittsburgh.

Among the Pittsburgh guests here are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dupuy and the Misses Anne and Eleanor Dupuy, Mrs. Alfred Hunt and Mrs. H. J. Whitcomb.

Chung Hin Wang of Canton, China, a graduate of Tien Tsin university in 1899, carried off highest honors with the degree of Master of Laws, summa cum laude, in Yale Law school this afternoon, and George Williamson Crawford, a negro of Birmingham, Ala., won the highest forensic honor in the law school, taking the Townsend prize. He spoke this afternoon, delivering, in competition with three others, an oration on "Trades-unionism and Patriotism."

Rain shortened the outdoor exercises on the Yale campus this afternoon, where the class histories were read. They were finished in the Hyperion theater. The historians were: Ernstus Corning, Albany, N. Y.; Carroll J. Waddell, Ottawa, Kan.; Harry Clark Winchester, Tenn.; Augustus K. Oliver, Pittsburgh; G. Stanleigh Arnold, New Haven.

In the morning the Sheffield Scientific school class exercises were held similiarly. The historians were Joseph Woodward, Hartford, Conn.; V. Kerby Bratker, New York city; George Baker Morris, Pittsburgh, and David P. Thompson, Chicago.

Tonight the annual concert by the Glee club was held in Woolsey hall, followed by the senior promenade in the gymnasium.

Mitchell Not Seriously Ill.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., June 22.—Owing to reports that National President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers was seriously ill, W. D. Ryan this afternoon telegraphed Secretary W. B. Wilson at Indianapolis, regarding Mr. Mitchell's health, and received word that while President Mitchell is not well, he left for Chicago this afternoon.

ward; James P. Shaw, Sixth ward; L. W. Shearer, Thirty-seventh ward; Jacob Soffel, Jr., Thirty-second ward; W. H. Stevenson, Fourteenth ward; Joseph Walls, Thirteenth ward; W. R. Wolfe, Twenty-second ward; J. K. Wymard, Twenty-first ward; Joseph Zeuger, Ninth ward. Total, 16.

The following members voted for the suspension of the rules to pass the ordinance finally: Messrs. Armstrong, Barr, Barker, Beckert, Bonini, Brand, Cavett, D. F. Crawford, Cross, Delaney, Fitzpatrick, Hogus, Hughes, Jack, Lamb, Laufor, Leslie, David Lewis, John Lewis, Martin, Moore, McNally, M. F. O'Brien, Rodgers, Schwartzwalder, Semmelrock, Sheehan, Sterrett, West, Wiley.

Committee Meets Tomorrow.

The Duquesne way ordinance is to be taken up by the corporations committee and amended this week. Chairman George W. McNeil stated last night that he would probably call a meeting for tomorrow night and that a couple of sessions at least would probably be held during the week.

It was the opinion of the Citizens councilmen who voted against the ordinance last night that a compensation clause will be inserted, requiring the company to pay an annual rental to the city for the franchise. This was done with the Baltimore & Ohio railroad ordinance for the extension of its depot on the Monongahela wharf. It is also the opinion that this rental will be fixed at about $50,000 a year.

W. H. Beehner of the Twenty-third ward, who voted against the ordinance last night, said he thought $50,000 would be a fair sum to charge for the franchise. W. C. Reitz said he thought a yearly rental ought to be charged. Thomas M. Brown expressed himself in favor of a yearly rental, but stated that other amendments ought to be made to the ordinance.

Mr. Brown said that besides the question of compensation, the corporations committee would have to consider what effect the elevated line along Duquesne way would have on the Allegheny river interests, and also whether it would interfere with the proposed raising of approaches to the Sixth street and other bridges as proposed by the riverman.

"The elevated railroad," he said, "may close any approach to the bridges if they are raised. It may stop the traffic to the bridges either under or over the elevated structure."

Brown Favors Amendments.

Councilman Brown said that he favored an amendment to the ordinance that would prevent any other road wishing to enter the downtown section from being shut out. He said this was one of the most important questions that the corporations committee would have to decide.

The Baltimore & Ohio ordinance for the Monongahela wharf passenger and freight station, passed last night without opposition and for a maximum term of 999 years. The ordinance provides that the company shall pay a yearly rental of $10,000 for the grant. It is now paying $8,000.

Immediately upon the passage of the Baltimore & Ohio ordinance Chris Beckert of the Fourteenth ward jumped to the floor and moved to suspend the rules to pass finally the Pennsylvania ordinance for the Duquesne way line. The opposition leaders smiled with satisfaction when Gebhardt Sahner, president pro tem, announced that Beckert's motion had been defeated, the vote standing 20 ayes and 17 noes, lacking the requisite three-fourths vote.

Mr. Beckert and W. H. Stevenson jumped up to make a motion to refer the ordinance to a committee of five, the committee to confer with the city solicitor. Stevenson wanted the privilege of offering the motion because he hoped thereby to be appointed chairman of the committee, but the presiding officer recognized Mr. Beckert. When the motion was put M. G. Leslie objected, contending first that the failure to suspend the rules disposed of the ordinance and that, under the rules, the ordinance laid over until the next meeting. The president ruled against this point of order and Mr. Leslie raised the other point that the motion did not designate the ordinance by number and title. The chair ruled the point not well taken and Mr. Leslie took an appeal from the decision of the chair.

Leslie's Appeal Sustained.

The Republicans, following Mr. Leslie's lead, sided with the Citizens minority, and suported the appeal. The vote was 22 to sustain the chair and 24 against. The vote to sustain the chair was as follows:

Ayes—Messrs. Baldauf, Beckert, Beehner, Bonini, D. F. Crawford, Fitzpatrick, Jack, Lamb, Lauler, David Lewis, Martin, McNally, McNeil, M. F. O'Brien, Schaub, Soffel, Sterrett, Walls, Wymard, Zeuger—22.

Noes—Messrs. Armstrong, Barker, Barr, Brand, Brown, Cavett, Cross, Delaney, Edwards, Hogue, Leslie, John Lewis, Moore, Reitz, Rodgers, Schad, Schwartzwalder, Semmelrock, Shaw, Shearer, Sheehan, Stevenson, West, Wolfe—24.

D. F. Crawford of the Fourteenth ward renewed the attempt to refer the ordinance to a special committee of five, but the chair ruled that the motion was similar to the one offered by Mr. Beckert.

J. G. Armstrong then moved a suspension of the rules to put the ordinance on second reading. The vote to suspend the rules this time stood 28 to 18, three short of a three-fourths vote.

Citizens Objected to Stevenson.

W. H. Stevenson then succeeded in getting in his motion to send the ordinance to a committee of five by asking that the rules be suspended for that purpose. Mr. Beckert and other Citizens aware of Mr. Stevenson's desire to get on the committee voted the same motion down that they had voted in favor of a few minutes previous, the vote being 25 in favor of suspension and 31 opposed.

This disposed of the ordinance for the time being. Considerable routine business from the public works and surveys committees was transacted and then W. C. Reitz, after a consultation with other Citizens, offered a resolution that the Duquesne way ordinance be returned to the corporations committee. This motion was amended by W. H. Stevenson, requiring the committee to make a report at the next meeting of councils.

M. G. Leslie opposed the motion, stating that councils were competent to handle the matter and that a reference to the committee meant a delay.

Messrs. Stevenson and Reitz claimed that the ordinance before councils contained radical changes from the ordinance originally in the committee and that it had been approved by the committee last week without ample consideration. After further debate Mr. Reitz's resolution was passed by a vote of 25 to 22 as follows:

Ayes—Messrs. Baldauf, Barker, Beehner, Bonini, D. F. Crawford, Fitzpatrick, Hogue, Jack, Lamb, David Lewis, McNeil, Reitz, Sahner, Schad, Schuck, Shaw, Shearer, Soffel, Sterrett, Stevenson, Walls, Wiley, Wolfe, Wymard, Zeuger—25.

Noes—Messrs. Armstrong, Barr, Beckert, Bonini, Brandt, Cavett, Cross, Delaney, Edwards, Hogue, Lauler, Leslie, John Lewis, Martin, Moore, McNally, M. F. O'Brien, Rodgers, Schwarzwalder, Semmelrock, Sheehan, West.—22.

Textile Workers Strike Again.

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—The textile workers employed in the carpet mill of Evans, Dietz & Metzger, who returned to work last week, struck again today. They claim that all of the operatives excepting the dyers were granted a new scale on the basis of 60 hours' day for 55 hours' work. The dyers demanded an increase of $3 a week in wages, which was refused.

Enormous Increase in Capital.

TRENTON, N. J., June 22.—The Continental Railway Equipment Company increased its capital stock today from $2,000 to $5,250,000. The papers were signed by Otto Lee as president, and A. H. Keith, secretary.

Be Careful.

A funny thing occurred on a Pullman car the other night. A gentleman had gone to bed in one of the lower berths and thinking the upper berth would not be occupied placed his valise there. As the train filled up all the berths were taken. It became necessary for the porter to remove his valise and place it on the floor at the side of his berth. In doing so he let the valise down with a jar and broke a bottle in it, the contents of which ran out. "Golly," he cried. "I have broken a bottle." "Broken a bottle!" came a roar from behind the curtains; "did you break a bottle in my valise?" "Guess I did, sir." "Do you know, porter, you have put me to the bad?" "Bottle of Bourbon, sir?" "No, sir; it was a bottle of Red Raven Spitts, the only pleasant tasting aperient water. I was to take it tomorrow before breakfast. You can't get any substitute for Red Raven. Nothing acts so gently on the liver or is so good for a man after he has spent a night on the cars. I would rather have had you wreck the train than have broken that bottle." "Do not get excited, sir," replied the porter, "I know the goods. Indeed they are excellent. Don't worry; you can get them on the diner in the morning."

American Federation of Labor that the company employs child labor in its works contrary to the law and that the contract it holds was let without competition. Gen. Charles Miller is the president of the company and Representative Sibley is one of the directors. The company manufactures a manifold paper that does away with the need of carbon sheets, and as this paper is patented the concern has a practical monopoly on its product, and therefore there would not of necessity be competition in the letting of its contracts. It has secured several big orders from the government, but it is not charged that there has been irregularity in giving these orders or that unreasonable prices have been exacted.

Postmaster General Payne has instructed Fourth Assistant Bristow to investigate the charges made against H. H. Rand, the postmaster general's confidential clerk. It has been charged that Mr. Rand is interested in western mining companies and that he has used the influence of his official position to induce employes of the department to invest in those companies.

Lorenz Defends His Wife.

TOLEDO, June 22.—George E. Lorenz, who with his wife was today indicted by the federal grand jury in connection with the postoffice scandal, this afternoon would not discuss the case as it referred to himself, but said that Mrs. Lorenz is as innocent as a child of any wrongdoing. He said his shoulders were big enough and broad enough to relieve her of any criticism in connection with the postoffice cases.

"The Post Intelligencer will say that among the matters which are being investigated is the purchase from a California company of 17,000 desires for indicating the hours of collection of mail. The intention is that of the postmaster at San Francisco, it is said.

It is said also that 7,000 of these devices originally were ordered at a cost of $5 each, or a profit of 100 per cent, and the allegation is made that a further order for 10,000 was placed, notwithstanding the original 7,000 devices were not used, but were reposing in a storehouse.

The company controlling the device was largely made up of California postal employes, and the Post will say that it is informed that ex-Representative Loud of California, formerly chairman of the house postoffice committee, took an active part in their behalf and wrote several letters urging the device in the department, and in one of them said it would be an accommodation to him if the matter was attended to.

ANOTHER CHARGE AGAINST STRIKE BREAKER STRONG

NEW HAVEN, CONN., June 22.—[Special.]—Theron R. E. Strong of New York, a member of the graduating class at Yale, was arrested today in a civil suit for $1,000 damages, brought by William M. McCarthy. Strong was acting as strike breaker and drove a hack. He carried McCarthy in his hack on Sunday, May 22, and became involved in a dispute about the fare. McCarthy caused Strong's arrest. He was fined $5 for breach of the peace.

Fine Silk Skirts Reduced in Price.

Please don't jumble the reading of this and think we are talking of silk petticoats—nothing of the sort; the sum and substance of this news is that women today can buy handsome Silk and Lace Dress Skirts for a very great reduction from original prices.

As has been pointed out on different occasions special sales consist, in many cases, of the depleted lines. That is what makes them special. That is the common cause for naming reduced prices. In this sale of Silk Dress Skirts in some instances there is only one of a pattern; in others two and three. Either way there are none too many skirts, so our advice is to see the lines this morning—if possible.

$20. Silk Skirts reduced from $35. Of taffeta, trimmed with braid and small pleats over silk drop.

$20. Silk Skirts, reduced from $30. Of taffeta, finished with side pleats and inserting of fagoting.

$20. Silk Skirts, reduced from $35. Of peau de sole, trimmed with inserting of net and fagoting over silk drop.

$20. Silk Skirts, reduced from $30. Of peau de sole, made with bands and folds of same over silk drop.

$25. Silk Skirts, reduced from $40. Of peau de sole in three different styles, trimmed with braid and velvet over silk drop.

$30. Silk Skirts, reduced from $45. Of taffeta, made with three rows of net insertion and small knife pleats over silk drop.

$30. Silk Skirts, reduced from $50. Of taffeta, made with two rows of medallion inserting over white silk drop.

$35. Silk Skirts reduced from $55. Of peau de sole over black silk drop, made with a lace flounce, edged with ruffle.

$38. Lace Skirts, reduced from $65. This is black lace made over a white taffeta drop.

$38. Lace Skirts, reduced from $75. Black lace made over white taffeta drop.

And while on this subject of skirts, we may as well give you an item or two hinting of what may be saved on Dress and Walking Skirts for all run-about occasions:

Today there will be on sale, for $10 reduced from $15, a great lot of Dress Skirts in blue, tan and black voile. These skirts are unlined. They are made with side pleats and trimmed with silk.

For $5, reduced from $10. There will be the popular mohair and cheviot Walking Skirts on sale—blue, gray, tan and black. For the same price, reduced from the same price, there will also be on sale a limited number of Walking Skirts in all-wool cloth mixtures.

Summer Dresses for Little Children.

Inexpensive dresses—just the kind of dresses the tots need for their play hours—dresses that if they do get a little dirty you won't mind much. A little dirt, a little of the sun's tan—robust youngsters.

50c. Gingham Dresses for one, two and three-year-old children. Plain pink, blue and pink, and blue stripes, made with yoke and ruffle of same over shoulder, finished with pleating. Neck and sleeves finished with narrow white hemstitched ruffle.

50c. Short Dresses for six months, one and two years. Made of nainsook, square yoke of hemstitched tucks with narrow ruffle of embroidery around neck and sleeves.

85c. Short dresses made of nainsook, yoke of clusters of fine tucks and hemstitching, dainty embroidery insertion around yoke; hemstitched hem in skirt; neck and sleeves finished with hemstitched ruffle.

50c. Long Slips of nainsook, bishop style, neck and sleeves finished with narrow hemstitched ruffle.

Different Grades of Good Shawls.

A gentleman asked this morning: "Do you know when this equinoctial weather is going to end?" And that put us in mind that Shawls, especially Shoulder Shawls, are just now an important essential to women's evening dress. The second floor department is brimful of the best grades of Shawls—inexpensive to very finest.

Zephyr Shawls, dainty blue, pink, white, gray and the popular black, many sizes and patterns, for $1.75, $2 and up to $4.50.

Silk Shawls, white, cream, blue, pink, green and black, $1.50 each and up to $10.

White Cashmere Shawls, favored by many women, $2.50 to $3.50.

Black and White Chuda Shawls—something pretty fine —$3.75 each and up to $15.

Barred Shawls of all wool, white and black, black and white, red and black, $4.50 each.

Scotch Plaid Shawls, $3.50 each.

Fine Camel's Hair Shawls, tan, $3.50 each.

Warner's Rust-Proof Corset.

Of all the inexpensive corsets manufactured there is none that steps over Warner's Rust-Proof Models. If there were it would be found in our Corset Department.

The Warner people had before them, when they introduced their Rust-Proof Corset, the single idea of giving women a corset possessing many of the merits of the higher priced corsets for the most ordinary of prices. And they succeeded so well that Warner's Rust-Proof Corset is noted all over the country. Its sales are far in advance of any other inexpensive corset.

In our Corset Department women, by spending $1 or $1.50, can get something that will give them utmost satisfaction—something that adapts itself with infinite grace to the contour of the waist.

Summer Swisses, 50c a Yard.

Last week we sold nearly all our $1 Embroidered Swisses for 50c a yard.

Today we offer the remainder, including several lines which sold for $1.25 and $1.50, for the reduced price of 50c a yard.

These are handsomely embroidered Swisses in white and colored grounds, with white and black embroidery. They will be on sale in the Fifth St. cross aisle, main floor.

Women's Fabric Gloves.

Many women would just as soon have lisle as silk for every-day use, other women will not touch anything but best silk gloves.

Best lisle and best silks here.

25c a Pair. A 50c grade of Lace Lisle Gloves, two clasps. Various colors as well as white and black.

50c a pair. Two-clasp Net Gloves—gray, black and white.

50c, 75c, $1 a pair. Suede Lisle Gloves, such colors as mode, tan, gray, white, black.

$1 a pair. The famous Kayser Silk Gloves, black and white, in 12-button lengths.

BOTTLERS MUST QUIT BUSINESS

License Court Has Taken Summary Action Against Six Hold-over Wholesalers.

THEIR LICENSES WERE REFUSED

All Dealers Accused by Anti-Saloon League of Supplying Disorderly House Trade Get a Severe Shock—Others May Suffer.

Judges J. A. Evans and Elliott Rodgers, sitting in quarter sessions court yesterday, handed down a decision absolutely refusing to grant licenses to six wholesale liquor dealers and bottlers in the downtown district of Pittsburgh and the protected district of Allegheny.

The decisions followed a petition filed by Attorney M. H. Stevenson, representing the Anti-Saloon league, on Saturday last, as exclusively published in The Gazette, requesting the court to refuse the licenses of at least three of the largest dealers in the downtown section of Pittsburgh on the ground that, in violation of the law, they had since they were held over, continued to supply their trade and had engaged in the liquor business.

The men refused are:

Frederick Heyl, bottler, No. 636 Fifth avenue.

James M. Tracey, bottler, No. 318 and 320 Liberty avenue.

Porter & Edwards, wholesalers and bottlers, Nos. 500 and 502 Second avenue, and Nos. 501 and 503 First avenue.

William McKelvey, wholesaler, No. 112 Fulton street.

B. A. Earl, bottler, No. 600 Ann street, Allegheny.

Louis H. Broudy, bottler, No. 310 Robinson street, Allegheny.

Caused a Big Surprise.

The court made no comments in handing down these decisions. Several of the men, when they heard of the decision, were loath to believe it true and hurried to their attorneys' offices for full particulars. A visit to the clerk of courts' office convinced them they were out of the liquor business for at least a year, and that the Anti-Saloon league had been victorious at last in the fight it has made against those accused by the league with supplying disorderly houses in the protected districts of Pittsburgh and Allegheny.

When these men first applied for licenses for the year the league protested against them, overlooking McKelvey, however, until it was almost too late to file a remonstrance. Attorney Stevenson adduced much evidence, through the league detectives, that these men had supplied the disorderly house trade, and although the applicants fought hard for a renewal of their licenses, bringing witness after witness in their behalf, the league with its evidence, succeeded in having all of them held over. It was alleged that the dealers then stocked up the trade they were supplying for the hold-over period, but this was denied in several instances. Charges were also made that they had arranged with other dealers to carry on their business for them, but this was also denied, although the dealers said they had loaned their bottles in some instances to other dealers.

Temperance People Were Active.

The temperance people were not idle during the hold-over period, and from the character of the petitions filed on Saturday against James M. Tracey, Porter & Edwards and William McKelvey, it was shown that the league was prepared to continue the fight. The court took the petitions and without a hearing on the charges set forth, refused the licenses.

The league now asserts that the dealers who were charged with taking care of the trade for the men who were refused, are equally guilty, and that evidence will be presented to have their licenses revoked.

The action of the court caused a decided sensation among certain classes and there followed much speculation as to who will now be the "official" bottlers in the two cities. The league has given things such a shock, however, that doubt is expressed as to whether any bottler will now care to take the risks involved.

Jarred Things in Allegheny.

The summary and unexpected action of the court in refusing license to Louis H. Broudy and Ben A. Earl, caused a sensation in Allegheny. Both are friends of Mayor James G. Wyman and are in favor with him and his friends. There was no doubt in the minds of North Side politicians that both Earl and Broudy would be granted licenses to sell.

A number of new clubs have been started in the First and Fourth wards during the past three weeks, and it is understood they were to open after July 1. One new club in Robinson street, close to Federal, has been handsomely furnished and was open for a short time last Saturday night. The two proprietors are said to be boasting that they have protection and that they would be doing business in another week or so.

When Wyman's favorite son Earl presented him with a large floral piece, bound by a large white ribbon, bearing the word "Vindicated." The significance of this caused a lot of comment at the time.

It was said about the North Side city hall, yesterday, that a well-known bottler in the Second ward, or another in the First, who, until the last sitting of the license court drove a beer wagon, would be the favored one.

VOTERS' LEAGUE OBJECTS.

Sends a Communication to Councils on the Pennsylvania Ordinance.

The executive committee of the Voters' Civic league issued yesterday an address "To the Councils and Citizens of the City of Pittsburgh," anent the ordinance of the Pennsylvania railroad now in councils. The address urges that whatever grant of rights to build a line in Duquesne way is given be made with a proviso that all other railroads shall, at a fair compensation, be admitted to the use of the line.

If this cannot be secured from the Pennsylvania the committee suggests that the city have the line built independently of the Pennsylvania and states that capitalists can easily be found to carry out the enterprise. "The ordinance in its present form is objectionable from any point of view," says the address.

It states that in the ordinance are no provisions for the crossing of the line by other railroads; for compensation to the city for an exclusive franchise of enormous value, for the removal at any stated period of the Liberty avenue line.

Another Runaway in Library Street.

A car on the Wilkinsburg and East Pittsburgh division of the Pittsburgh railways lines, got beyond control of the motorman while descending Library street, Braddock, yesterday afternoon and dashed down the steep grade for several hundred yards before it was stopped. There were no passengers on the car at the time. It was only stopped after it had reached the foot of the hill and had torn down a large portion of the overhead trolley wire.

Highwayman Overlooked His Roll.

John Liffin of No. 4 Shady avenue, Allegheny, was held up yesterday morning at the foot of Wilkins street, Allegheny, by three highwaymen, who searched his pockets. Finding only a silver watch and some change, they let him go. Liffin had $100 in bills in the band of his hat.

Will Resume After Long Idle Spell.

The Lincoln Place brick works will resume operations today after an idleness of two years. The plant is owned by P. F. Poorbaugh, and has a daily capacity of 50,000 bricks. The output of the works has been contracted for for the next year.

COPENHAGEN TO BE PERMITTED THIS YEAR ON JOLLY JUBILEE DAY

The good old game of Copenhagen, so popular with the school children of years ago, but possibly not so well known to those of the present day, because of the ban that has from time to time been placed on it, is to be permitted in the Allegheny parks on Jubilee day, next Friday. Director E. J. McIlvain was asked about this yesterday, by a number of school principals, and each got the same answer—"Let them play it to their hearts' content; I used to do so myself."

Several times in past years, Copenhagen—which everyone knows is a kissing game—has been prohibited by the Allegheny authorities and the police have been instructed to break up any attempts at starting the sport. This is not to be the case this year and several large ropes will be carried from each school in the city on Jubilee day, and there will be sport galore.

WANTS PONIES IN THE PARKS

Public Works Director McIlvain Has Popular Plans for Allegheny Youngsters.

CONCERTS AND PREACHING

Ministerial Approval Will Be Asked for Healthy Open-Air Recreation on Sundays at Other Than Regular Church Hours.

Director E. J. McIlvain of the Allegheny public works department returned yesterday from a trip to Chicago, where he went to look over the parks of that city to study western methods of conducting public parks and to pick up any new ideas that such observation might suggest. Yesterday the director said Chicago had the finest parks in the world, and that it was his intention to make the Allegheny parks as nearly like Lincoln and South parks as it is possible.

Among innovations determined upon by McIlvain is the introduction of ponies and donkeys in the downtown parks, to furnish amusement for the children. Sunday concerts are to be encouraged and preachers of the gospel are to be given unlimited license. Director McIlwain was very enthusiastic yesterday when spoken to about his plans. He said:

"Our parks have always been pretty, but that is about all that can be said for them. It is my intention to make our downtown parks more of a public playground, both for children and grownups. Why, I saw 20,000 people in South park, Chicago, yesterday, and the fun the little children were having was a sight to do one's heart good. That is what I want to see in Allegheny. I am going to see that the children get more freedom in the parks, and I think when we get some ponies and donkeys for their amusement there will be all kinds of fun for them.

"I am going to have Sunday concerts in the parks too—that is, if the church people do not make a howl against it. It is my intention to confer with a number of ministers regarding this. No concert will ever be given during church hours, and preachers will be invited to hold open-air services every Sunday. If all these plans are fulfilled I feel sure our Sundays in Allegheny will be spent in a better way than at present. It will keep the young people out in the air and away from other places not so good for their morals. For I want it understood there is to be no Coney Island attractions or crowds in the Allegheny parks."

Director McIlvain says he can carry out all these priects within a short time. Where he is going to get the money to do it with he will not tell at present. There is an appropriation of $1,700 set aside for weekly concerts in West and Riverview parks, but aside from this there are no available funds that can be drawn on for the accomplishment of McIlvain's new ideas. There will be no trouble in finding someone who will contract with the city to supply a number of ponies and donkeys, according to the director, and further, he says he has the money from private sources for the Sunday band concerts.

NEITHER SIDE TALKING PEACE

According to John Lauler and W. J. Moore, Harmony Is Not Secured in Fourteenth.

WANT TO FIGHT IT OUT

The Dismissal of Inspector Henry Whitehouse Has Assisted in Blocking Any Plan to Secure a Settlement of the Troubles.

According to John Lauler and W. J. Moore, the Citizens party troubles in the Fourteenth ward are no nearer settlement than at any time since the start of the factional warfare. They are the leaders of the opposing wings of the party. Thomas S. Bigelow insists that a compromise is in sight.

Harmony in the ward was given a serious blow yesterday by the action of the police board in dismissing Inspector Henry Whitehouse of the Oakland district. He is probably the strongest individual votegetter in the Citizens party in the ward. Unless he is reinstated there will be trouble. His friends will today make a mighty effort to have the powers come to his rescue. When he went into the fight for Hays there was an understanding that Bigelow was to take care of him in return for the delivery of the Seventh district of the Fourteenth ward and his assistance in carrying Soho. His goods were delivered.

Friends of Whitehouse Rally.

The friends of Whitehouse in the Fourteenth ward Citizens committee last night proposed carrying a petition to city hall signed by all of the 48 committeemen. Signers to the paper are now being secured and the petition will probably be presented today. If Whitehouse is not taken care of his friends say that the Citizens cannot look to them for support.

Common Councilman Lauler had a conference yesterday morning with T. S. Bigelow concerning the Fourteenth ward troubles. He said last night that he was opposed to any settlement which would mean the recognition of Moore. He also announces that he is not in favor of the withdrawal of Moore and Capt. E. Y. Breck and the naming of a compromise ward chairman. He will insist upon Capt. Breck carrying the fight into the city committee. "If this is done," said Mr. Lauler, "Capt. Breck will be recognized as the chairman. If Moore is again put at the head of the committee it is difficult to say what will become of the party in the ward."

W. J. Moore said last evening that he knew of no plan to compromise the fight. He will today prepare a paper setting forth his side of the case and file it with the city committee. When asked whether he would accept the decision of the committee as final, he remarked that that was farther along. He says he had a meeting with Select Councilman James J. Booth the other day and that they are now friends.

One of the Fourteenth ward councilmen is authority for the statement that both Moore and Breck will have to step down and agree to the selection of another man. He says that M. J. Ehrenfeld and Assistant District Attorney A. J. Edwards are being considered as compromise chairmen. Neither Moore or Lauler are agreeable to this form of settlement. The plan is the one wanted by T. S. Bigelow. He said yesterday that he had a man in view for the chairmanship.

The opinion was advanced last evening, by a Citizen, that W. H. Stevenson, who is backing Moore, is trying to force the machine to slate him for mayor to succeed William B. Hays.

SWISSVALE SHOOTING.

Louis Marlow Arrested for Wounding His Wife.

Louis Marlow, 35 years old, a glass worker of Manor street, Swissvale, is confined in the borough jail there, charged with having shot and seriously injured his wife and having attempted to shoot his brother John. The shooting occurred Sunday night. Mrs. Marlow will recover.

About 9 o'clock Sunday night Constable Hughes was informed that a murder had taken place in Manor street and investigated. He found that Mrs. Marlow had been wounded. The brother had left the house, but Marlow was still there and he was arrested.

Investigation yesterday showed that Marlow and his brother had been drinking during the day and reference was made to a domestic trouble in which Marlow, his wife and brother were concerned. Marlow drew a revolver and fired at his wife. The bullet struck her on the forehead, rendering her unconscious. He then fired two shots at his brother, neither of them taking effect. The brother fled.

An Edgar Thomson to Be Relined.

Furnace H of the Edgar Thomson group of blast furnaces at Braddock, was blown out yesterday preparatory to being relined and remodeled. The furnace is one of the largest of the group and has been making record-breaking runs during the past two years, since it was relined. Many modern improvements are to be added to the stack while it is shut down.

GREAT SALE OF NEW WORLD-FAMED PIANOS NOW ON AT AMBUHL BROS.

Makers Recent Changes in Case Designs Enable Ambuhl Bros. to Secure Many at Sacrifice Prices—Kimball, Chickering Bros. and Hallet & Davis' Pianos Included.

SURELY THESE ARE REAL BARGAINS

Never before during our business career have we been able to offer to the public such really great bargains in strictly high grade pianos as we now offer at this sale. Never before have we been fortunate enough to run across such an opportunity to secure pianos from such world-famed makers at the prices we secured these.

It must be remembered that these pianos are not old, second-hand or even shopworn pianos; but entirely new, direct from the factories of some of the world's best makers, where we bought them, as we have stated, at a big sacrifice on account of the makers having recently changed the case designs.

Here, now, we offer elegant new, first grade pianos, that formerly sold for $450, $460, $470, $525, to $650, at prices ranging from $240, $268, $280, $310, $337 to $410.

Remember, these are not unknown makes that can be bought anywhere at most any price, but they include the leading makes of the world, such as Chickering Bros., Kimball, Hallet & Davis, Ambuhl Bros., Whitney and several others.

This is a great chance for cash buyers, but easy payments will be accepted.

The great Kimball pipe organs that have recently been sold so extensively to the finest churches in this vicinity by Ambuhl Bros. (7 in the last four years), are made by the same firm that makes the Kimball piano, both instruments having the same beautiful characteristic tone.

The Hallet & Davis, made in Boston, is another of the standard pianos of the world. It has been the choice of Boston's cultured people for over 60 years.

The Chickering Bros., with its beautiful, sweet singing tone, is another of the great pianos we are offering at bargain prices. It matters but little what kind of cases these pianos have; the tone sells them.

Elegant new pianos in mahogany, walnut and golden oak cases, former prices $300, $340, $375 to $400, are offered here now for $160, $187, $195 to $240.

Cash, or $7 to $10 per month for these.

An elegant full size, upright piano, full iron frame, ivory keys, mahogany case, can be had for $135.

We also find it necessary, in order to accommodate all the pianos we have bought, to include in this sale a fine lot of second-hand, slightly used and shopworn pianos that have accumulated. Many well-known makes are among these. We can only mention a few: Kranich & Bach upright, $125; Chickering upright, $110; Emerson upright, $140; Kimball upright, $200; Cable & Sons upright, $80.

$6 to $8 per month for these.

A fine lot of square pianos very cheap. The following are samples of the bargains: Full size Knabe square, only $60. Another good square, fine condition, only $40, and only $5 per month.

Those that would buy a nice organ if they got it cheap, can find some great bargains here at this sale. Almost any make you want—prices cut right in two; $150 organs go for $75, $125 organs go for $62.50, $100 organs go for $55, $80 organs go for $45 and $65 organs go for $32.50.

As low as $6 down and $4 per month will buy many of these fine organs.

A good second-hand Hook & Hastings pipe organ, suitable for small church, will be sold for $300.

This sale began Monday morning, June 22, and lasts but 10 days.

(2) Also all that certain lot of land situate in the borough of West Newton, county of Westmoreland, and state of Pennsylvania, and described as Lot No. 1 in Jacob Baughman's Southern Extension of said West Newton borough, bounded on the north by Lot No. 114, on the east by Rose street, on the south by Lot No. 116, and on the west by Road Railroad street; being fifty (50) feet on East Broadway, sixty (60) feet on Rose street, and one hundred (100) feet on Lot No. 116.

(3) And also all that certain lot of land situate and lying in the borough of West Newton, county of Westmoreland, and state of Pennsylvania, fronting at a point on the east line of the P. & C. railroad and the north extreme of lot now owned by McLain and lot of Mrs. Frasure, and extending thence along said railroad, north one hundred (100) feet to a post on other land of the said railroad line, north one hundred (100) feet to a post at other land of the said heirs of George Rohland; thence east to low water mark at the Youghiogheny river; thence along said river, south one hundred forty (140) feet to a post corner at land of said McLain; thence by line of said McLain, west to line of said railroad and north corner of said McLain's land, at the place of beginning.

Said two pieces of land first above described being the same property which the United States Radiator Company, by a deed dated June 15, 1901, and recorded in the office of the recorder of deeds of Westmoreland county, Pennsylvania, in Deed Book, vol. 291, page 304, conveyed to the said J. C. Bartlett Company; and said lot last above described being the same which Margaret Rohland, by a deed dated October 17, 1900, and recorded in said recorder's office, in Deed Book, vol. 329, page 501, conveyed to the said J. C. Bartlett Company. All three of said pieces of land being the land upon which the buildings and machinery constituting the above foundry of the J. C. Bartlett Company are located.

The above foundry plant located upon said real estate consists of a one-story building of wood and iron, 100x120 feet in dimensions, used as a warehouse; one main building of wood, brick and iron, 100x200 feet, in dimensions, used as a foundry, annealing furnaces, shipping, engine and office rooms; two small one-story frame buildings, pattern storage rooms; one small two-story building of wood and iron, 24x30 feet in dimensions, used as a pattern room, and also a lot of patterns and the tools and machinery belonging and appertenant to said stove foundry.

Count Cassini's inability to get a stateroom on an Atlantic liner may indicate finical taste on his part, or private advices that he is more needed in Washington than on the ocean. The Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse is not the only boat plying to European ports, though it is one of the largest, swiftest and most luxurious. As for swiftness that cannot be Count Cassini's preference or he would choose a slower boat rather than a two weeks' wait for a fast one. Size is hardly a consideration. So it narrows down to a question of luxurious appointments or important business in this country and there is no mention of the name of the boat he is to sail in during July. There is cause for Washington gossip, but none for alarm.

Following news of a change in command of the harassed British forces in Somaliland comes information of a British defeat at the hands of the former sultan of Sokota at Durmi, in Nigeria. Thus it appears the conquest of savage Africa is only less difficult and costly than the conquest of Boer Africa. Great Britain never learns the military lesson that a good start is half the battle won. British military operations are never in earnest until serious defeat has been suffered and the enemy encouraged to believe in final victory for himself. Everyone knows how much harder it is to stop with a load going full speed down hill than when it is gotten under full control at the top, but the British military authorities rarely fail to get into the most difficult predicament before taking adequate measures.

In the case of Inspector Whitehouse there is at least the appearance of real reform. He was summoned before the board for failure to close a club alleged to have an illegal bar in operation, and the testimony offered before the board was to the effect that about 40 speakeasies existed in his district of which he avowed his ignorance. It is not altogether clear whether the recommendation for dismissal was based upon the avowal of ignorance, or an assumption of unwillingness to comply with orders of the bureau. It does not matter. Either would be sufficient justification if the police bureau is earnest in its announced determination to suppress the speakeasies and keep them suppressed. Of the latter purpose there will be better opportunity to judge a few months hence.

With the advent of the summer solstice comes the official announcements of excursions to mountain, lake and seashore—the annual opportunities for escape from the heat and dust of the city. Incidentally, there came a flood of rain and conditions from which no one desires to escape on account of heat or dust. But the first day of summer is not much an indication of the weeks to follow. Last year Pittsburgh was for the greater part of the time a pretty comfortable summer resort, but it need surprise no one if the wet, cool June shall give way to a torrid July. Nature has a way of balancing accounts that affords a season somewhere for merchants to dispose of their wares and that maintains the average of temperature and precipitation.

Complications increase in Servia. In whatever spirit King Peter may have taken the Russian note, the self-constituted cabinet at Belgrade has taken it seriously and is in a flutter of apprehension. King Peter's promotion of the officers who went to Geneva to escort him to his kingdom has aroused no enthusiasm among the conspirators, but has added to their fears that he, too, may be taking the Russian demand at its face value. It is probably another exemplification of the proverb that "a guilty conscience is its own accuser," or of the wise aphorism of the King of Israel that "The wicked flee when no man pursueth." In any event the world has no sympathy to waste upon the miserable assassins who struck for their own selfish aims and have brought down upon their heads a sea of trouble. Their iniquity is deserving of all the punishment they are suffering, or are likely to be called upon to suffer and more too. And despite the wishes of the emperors of Austria and Russia of a peaceful reign for King Peter, he is likely to find his bloody heritage a menace and burden.

A bulletin from the operating department of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad notes a material economy from the full loading of cars. Thus its coke shipments for one month this year used about 1,000 fewer cars than the same tonnage in April, 1902, when the freight congestion was at its height. This is a mere detail, but it serves to show how thoroughly the railroads have studied their problem under stress of unprecedented traffic. In former years there was theoretic economy in the maximum train load, but the Pennsylvania system learned last winter that four-fifths of a maximum train load, moving 20 miles an hour, would pay better than having two locomotives stand around for 10 hours waiting on shifters to dig the other 10 cars out of the yard jam. Maximum trains continue to be theoretically economical, but the practical rule that has increased shipments and earnings is maximum car loads of bulk freight and maximum movement. Oddly enough, too, these mathematical questions have been worked out principally by men who did not graduate from the engineering departments.

The Railroad Ordinances.

Common council probably did the best thing it could do with the railroad ordinances last evening. There being no objection to the amended Baltimore & Ohio bill, carrying $10,000 annual rental, the rules were suspended and it passed. The Pennsylvania ordinance not being satisfactory in some particulars to all members was recommitted to the committee on corporations, with a tacit understanding that the committee will give hearings to citizens interested, though this was not stated in the resolution. It did, however, carry an amendment assuring the return of the ordinance to council at its next meeting.

One week should be sufficient for councilmen to acquaint themselves with the provisions of the ordinance and be prepared to thresh out disputed points on the floor. Meantime, the city attorney will have an opportunity to examine the bill and have any changes made that are necessary to safeguard the city. The city must be held free from all costs and damages, for it is not its province to bear one cent of the expense of making a change of great value to the railroad company. As for compensation, we have said there should have been some, but in view of all the circumstances it is better to accept the removal of tracks from Liberty avenue as full satisfaction than to take any chance upon having the encumbrance remain there. The unwisdom of the ancient grant of Liberty avenue to the corporation cannot be considered. The only thing now under discussion is the exchange of a new privilege for the old, and there can be no doubt the trade will be highly advantageous to both the railroad and the city.

The reclamation of Liberty avenue is of vital import to the city. It is the natural thoroughfare from the downtown district to the East End. The removal of obstruction from the principal streets between Pittsburgh and Allegheny is also of great importance. Therefore, the energy of councils ought to be directed, first, to safeguarding the city from any costs or damages and, second, to expediting the work of removing the tracks from the streets. An amendment requiring due diligence or placing a time limit upon this work would be pertinent. With these points cared for the ordinance should be pushed through.

Hip Pocket Guns.

It is a good idea for the police authorities to start a crusade against the dangerous habit of carrying concealed weapons. There are entirely too many irresponsible and trouble-hunting individuals, who go about with a double incentive to disorder concealed about their person in the shape of a deadly weapon of some kind. The practice is too common among young boys, who think it quite manly to be able to flourish a "gun" on the slightest provocation. The criminally inclined tough, the foreigner with little regard for our laws and the vicious "public works" fellow, who is here today and gone tomorrow, should all be made to give up the arsenals that they are generally found possessed of. But it will be well to remember that police inefficiency and laxness of duty may create conditions where the only recourse for the law-abiding citizen in order to protect his person or his property is to be ready to meet violence with violence. When burglars are allowed to slip through the fingers of the police, when footpads and criminals are permitted to ply their trades without successful intervention on the part of the legally constituted guardians of the peace the property holder and the man who must daily expose himself to such conditions is very apt to forget the law or prefer the chance of a fine to the danger of being held up and robbed or knocked on the head by a footpad. If the police force can be made so effective as to afford reasonable protection against the lawless elements, the best remedy against carrying concealed weapons will have been found.

With this distinction kept well in mind and a determined effort to make it unnecessary for anybody to carry a concealed weapon, the proposed police crusade against the hip-pocket gun cannot be too searching or too severe.

The Golden Rule.

Those so-called blue laws are not so blue as the mind of man colors them. When Police Superintendent McTighe speaks of their "puritanical provisions" he really refers to provisions that are unnecessarily construed into them by well-intentioned, but severe-minded people, who fail to reconcile works of necessity and mercy with the conditions that surround the daily life of the people. The law regulating Sunday observance, when it is properly interpreted, does not work hardships, but is, instead, a public benefit. Improperly interpreted it may be made rankly oppressive. The trouble has been in this county that good people in their efforts to secure observance of the Sunday law have been possessed of more zeal than knowledge and discretion. They have proceeded on the theory that man was made for the purpose of having the Sunday laws applied to him, instead of the Sunday laws being designed to contribute to his welfare. The comfort and well being of the people as a whole is and should be a first consideration in legislation, and the laws should be interpreted with this principle clearly in view. As we read the expressions of the superintendent of police, while we find that he does not define himself with scientific exactitude, we are led to infer that he is animated by regard for the true spirit of the law in his application of the letter of it. He is entirely right in permitting certain sales within defined limits on the Sabbath day. The time and the place and the circumstances are governing considerations in these matters for the determination of whether or not the law is being violated. The sale of some articles at certain seasons of the year at specified times on Sundays is an act of necessity that at other seasons of the year would be a palpable violation of the law. The requirements of the summer season in the city place some business transactions under the head of works of necessity and mercy, and thus legitimize them on Sunday. The Sunday observance law, when rightly construed, is regulative rather than prohibitive. Between the sternness of an ascetic enforcement and the wide-openness of disregard for law and decency there is the golden mean of the golden rule that is the best guide in all human relationships. Superintendent McTighe doesn't say in so many words that he is applying the golden rule in his measurement of the acts of vendors and purchasers in their relation to the Sunday law, but we gather from what he says that is what he is actually doing. If we interpret him aright he is acting wisely and humanely. Even if his course in this instance is a mere matter of expediency designed with a far-sighted eye to political consequences, there can be no real quarrel with it, so long as the people are the beneficiaries. If the law is consistently administered for the welfare of the people it will be well administered.

Gibbons Still Alone.

There will be some disappointment among Catholics in the United States because no American was raised to the cardinalate at the consistory yesterday in Rome. The archbishop of Baltimore remains the solitary representative of the dignity in this country. There long has been a hope that he would be given company in the senate of the church from among the members of the American hierarchy. During the lifetime of Archbishop Corrigan his elevation was expected in recognition of his scholarship and piety, as well as of his position at the head of the greatest see of his church in this hemisphere. He represented one school of thought and a representative of another, the archbishop of St. Paul was also so favorably regarded by influential sentiment that it was long thought the honor might also be conferred on him. The ebb and flow of hope of the friends of each at one time saw the elevation of one or the other, and at times it was thought that there might be simultaneous elevation of both as a measure designed to show broad tolerance of views held subject to approval of higher authority and subordinated to the requirements of church discipline. Perhaps if Archbishop Corrigan had lived this dream might have been realized. Be that as it may, there is yet but one cardinal in the United States, and it seems now improbable that during the life of the present pope there will be another.

America is so far removed from the capital see of the Roman Catholic church that it is impossible for an American cardinal to participate in the deliberations of the sacred college. The dignity is therefore of necessity merely honorary. It is a distinction, however, that is highly prized by churchmen, and as there are many Catholic prelates who are highly thought of by Americans regardless of religious affiliations, Americans feel a friendly interest in the matter and would be generous in their expressions toward another American wearer of the red hat.

An Amusing Feature.

As the United States does not spread out in spots as does the British empire there are not the same opportunities for amusing legislative inconsistencies that are run up against in Canada in an effort to adequately protect the interests of her resident population without doing injustice to their fellow subjects of King Edward. When this country, for example, legislated to keep out the Chinese it did not need to take account of Chinese elsewhere who might be considered to have rights. When Canada attempted the same thing it had to take into account certain foreign possessions of the empire whose Chinese residents are British subjects. In doing so it was provided that British subjects of the Chinese race might be admitted to Canada on paying a tax. Chinese servants of British subjects are, however, admitted free of tax. It therefore now happens that a British Chinaman must pay tribute to the Canadian government on landing at a Canadian port, but that if he has a Chinese servant the latter may enter without money and without price, costing his master nothing extra, and paying nothing himself. This, however, is merely an amusing but not an important feature of the Canadian Chinese exclusion act. Doubtless now that it has attracted attention there will be an amendment to tax all, but meanwhile the gayety of nations is more or less added to.

King Edward has commanded that in future his traveling escort of household cavalry shall consist of one officer, one corporal major, two corporals of horse and 26 troopers. Poor Outlook for Deadbeats.

The deadbeats of Missouri will have hard sledding after June 21 if creditors generally take full advantage of the new state garnishment law that becomes effective on that date. Under the new statute it will be possible to garnishee the wages of any "D. B." however big or little his wages. Any debt less than five years old is collectible, any note ten years old, and the state can deduct only 10 per cent from an account to pay itself for the trouble the work of collection makes its officials. The grocer, the baker and the candlestick maker will probably not be slow to put the screws to the well fed and well dressed bums.—Kansas City Journal.

Boston Good for Thousand Years Yet.

"The statement of J. R. Freeman that Boston is gradually sinking into the sea, relates to the extremely high tides which occur at intervals of many years," said F. M. Miller of the city engineer's office, yesterday. "Even at the rate of his calculation it will be 1,000 years before the city will be on a level with the height of these extreme tides. As the water attains such a point only on rare occasions, and as ample time will be available in which to make preparation, future generations will have little to fear. Years may come and years may go, but it will be a long time ere Washington street is navigable for gondolas.—Boston Post.

Patriotism That Is Dangerous.

Anent the custom of putting explosives on street car tracks, indulged in by youngsters on patriotic holidays, a correspondent writes as follows: "The placing of torpedoes on railway tracks is sometimes attended with very serious results. For instance, last Fourth of July I was riding on an electric car which exploded a torpedo that the boys had put on the track and the concussion was so terrific that it greatly injured my hearing. It has completely destroyed all sense of melody. I have consulted two aurists, but have recovered no benefit from the treatment. I could wish that boys would find some better way of showing their joy.—Boston Post.

Louis Was Glad to Get Home.

Master Louis Chapman, aged 10 years, of Pelee City, was sent early to bed by his mother the other night for some juvenile misbehavior. When, a short time later, the other members of the family went out to spend the evening, the indignant young American got out of bed, poured his accumulated pennies from his bank into his breeches' pocket, went to the depot and took a train for the Indian territory, intent, evidently, on taking out his spite at his mother on poor Lo. He was headed off at Joplin and taken home. He showed evidences there of being very glad to get back.

Just the Same as in Pittsburgh.

Of a recent compromise between the city and the street car company the Nashville Banner says: "It will hardly do to boast about the compromise made by the city with the street railroad company, since the company got about all it wanted and the city parted with all it had at stake." That is a condensed statement of the average compromise in which a city is the party of the first part.—Louisville Post.

This Pennsylvanian Was Floored.

When Michael Sullivan, a prize fighter from Pennsylvania, was arrested yesterday morning and was taken to No. 2 police station, he dared Capt. Evans, in charge of the station, to take off his star. The big captain took off the coat of his uniform and proceeded to show the prize fighter some blows that were not known to the pugilistic profession. When the captain had floored him the prisoner was ready to submit to a search by the jailer.—Kansas City Journal.

New Route for Tobacco Products.

Nearly all of the export tobacco from Henderson, Paducah, Owensboro and Clarksville, has been shipped this year via gulf ports, whereas in previous years it had been shipped via North Atlantic ports. The change was due to the offer of a ¼ per cent differential made by the lines to the south. The traffic has been unusually heavy this year.—Louisville Post.

A SUMMER SIREN.

We sat beside the ocean,
In bathing suits attired;
She smiled on my devotion,
I worshipped and aspired.
My cup with joy was brimming
When she permitted me
To teach her fancy swimming,
And thanked me graciously.

It did not stop at diving
And sunning on the sand;
I dared to take her driving,
And even squeezed her hand.
I dreamed that in the city
My love I might declare,
And look with scornful pity
On all her suitors there.

But, lo! When I intruded
In her Manhattan set,
I might have been included
With those she'd never met.
The story needs no trimming—
I learned the difference grim
'Twixt Dorothy in swimming,
And Dorry "in the swim."
—Frank Ros Batcheller, in Smart Set.

The Quiet Observer.

Oh, where has that little girl gone?
You knew her well. Of course you did, and you wouldn't forget her for anything.

Has she grown up along with others you know, and is now a woman? Instead of being your little sweetheart is she a wife and mother?

Maybe she is still the same little girl you knew one time, being so far away you could not see her grow, and she remains, to you, the same little girl.

Wouldn't it be nice if some little girls would always remain little, and cute, and playful? Or, would it?

But she will continue to be your little friend and sweetheart while she remains away, so far away that you cannot see that she has grown to be a woman. You have her tin-type, and her letter written in child-type, and can still hear her childish voice, and feel the confiding grasp of her wee hand as she prattles and patters beside you down the lane.

If you love her so, then don't disturb her. Look not upon her latest photograph, nor seek for recent news concerning her, nor give credence to rumors about her marriage, or anything that might spoil your little girl—the one you have in mind and heart.

* * * * *

However, she may have grown some, and she may have been nearing womanhood when you last saw her. Of course she wasn't your little sweetheart then, but only because she wasn't little.

Would you have her remain as you knew her then, her sweetness and freshness and innocence unsullied by aging winds, scarring experiences and thumps of adversity?

Then fix her there, as the photographer would say, only retouching where your fancy discovers lines or shadows which were better removed, or adding a high light where it will give strength to the picture.

Thus may you keep her with you indefinitely, and she will cheer your loneliest hours, laugh and chatter your troubles away, and lead you back to the old romping grounds, where the world is ever cheery and bright and full of promise. Don't tease her about getting married, nor about her age, nor about anything that might cause her to appear older than she really is—to you.

No matter how cold the winds, or fierce the storms, or hard the trials you have lived through, or how cruel the marks they have left, she will think none the less of you. And the good fairies will take away the marks of the years while you romp and sing and enjoy yourselves as in the days when you were friends and chums—sweethearts, really.

Let no one substitute a recent photograph for that tin-type—or was it an ambrotype, incased in gutta-percha? Nor allow yourself to be gulled by gossips who may claim to know her, and to have seen her husband, and to have met some of her married children.

* * * * *

There was a sub-editor once whose business it was to write things that the editors wouldn't, or couldn't, write. He had been 'most everywhere, had seen 'most everything, and had a heart for 'most anything—anything good and gentle and true.

He had a little sweetheart, and she had been along on all his travels, with him when danger was greatest, and close beside him when death was nearest. He had built castles for her when fortune hovered around, and she had soothed the pain of disappointment when the fickle goddess had sailed away on fitful wing without deigning to fulfill her promises.

It was this little sweetheart who had deftly and neatly trimmed his lamp of hope when its light had well nigh gone out for good and all, causing it to shine brightly, driving away the wolf and its horrid mate, misery and despair.

When his work was done, or when his brain had grown weary, he loved to call up his little sweetheart and have heart to heart talks with her over the long distance wireless telephone. Nor would he hesitate to talk to us about her, if our work was done, or we were waiting on "the wire" for stuff to fix up and make ready for the type-slingers on the floor above. His talks were so simple, and yet so pleasing, that we asked for nothing better than a lull on the wires when he might happen to be resting his feet on top of his table, and thinking—only thinking.

But one night, shortly after we had cleared our desks of "boil-down," and early market reports, the office boy steered an elderly, countrified-looking man over to the sub-editor's corner, and with office-boyish bluntness remarked: "That's 'im."

* * * * *

"Well, I've cornered you at last, have I?" exclaimed the visitor in a hearty, familiar manner as he grasped the sub-editor's willing hand.

"And I'm most mighty glad you have; for I've been longing for a breath of air and a ray of sunshine from down home where they have the real thing—at least they used to have."

"Got it still, and lots of it. Wish you could have what we can spare, for it seems to me you folks stand in sorry need of it in town, all shut up in offices, with houses jammed so close together that a cat can't get through between them," rejoined the visitor. "Would have been here sooner only the cars jumped the track, as they always—most always—do when I am on."

"You are just in time to catch me, for I work mostly at night."

"Don't you sleep none?"

"Yes, indeed—sleep most all day."

"Sleep in daytime! That ain't the way you was brought up to do; nor is it according to 'ways appointed,' as old Davy McVane used to say in his preaching."

"No, it isn't the way I was raised, not by a long shot; but we learn to forget a great many things after we leave home, you know."

"I reckon one does; but I hope my boy Ira wont never learn to forget what his mother and me taught him, now that he has gone away from us. 'Spose you know he is in Chicago working in the biggest store there, and likes it first-rate and they like him."

"To tell the truth, I wasn't thinking about Ira being old enough to leave home."

"Sure! he turned last year. Guess sleepin' in day time makes a difference. I know it would with me, for it wouldn't seem like no time at all."

"Well, now that I come to think," observed the sub-editor seriously, "I guess you are right about Ira being old enough to vote, and to strike out for himself."

"Yes, and lots of others struck out, and some struck back again—didn't have the nerve, may be."

"Well, they don't want to leave that when they strike out to swim to the other shore."

"Guess you'd hardly know the place now—lets see; it's been about a dozen years since you was there?"

"Just about, but it hasn't been a day since I thought about it, and about you and Aunt Rachel, and the youngsters I knew so well."

"They haint as young as they was then by a dozen years, you know, and that makes a great change, particularly in some things—a horse, for instance, or a boy or a girl. Wy, there's Bertha—"

"Yes, Bertha, the jolliest tot in the lot," exclaimed the sub-editor, his face brightening as we had seen it when he would lie talking about her.

"And the best-looking girl in the township—"

"In the county," and the sub-editor slapped his visitor sharply on the thigh.

"Or anywhere, for that matter," replied the visitor, rubbing the slapped place.

"Second the motion," cried the sub-editor, as he passed the cigars around.

"Guess that's what that lawyer chap thought when he agreed to take her off the old man's hands."

"What's that you say?"

"Didn't you know she is going to get married next month, and take a wedding tour way out west where he is going to locate?"

"Look here, Squire, I like jokes, but not of that sort. The idea of Bertha getting married! It's ridiculous, for she's only a little playful, romping girl in short dresses. The very idea!"

"Well, the idea is all right, for she is only a year younger than old Ira, and I just told you how old he is. Guess you must have lost your reckoning," replied the visitor, rather seriously, seeing how his friend took it.

* * * * *

And he had lost his reckoning. Now could he realize that Bertha was not the little girl he used to tote on his back across rough places, allow her to stand up behind him on the horse when going to or coming from the field, and romping with her when he had nothing else to do, and some times when he had.

The news of her marriage struck him fair in the heart; not that he was her lover, or that he ever dreamed of making her his wife, but that she was just his little sweetheart, and as such had been his constant companion, his friend when all others failed, his mate in feast or famine, and his good angel always.

But he never went back to the old stamping ground, as he had faithfully promised the squire; and yet he often, very often, went back home again, but without leaving his desk.

Talked of in New York

GEORGE C. JENKS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 22.—Mrs. Henry Parsons, one of the busy philanthropic women of New York, believes that the solution of the problem of squalor and misery to be found in most of the tenement districts is to persuade the people to live in the country. Of course they do not want to go. They cannot bear the thought of going outside of the city, with its conveniences and annoyances, its pleasures and its pains. They are willing to take New York as it is, and look upon "commuters" as a collection of harmless lunatics. Mrs. Parsons has hopes, however. She has just got possession of a portable engineer's house such as may be seen repeated over and over again along the line of the rapid transit subway, and she has had it set up in the small Dewitt Clinton park, in Fifty-third street at Eleventh and Twelfth avenues. She will fit it up as a "country house." There will be dotted Swiss curtains to the windows, the floor will be scrubbed daily, and it will be arranged as a playroom for the children, with cupboards for garden tools. Outside there will be a regular garden, and the whole will be fenced in, as it would be in the country. Mrs. Parsons hopes that when the hardened tenement-dwellers see it, they will plan for one of their own out of town.

One More Sea Lion.

The interesting news comes from North beach, one of the seashore resorts near Broadway, that Mr. and Mrs. Sea Lion have a bouncing baby boy. There are so many collections of animals, more or less wild, within the limits of Greater New York that some of them are always giving practical proof that they do not intend to be guilty of race suicide.

Erne to Be Boxing Professor.

Frank Erne, who has been rather unfortunate in the ring of late, although formerly lightweight champion, has been asked to become boxing instructor at Columbia. This is rather a departure for a present day pugilist. Most of them prefer the glamor of the footlights, as well as the box office emoluments pertaining thereto. Columbia will have to pay Erne a good salary to recompense him for the lack of stage glory. There is one thing that will please him, and that is that he will find good scrapping raw material in Columbia's men.

Moderation in Skyscraping.

Sixth avenue, between Fourteenth and Twenty-third street, is almost entirely made up of skyscrapers now. There are short stretches of old-fashioned small buildings put up in the brick-and-mortar era of a quarter of a century ago, but most of the edifices are the steel frame temples with which all large American cities are familiar. None of the buildings are outrageously tall, however. It seems as if the drygoods kings want places which are not absolutely impossible in the way of stairs. While elevators are in all of them, it is considered that people may sometimes prefer to descend by stairways from one floor to another. So twelve stories is the limit in most cases, and some of the big commercial places are not more than eight. But all are built of steel, and have an ornate suggestion, such as was considered entirely superfluous in the old days. Sixth avenue is one of the most important business arteries in Gotham, and recognition of that fact is afforded in the style of buildings which line it in the retail drygoods business, at least.

Old Landmark Is Missed.

Sixth avenue, at the southeast corner of Fourteenth street, does not look like itself. For generations this was Macy's corner. It is only a great square hole today. Macy's has been pulled down, and the new building to go up in place of the ramshackle old rookery will be modern, large, iron-ribbed and convenient. Meanwhile Macy has got to Broadway, uptown.

Regrets for Maj. Pond.

Many expressions of sorrow are heard here over the death of Maj. Pond, the veteran lecture manager. The major was a well-known figure in Broadway and in the lobbies of hotels, and it seems as if his sudden taking off is the only subject of conversation tonight.

Buzz Wagons for Campaigners.

Several of the political organizations of Manhattan, which intend to take an active part in the coming campaign, are talking of using automobiles for their spellbinding tours. The Order of Acorns is one that has made arrangements already to use a number of automobiles, which will enable speakers to seemingly talk in half a dozen different places at once.

Devery's Clan Are at Work.

Not much has been heard about "Big Bill" Devery's "bugs," but that organization is meeting regularly in the "bughouse" in Twenty-eighth street, talking about the fight that is to be made to put Devery in the mayor's chair. The "chief" has gone to his seashore home at Rockaway, but he keeps in constant touch with the "pump" and his henchmen who hang about that symbol. He is full of fight, as usual, but he wants to take a little rest by the sad sea waves before he takes off his coat in earnest. At least that is what he says, but his friends say he is likely to be seen leaning against the "pump" with a fat cigar between his lips and words of wisdom pouring out with the smoke at any time.

Van Cott Not Disturbed.

Postmaster Van Cott appeared quite undisturbed in his office in the postoffice building at Park Row and Broadway this afternoon and did not say anything in response to inquiries to lead anyone to suppose he was worried over the Washington investigations. He said he had not been to Washington; had not been summoned there, and did not expect to be away from his office in New York this week. Still, the week is young yet, and he did not know what it would bring forth, as he readily admitted.

Rain Affects S. R. P. Stocks.

Weather affects the stock market in many ways, sometimes in a roundabout manner. For instance, there was a sharp attack on Brooklyn Rapid Transit this morning on the belief that the rains of the last two weeks had materially lessened the company's receipts. It should be remembered that the Brooklyn Rapid Transit lines carry most of the people who go to and from Coney Island.

Vagaries of Electricity.

Hardly a day passes now without an electric car bursting into flames through some vagary of the electric motive power. Two such cases were reported yesterday and in one of them several persons were hurt. New Yorkers are beginning to wonder when electricity will become an entirely safe agency to have under the car seats.

The Gazette Almanac.

Indications from the northwest are that the near drought will be broken before the end of the month. Reports continue to come from the country that crops are badly damaged by the broiling sun, streams are drying up and stock is dying for want of water. Pa-mere are holding meetings nightly, offering up prayers for rain. Our Washington bureau schedules showers for today.

If it were an unpardonable sin to "borrow" an umbrella, Satan would soon have to enlarge his quarters.

A Rare Day in June.

Bring my umbrella, Mother,
And bring me my big rain-coat,
My rubber boots for a
I think that will do,
If not, then I'll charter a boat.

The sun shines brightly, Mother,
But then one never does know
Just how far away,
On a bright June day,
Is the rain, the hail and the snow.

The Salem (Mass.) justice who recently sentenced two umbrella purloiners to prison was evidently never caught out without his rain-stick on a beautiful day in June.

Longest Day of the Year.

An Old Man wearily climbed the stairs to the local Weather Bureau last evening. After standing his umbrella in a corner where he could keep his eye on it, and unbuttoning the great rain-coat that almost dragged the floor, he accosted the Man in Charge:

"This has been the longest day of the year!" he said with a sigh.

"Not the longest day, but the day on which the sun made his record run of 15 hours and 6 minutes," replied the Man in Charge, with his blandest smile.

"I don't see how you happen to know so much about it," snapped the Old Man. "Did you see the Sun? The almanac said the sun would rise at 4:28, but how do you know it did? I was up early, and watched for it, and I didn't see it. And the almanac promised that the sunshine would continue till 7:34. Did it?"

"According to the immutable laws that control this universe, it must have," replied the Man in Charge.

"As the Man of Perfect Faith you are certainly It," declared the Old Man. "Because some one you never saw figured out that the sun would shine 15 hours and 6 minutes today you accept it as truth, and against the absolute evidence of any one's eyes that the sun even skipped the measly 6 minutes.

"This Weather Bureau is a fraud, I'm through! I suppose you get your weather reports just as you found out how long the sun would shine today. Some unknown Highbrow sits down there in an easy chair in Washington and smokes up, then wires his dreams to you, and you accept them as gospel. No more weather for me! I'll not even read a newspaper that gives space to your dummy rot.

"Good day, sir. I have found out all I want to know about you. Sun shone 15 hours and 6 minutes today! Hush!"

A large supply of poems written to welcome the First Day of Summer, scheduled for publication yesterday, were badly damaged by water, and a fire sale is now in order.

The Wise Man With the Umbrella.

Two men went into the Duquesne Garden last night to get in out of the wet and incidentally to listen to the music. Of course, each had an umbrella. At the close of the opera, they got as far as the lobby and looked out into the weather before thinking of their rain-sticks.

Then they rushed back, only to discover that their property was by that time keeping some one else's head dry. But one of the gentlemen was wise. He looked under the row of seats, and soon discovered two umbrellas, "just as good" as the ones they had lost.

"There's nothing like knowing the way of the world," he remarked as he handed half of the commandeered property to his friend. "Some people would have gotten wet, had they been in our fix tonight."

Guaranteed Testimonial.

WEATHER BUREAU,
PITTSBURGH, PA., June 22, 1903.

Dr. J. Plevius.

Dear Sir: We began using your brand of Weather early in the present year, and have used no other since. Very truly,

FRANK RIDGWAY,
Office in Forecaster.

The Weather Poet's Waterloo.

The Editor raved and tore up half a ream of paper, while the Weather Poet stood trembling before him.

"You're discharged," exclaimed the Editor in a rage. "That stuff isn't fit to print."

"All right, I'll go," replied the Poet meekly. "But I'd just like to know where you expect to find a man who can write poetry on this weather that is fit for publication in a highly moral family newspaper."

Prosperity and Matrimony.

The June matrimonial record this year is said to be far ahead of all previous June records, and this in spite of floods and calamities. The willingness to assume domestic responsibilities is another sure sign of prosperity. The newly married people, though, should commence immediately to lay something away for a rainy day. The good times cannot last forever, and when the break comes housekeeping cannot be as easily suspended as some other enterprises.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

ARBITRATION AGREED UPON

Disputing Labor Unionists Will Return to Work Pending a Decision.

RED HOT MEETING WAS HELD

Under Auspices of Iron City Council, Bricklayers and Masons' International and National Stone Masons Union Get Together.

The dispute between the Bricklayers' and Masons' International union, and the National Stone Masons' union, is to be settled by arbitration. All members of both organizations will be instructed to return to work this morning, pending the decision. Both organizations have signed articles of agreement to abide by the arbitrators' ruling, which is to be final.

Arrangements for adjusting the dispute were brought about by the Iron City Central Labor council. At a special meeting it decided to lend its influence to accomplish a settlement, and appointed a committee to devise a plan. The committee sent out an invitation to all district presidents to be present at a meeting to be held in Arnfeld's hall, No. 1119 Penn avenue. The meeting was held yesterday afternoon and representatives of both the warring factions were present.

The executive officials of both organizations comprised the committee to draw up the articles of agreement on arbitration. They signed a document to this effect:

That the committees representing their respective organizations agree and consent to the appointment of three fair and impartial persons by each organization, and the six persons, or a majority of them, to select an umpire or referee, making the board of arbitration consist of seven persons, as arbitrators to consider and settle the differences existing between the said Bricklayers' and Masons' International Union of North America and the Stonemasons' International Union of North America, which arbitrators shall be chosen on or before Monday, June 29.

And further, that the arbitrators shall meet at a time and place to be selected by them in Pittsburgh on or before Monday, July 13, their award to be made and set down in writing under their hands and seals, or the hands and seals of any four of them, and their award and decision shall be final and binding upon the parties of the first and second part hereto.

COURT MUST HEAR THEM

Magistrate Must Not Dispose of Speakeasy Keepers and Those Having Concealed Weapons.

Speakeasy keepers and persons carrying concealed weapons are to be taken into court for trial hereafter, and police magistrates are not to dispose of their cases, according to orders issued yesterday by Mayor Hays. This decision was arrived at after a conference with Director Harry Moore of the department of public safety, and Superintendent of Police John P. McTighe.

In pursuance with this policy Mrs. Sarah Grimes of Third avenue, and Bertha McClane of Shingiss street, who were charged with selling liquor without a license, and with selling on Sunday, will have to go to court. Informations were sworn to by Police Inspector Bernard McStay before Magistrate Thomas D. Stewart, and they were held in $500 bail each for trials at court.

Michael Ricard and James Contosta, Italians, were charged by the Inspector with carrying concealed weapons, and they were each held in $500 for trials at court. Ricard was arrested Sunday night as a suspicious person, and a revolver was found in his pocket. Contosta, who lives in Wilkinsburg, was arrested during a fight in Webster avenue Sunday afternoon in which another Italian was stabbed. A stiletto was found on Contosta's person.

"Jolly Musketeer" at Garden.

The rainstorm was the cause of the small audience at the Duquesne garden last evening, but even with the weather against it the performance was very much enjoyed, for it was a bright, well sung and thoroughly well staged version of Stange and Edwards' opera, "The Jolly Musketeer." This is the composition that the gaily and humorous Jeff De Angelis used one season with more or less success. It is not brilliant as a book. Nor is it great as to music, but has the merit of merry movements and tells a story that one can easily pick out of the conventional choruses, solos, duets and dialogue. As presented at the Garden this week it serves to introduce three new faces and voices that add force to the already well established fact that a change of principals every week is a pleasing as well as advantageous plan. Miss Agnes Paule, who sings the role of Yvette in the Stange-Edwards piece at the Garden, is a young woman with a thoroughly well-trained soprano voice, which is of pleasing quality and range. She is bright and graceful and made an excellent impression, singing the role with the expression and dash that it requires. Miss Mary Carrington as Verve was of course given a cordial welcome, and she sang and danced through the part with her accustomed charm. Mr. William Blaisdell in Jeff De Angelis' old role was the star of the evening, with Herbert Wilkie a close second. Blaisdell is a comedian very much after the De Angelis order, nimble of foot and limber of leg, with voice both humorously and musically equal to the part. His two topical songs brought several encores, and he sang them with great good humor. Of course, one is apt to miss De Angelis under any circumstances, but with Blaisdell in his part there is less regret. Herbert Wilkie was in fine voice and sang better than on his previous appearances this season at the Garden. W. G. Shelly, Al Wilson, Leona Stevens and Mona Eames completed the cast of principals. The chorus still needs drilling. The awkwardness of some of the young ladies suggesting lack of rehearsal or the embarrassment that comes from the first time in tights. The two stage settings were excellent and the costumes correct and beautiful. In this particular the present management deserves great praise. The outfit of the several operas are all that could be desired.

Miss Myrtle Vaill sang some new songs in the palm garden.

In the Parks.

There were no shows at Oakwood and Southern parks last evening, and Kennywood's usually big crowds were woefully reduced by the bad weather.

As usual, Kennywood fared the best on account of its many enclosed amusements, especially the skeleton building, where the band concerts are given entirely in bad weather and where the vaudeville is given. Booth and Dawson, who made so many people laugh on Sunday, are there this week. Rocereto's band has a very good program this week.

Oakwood and Southern were absolutely deserted, save for a few stragglers from the afternoon, and no shows were given. This week the parks both have some headliners on their roster of entertainers. At Oakwood there is the great Hart & Co., mystifiers; Martin & Sutton, the comedian team, and the Ramsey sisters are two good singers and dancers. The Delmore do a good comedy bar act, and Edward Hart and Mlle. Beasle are a clever team who give impersonations of great men, past and present. Out at Southern park there will be headed by the Kani Royal Japanese troupe of acrobats, jugglers and contortionists; Buskirk and Keefe, the musical novelty comedians; the York-Herbert trio, introducing the remarkable 8-year-old acrobat, Andy McLeod, the Irish minstrel; Frank Whitman, who sings, dances and plays a violin at the same time, and H. M. Herbert, the coster singer.

WILLIAM R. BELL DEAD.

Well-Known Pittsburgh Newspaper Man Dies in Washington of Bright's Disease.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(Special)—William R. Bell, a well-known newspaper man, died at his residence here tonight after a long illness from Bright's disease. He was a native of Indiana, Pa., where he learned the printing business. Later he engaged in newspaper work in Pittsburgh as a member of the Post staff. In 1890 he came to Washington as the correspondent of the Pittsburgh Leader, a position he retained until his death, except for about two years, which he spent in Scranton as the editor of the Scranton Times. He was also the correspondent of the Philadelphia North American.

Aside from his newspaper work he was well known in Democratic politics of Pennsylvania and was a conspicuous figure at Democratic state conventions. In the Fifty-second and Fifty-third congresses he held a responsible position in the organization of the house of representatives, of which James Kerr, of Clearfield, was clerk. He is survived by three grown daughters. He was about 44 years old. L. W. STRAYER.

BUTLER MAN CHOSEN

General Conference of Free Methodists Selects Him as One of Two Evangelists.

GREENVILLE, ILL., June 22.—(Special.)—General Superintendent Jones presided at today's session of the Free Methodist general conference. Two long discussions consumed most of the morning, one of them being the question of a new song book, which was adopted, and the other being the question of the number of general conference evangelists, it being finally decided to have two, and the Revs. Hemmer of Evanston, Ill., and C. W. Stamp of Butler, Pa., were elected. The Rev. W. B. Olmstead of Chicago was re-elected editor of Sunday school literature and was made secretary of Sunday school work.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society elected its quota of the general missionary board as follows: Mrs. M. L. Coleman, Wisconsin; Mrs. M. M. Robinson, New York, and Mrs. T. B. Arnold, Chicago. The conference, by private subscription, already has raised $1,200 for missions.

MEN'S CLUB ORGANIZED.

The male members of the Fourth Avenue Baptist church at a congregational meeting last night, organized a men's club which ultimately is to be formed into one of the most progressive auxiliary institutions of the church. Fifty men attended and as many more sent in their names, requesting that they be enrolled among the charter members of the club.

The Rev. Dr. Warren G. Partridge, pastor of the church, was elected temporary chairman, and the Rev. J. V. Stratton officiated as secretary of the meeting. Every man present had a suggestion to offer. Dr. Partridge told of the success of similar work in Scranton and Cincinnati, and it was resolved that the physical and social well-being of the members should be looked after as well as their spiritual welfare. The following committee was appointed to report at a meeting to be held on Thursday evening, July 2, when the permanent organization will be effected: R. W. Dusenberry, H. M. Brooks, A. Scott, H. McGregor, W. L. Lindsley and Walter E. Askin.

ROBINSON AFTER MR. DAVIDSON

City Treasurer of Allegheny, a Wyman Appointee, Wants Tax Office Abolished.

AN OUTRAGE, SAYS BROWN

Controller Would Have the City Get the Revenue That Has Been Going to the North Side Collector for Many Years.

"There should be no delinquent tax collector in our city. The existence of such an office has been an outrage on the public for many years, and I am certain that if our councilmen obey the wishes of the people the ordinance will pass and the city will gain the revenue that has gone into the pockets of politicians for years past."

This statement, made last night, clearly defines the stand Controller James Brown of Allegheny has taken concerning Councilman Beatty's ordinance asking that the delinquent tax office be abolished. Continuing, Mr. Brown said: "There is no need for such an office, as the work of collecting delinquent taxes can be done just as well by the city treasurer. This ordinance should pass, as it is one that every taxpayer in Allegheny favors. The thousands of dollars that for almost 15 years have accrued from delinquent taxes has been used for private enrichment and for furthering the political ends of the politicians that created the office."

City Treasurer Andrew Robinson, who with his brother, John W. Robinson, the select councilman, rolled up an enormous majority for Wyman in the Fourth ward, is in favor of the passage of the measure. He said yesterday:

"This ordinance is certainly a matter of interest to every taxpayer in Allegheny, and from the expressions I have heard from many of the latter it is my opinion that councils and the mayor can do nothing but support and approve it. My brother and I are, of course, strong Wyman men, but I do not think any man's political beliefs should stand in the way of what is clearly his duty. The abolition of the delinquent tax office will, of course, put upon me and my department more work, but we can handle it without any trouble. It is my opinion that a measure so favored by the great majority of the people of Allegheny should be passed."

Interest in the fate of the ordinance is being manifested in every ward on the North Side and every councilman is hearing from his constituents just what stand they expect him to take in the matter. It is almost certain that the ordinance will be favorably reported from the finance committee and its passage through select council is assured.

WAR ARTIST TO LONDON "BLACK AND WHITE"

Found Pe-ru-na of Benefit in the Climatic and Nervous Strain of War and Travel.

(The accompanying picture shows Mr. Manley in the uniform he wore during the late Chinese uprising in China, where he was acting as Assistant War Artist to London "Black and White" and "Collier's Weekly."

MR. H. B. MANLEY, care "Black and White," 688 Craig St., Montreal, Canada, writes:

"When a man travels in extreme hot or cold climates, he realizes how valuable a friend he has if he carries a bottle of Peruna. I know of no article in my traveling outfit which I have learned to praise higher.

"If you are suffering with the extreme heat Peruna restores you, or if you are afflicted with a cold, la grippe or bronchitis, Peruna restores you in a short time. Or if you suffer with sleeplessness or if your appetite is poor, again Peruna acts as a good, true friend and is the tonic needed.

"I have tried it for months and am only too glad to acknowledge it as a true loyal standby in times of trouble. I do not hesitate to recommend it to all."—H. B. Manley.

Travelers Should Use Peruna.

People going on a journey, either by rail or steamboat, should take with them a bottle of Peruna. It is an excellent remedy to prevent railroad sickness, sea sickness, to guard against catching cold, or acquiring contagious diseases.

The exigencies of travel, to most people, are hard to bear. Change of water, change of diet, change of climate, exposure to unventilated staterooms, crowded coaches, all this creates new environment. A large number of people are made sick in this way. A bottle of Peruna is worth ten times its weight in gold to a person under such circumstances. It prevents the ill-effects of bad water. It produces refreshing sleep under adverse circumstances. It keeps the appetite vigorous and the digestion normal. A multitude of people have already made this discovery, and they never think of taking a journey, either by land or sea, without having with them a bottle of Peruna.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Young's Ocean Pier,
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 22.

This week promises to be one of the busiest of the season, for the city will entertain the delegates to three of the most important conventions that will come to this resort during the summer. The first convened today. It is the seventh annual gathering of the National Association of Photo Engravers. The officers of the association are: President, B. W. Wilson, New York; first vice president, Charles J. Wolfram, Cleveland; second vice president, Percy F. Blogg, Baltimore; third vice president, Robert Rawsthorne, Pittsburgh; secretary, Sherman SmithPittsburgh; treasurer, E. D. Moong, Chicago; chairman of executive committee, J. C. Braggon, Pittsburgh.

This convention has prepared an interesting program. Tonight they met their brethren in a combined reception of the typothetae, electrotypers and photo engravers at the Royal Palace hotel. Tomorrow the first business session of the week will convene in the large convention hall of the Rudolf, and on Thursday night the annual banquet of the engravers will be held at the same hotel. Tomorrow the annual convention of the National Electrotypers' Association of America will gather. The officers are: President, George H. Benedict, Chicago; vice president, J. B. Scott, Boston; secretary, J. H. Ferguson, New York; treasurer, John Bermet, St. Louis.

The United Typothetae members are arriving at the Royal Palace Hotel, where their convention will be in session on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The eastern delegates and as many of the western as will have landed in New York will come here from New York on a special train leaving there at 10:55 tomorrow morning, the train to be furnished by Nathan & Wood of the Monotype machine concern.

The conventions of the Typothetae are of the most interesting in the country and are representative, businesslike and full of entertainment. In Philadelphia the delegates will inspect the Monotype factory, drive about town and come here in the evening on a special train tomorrow night.

The Press Club Meeting.

By far the most important convention of the week is that of the International League of Press Clubs, which will open tomorrow. The delegates are already here and already they have livened up the town. The Pittsburgh delegation in particular are having a good time. A special program has been arranged for them in the way of sailing and fishing parties. Some of them went fishing this afternoon notwithstanding the sea was rough and a severe gale blowing from the northeast. There were only two fish caught, however, and Andrew S. McSwigan was the lucky man who hooked a starfish about five inches long and later landed a starfish. He will bring the starfish home to prove it.

At the general business meeting to be held this afternoon it is probable that there will be liberal discussion of the new Pennsylvania libel law, by prominent speakers from various states. It is the consensus of opinion among the delegates that the Sulte-Grady law should be repealed. The banquet at the Marlborough-Blenheim hotel will be a notable gathering, particularly from the fact that the ladies will be present. President Roosevelt, who was the guest of the league in Boston last year, accepted an invitation to be present, providing official business did not keep him in Washington. Up to this time the committee in charge has not heard from the president's secretary stating that he will not be able to be present. Former President Grover Cleveland is also expected to be present and address the banquet, as are Mayor Weaver of Philadelphia, Mayor Low of New York and Director of Public Safety David J. Smythe.

DID NOT MAKE THEIR ESCAPE.

Colorado Penitentiary Prisoners Shot Down In a Mad Break for Liberty.

CANON CITY, COL., June 22.—One convict was killed and another slightly wounded by guards at the state penitentiary today in an attempt to escape. Fifteen convicts overpowered the guards, securing their keys. They captured Mrs. John C. Cleghorn, wife of the warden, and placed her in front of them. Then they dynamited the front gate.

The warden instructed the guards to pick the convicts off, taking care not to shoot his wife. When 50 yards from the prison Mrs. Cleghorn fainted and the convicts released her. In the shooting Convict Kuykendall was instantly killed and William Armstrong, the ringleader, was shot. All were finally captured.

Pittsburgh and Atlantic City Through Sleeping Car Service.

On Friday, June 26, the Pennsylvania railroad will establish through sleeping car service between Pittsburgh and Atlantic City, via their Delaware river bridge route, leaving Pittsburgh at 10 p. m., arriving at Atlantic City 8:20 a. m., stopping at Broad street station for breakfast. Returning this through sleeping car will leave Atlantic City at 9 p. m., arriving at Pittsburgh at 8:30 a. m.

WORKED FOR THE REPEALERS

George H. Stevens, Chairman of the Law and Order Committee of the House of Representatives Is One of the Dispensers of Wet Goods.

By the legislature making Monongahela a "wet" town after years of dryness, several western Pennsylvania politicians are shifted into new fields of activity. Two licenses are held in the Washington county village, one by Representative George H. Stevens of Jeannette and the other by James P. Mulvihill of New Kensington. The latter is a Democrat and the former a Republican, and both have been extremely busy in the politics of Westmoreland.

The repeal of the local option law in Monongahela was bitterly fought by many of the people of the town. The bill in the house was acted upon affirmatively by the committee on law and order, of which Representative George H. Stevens is chairman. He also assisted in the passage of the bill. James P. Mulvihill, then secretary of the Western Pennsylvania Brewers' association, was an active worker for the measure.

Got Licenses By Transfers.

Two licenses were granted to Washington county men for Monongahela and recently Stevens and Mulvihill secured the licenses by transfers. They are now conducting hotels in the town and both have been offered valuable considerations for their properties.

For a number of years Stevens has conducted the McKee house in Jeannette and still has the property. It is understood that it is his intention to dispose of the Westmoreland tavern and make his permanent home in Monongahela. He has been prominent in Westmoreland Republican politics ever since he left the Pittsburgh police force and moved to Jeannette. The present is his third term in the legislature.

Mulvihill is also a former Pittsburgh policeman who left Pittsburgh to engage in the liquir business in Westmoreland. He went to New Kensington, where for a number of years he conducted a hotel. Later he was one of the promoters of the brewery in the town. For a couple of years he was secretary of the Western Pennsylvania Brewers' association, with headquarters in this city.

Mulvihill Has Been a Boss.

Mulvihill is a Democrat and has been the Democratic boss in the northern end of Westmoreland county. When the recent split between Judge L. W. Doty and Capt. John B. Keenan occurred Mulvihill cast his fortunes with the judge and has been the active leader of the Doty wing of the Democracy. His removal to Washington will be a severe loss to Doty unless Mulvihill intends to maintain his political interests in Westmoreland.

When Mulvihill got his license in Monongahela he had to retire as secretary of the Brewers' association. Charles J. Andrews, who held the secretaryship for the eastern district, with headquarters in Pottsville, was brought here. He has taken up his residence in Bellevue and will likely mix in Republican politics in the Seventh district. In Schuylkill county he was an active worker in the faction lead by "Jack" Whitehouse. Mr. Andrews is a brother of ex-Senator W. H. Andrews of New Mexico.

PRESIDENT REMOVES NEW MEXICO JUSTICE

Action Recommended by Attorney General Knox After Holding Two Hearings.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Judge Daniel H. McMillan, associate justice of the supreme court of New Mexico, has been removed from office and Judge Clement Smith of Hastings, Mich., has been appointed to succeed him. Attorney General Knox made the announcement today after a conference with President Roosevelt.

Judge McMillan's enforced retirement was brought about by his alleged scandalous actions. It is charged that on several occasions he was accompanied on his judicial rounds by a woman. Judge Smith was backed for the place by Senator Burrows, who has been in Washington several days. The appointee is one of the best-known lawyers of Michigan. Citizens of New Mexico, anticipating the removal of McMillan, had been preparing to present some candidates of their own.

The charges against Judge McMillan, who was appointed December 18, 1900, have been pending for a number of months. Last December, Attorney General Knox, after investigating the charges, recommended the dismissal of McMillan. Influential friends of the judge interceded for a rehearing of the case, alleging that the testimony against him was presented by personal enemies. A rehearing was granted, much care being taken to hear all the witnesses. John G. Milburn of Buffalo, a personal friend of McMillan, was present. So was Secretary Root, who had been asked by friends of McMillan in New York to assist him in getting a rehearing.

Secretary Root, however, went no further than to listen to the testimony, and did this because good friends of his had asked him to obtain for McMillan every opportunity to vindicate himself.

COURT DECLARES ASPHALT COMPANY IS INSOLVENT

NEW YORK, June 22.—Vice Chancellor Stevenson in Jersey City today declared insolvent the Asphalt Company of America and granted the application for an order restraining the company from doing business. The vice chancellor refused to appoint a receiver for the company in New Jersey. Two receivers have already been appointed by the United States courts, and the vice chancellor said that these receivers should be upheld.

MURDERER TILLMAN ASKS FOR A CHANGE OF VENUE

COLUMBIA, S. C., June 22.—Application for a change of venue for James H. Tillman, former lieutenant governor of this state, charged with the murder of N. G. Gonzales, an editor, was begun here today. The defense alleges there is a prejudice against the accused and that it will be impossible for a fair and impartial trial to be obtained. Several affidavits to this effect were presented.

RUNAWAY TRAIN TRAIN LEFT A TRIAL OF CASUALTIES

SPOKANE, WASH., June 22.—A Great Northern train of 60 cars loaded with coal got beyond the control of the engineer this morning and tore through the city at a frightful speed, finally jumping the track at Davison street. Three people were killed, nine injured and one is missing. Three buildings were wrecked.

Loop the Loop Fiend Dead.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 22.—Will Zimmerman, who fell while attempting to loop the loop on roller skates before an audience in the Cycloramia building last Thursday, died today. The coroner will investigate.

SCRANTON HAS A BOODLE CASE

Strong Accusations Made Against Councilmen by Promoters.

ONE CITY SOLON ARRESTED

He in Turn Accuses Defeated Railway Projectors of Having Tried to Corrupt the City Government—More Sensations to Follow.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SCRANTON, PA., June 22.—Flat-footed contradictions of accuser and accused marked every step of the opening day's session of the councilmanic committee engaged in investigating the alleged boodling in connection with the Dalton street railway franchises. George E. Stevenson and W. P. Boland, the two local promoters of the road, who claim they were solicited for bribes swore positively that Select Councilman David B. Evans came to Boland's office on June 9 and made a demand for $400 a piece for himself and 10 other selectmen.

Evans stoutly maintained that Boland sent for him, asked him to work for the ordinance and promised to give him $400 or $500 for his trouble. He agreed to help Boland "for friendship sake," he said, but spurned the money and on another occasion, when Boland told him he would make good the promise to pay, Evans forbade him to ever again mention money to him. Evans formerly was employed by Boland as a mine foreman.

The story detailed by Stevenson and Boland was that Evans came to them representing himself as the agent of Selectmen R. H. Morgans, J. E. Ragin, J. J. Maloney, T. C. Melvin, John Nagell, Thomas Cosgrove, E. J. Coleman, Thomas O'Berle, J. J. McAndrew and Malachi Corne. He demanded $4,400 for their votes and said if it was not forthcoming before the first night when the ordinance would be up for final passage, they would break the quorum and then it would cost $11,000 to get the ordinance through.

He demanded the money in gold, as they did not want to run the risk of marked bills. The demand was refused and the next night, as threatened, the quorum was broke. The first meeting night, when Selectman John P. Quinnan publicly demanded an investigation of the rumored boodling, the ordinance was put on a tie vote. Boland also testified that Selectmen O'Berie and Regan individually made demands on him, the one asking for "The regular market price" and the other for "whatever was going."

The announcement of Boland that Evans included Selectman Coyne in the boodle list created a sensation. Coyne is one of the investigating committee. When he was mentioned in this connection he jumped to his feet and declared: "I don't believe Mr. Evans ever made such a statement to you, Mr. Boland." The witness reiterated that Evans had told him Coyne was one of the 11.

"We'll see about that later," said Chairman Clemons.

When Evans was on the stand he emphatically denied having mentioned the name of Coyne or any other councilman to Boland and Stevenson, and protested most earnestly that the only mention of money was by Boland. He would have exposed Boland in the council at the time, he said, if it was not that he owed a debt of gratitude to him. He helped break the quorum, he admitted, but it was only for the purpose of securing a delay until a majority could be marshaled for an amendment he wanted to make.

Some of the select councilmen, except those on the committee and three subpoenaed as witnesses, attended the hearing. The next session will be Friday.

At the conclusion of the hearing in the council chamber Selectman Evans was arraigned before Magistrate Millar on the charge of soliciting bribes, preferred by the Municipal league. The witnesses in both cases were the same. The hearing will be concluded tomorrow.

RIOT INQUESTS TOMORROW.

Investigation of High Bridge Affair to Begin—Another Arrest Made.

Inquests into the deaths of Charles Kelly and "Sandy" Garrett, the two negroes who were killed in the riot at High Bridge on Sunday, May 31, have been fixed for tomorrow afternoon. The coroner has subpoenaed a number of witnesses and some interesting facts concerning the terrible melee are almost certain to be developed.

Constable John Cavanaugh of Alderman John Groetzinger's office, yesterday morning arrested Domingo Liskis of Beltzhoover on a charge of being implicated in the riot. He was later released on $300 bail for a hearing. He will testify at the inquest.

WOMAN ATTEMPTS TO ASSAULT JUDGE ADAMS

NEW YORK, June 22.—(Special.)—In the circuit court at Newark, N. J., today a woman attempted to assault Judge Adams, presiding in a suit against the Erie railroad. While Judge Adams had his back turned the woman rushed up the steps and tried to strike the judge on the head with an umbrella. Before she could reach the judge she was seized by the constable. Her name is Mary Mulligan and she claims she was defrauded of property left her by her grandfather.

Charged With Stealing $1,050 Note.

Charged with the larceny of a promissory note for $1,050, from J. Tannebaum, T. J. McCloskey of No. 104 Erie street, Allegheny, was held for court yesterday, by Alderman John Groetzinger. Tannebaum is a real estate dealer in the Keystone bank building. He alleges that McCloskey was in his office when a friend called for whom Tannebaum made out the note. Tannebaum was called out and in his absence, it is alleged, the note disappeared. McCloskey is also said to have disappeared. The next heard of the note was when it was discounted by a downtown bank. Bail in the sum of $500 was furnished by McCloskey.

A STRONG STATEMENT AND WE PROVE IT.

When you need a medicine you should get the best. We sell thousands of different medicines prepared to cure various ailments, but we have never sold a medicine which we think so highly of, or of which we have heard so many good words spoken, as DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY.

It will positively cure any disease of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, if the case is curable. It will do more than that as you will see when you use it.

No more highly respected man lives in Pittsburgh than C. E. Dudenhaver of 613 Cora street, Brushton, Pittsburgh. Read what he has to say of this excellent medicine: "Last fall I developed an aggravated case of CATARRH. A number of doctors treated me with no permanent result. I was compelled to resign my position on account of my declining health. One day I ran across an advertisement of DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY, which I concluded to try, and I began to improve in health soon after I began its use, and I did not have to continue long until I was cured.

"My wife had been troubled with the same complaint most of her life and upon my suggestion used DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY and was cured."

We sell this great medicine in two sizes at 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle, and believe that anyone suffering from any of the terribly painful and dangerous diseases for which it is prepared will, after using it, thank us for recommending it to them.

NOW READY FOR DESIGNS FOR M'KINLEY MEMORIAL

Committee Announces More Money Is Necessary for the Project.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CLEVELAND, O., June 22.—The trustees of the McKinley National Memorial association met here today at the offices of Senator Hanna, for the purpose of reviewing the work accomplished and deciding upon future action. Justice Day presided. A report from the treasurer, Myron T. Herrick, showed total contributions amounting to about $500,000, and it was decided that designs should be at once invited.

The trustees issued the following statement at the conclusion of the meeting:

Experience in respect to other national memorials has been so unfortunate that the trustees of this association are determined that the monument, when erected, shall be properly cared for out of a fund which is not to be supplied, and it is estimated that $100,000 additional funds will be necessary to build and endow the monument. The monuments erected to the memory of Lincoln and other great Americans suffered for want of provision for their maintenance. Considering these facts the trustees most urgently request renewed efforts on the part of all interested in the work for the raising of this additional fund. It is thought that, when the facts are fully known and the necessity for the additional fund is recognized, the money will be forthcoming.

The association now feels warranted, in view of the time necessarily required to complete and select an appropriate design, in announcing to artists and designers of monumental architecture that it is now prepared to consider designs for the memorial to be built at Canton, O. McKinley. Letters so far as the nature of the work and artistic effect are concerned, is open to the artists of the world, the assistance of all interested being desired in the hope that the memorial may be a true expression of the affection of the American people who have aided so generously in commemorating the life and character of William O. McKinley. Letters of inquiry addressed to Frederick S. Hartzel, Canton, O., will have prompt attention.

Lewis G. Reynolds of Dayton, O., founder of the Carnation League of America, made application to the memorial trustees that the members of the Carnation league be given an opportunity to assist in raising the $100,000 additional for an endowment fund. Mr. Reynolds was authorized to enlist the members of the Carnation league in the work.

METROPOLITAN LEASE SUSTAINED IN COURT

NEW YORK, June 22.—(Special.)—Judge Scott of the supreme court this afternoon dismissed suit of Isidor Wormser, Jr., to upset the lease under which the Metropolitan Street Railway Company ceded its properties and rights to the Interurban Street Railway Company, for a guarantee of 7 per cent on its capital stock and a pro rata share in the Metropolitan Securities Company, the holding company, organized to finance the deal.

JUDGE GROSSCUP FOR SECOND PLACE

Roosevelt Said to Have Decided Preference for the Chicago Jurist.

HERRICK NEXT ON THE LIST

President Quoted as Saying He Cannot Spare Beveridge from the Senate or Taft from the Philippines—Young Grant Is Talked of.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 22.

President Roosevelt, according to information regarded as reliable, would like to see Judge Peter S. Grosscup of Chicago on the vice presidential ticket. The president, however, scarcely expects that Judge Grosscup will accept the nomination. It is pointed out that it is a great deal to expect of a federal judge to leave his life position on the bench to become a candidate for a four-year position in the vice presidency. Unless Judge Grosscup intends to become a presidential candidate 1908 and figures that the vice presidency is a better stepping stone than the bench, it is believed he will hardly permit the use of his name next year.

A man who talked with President Roosevelt this week discovered that the chief executive's preference in the selection of a vice presidential candidate, aside from Judge Grosscup, leans toward Myron T. Herrick of Cleveland. Roosevelt has no objections to Beveridge, but he believes the Indiana man will do better to remain in the senate. He knows that it is the earnest desire of Beveridge that his friends cease to boom him for the vice presidency. The senator rode on the president's train from Indianapolis to Washington when the president returned from his western trip and the two had a long talk. Since that time politicians who are in the confidence of the president have stopped talking Beveridge and have been saying more about the qualifications of the Ohio man.

Roosevelt is known to favor Taft likewise, but he feels in regard to Taft much as he does about Beveridge. He says he cannot spare Taft from the Philippine work. The candidacy of U. S. Grant for the vice presidency is also the object of some discussion here. Senator Bard appears to be hesitating whether to run for the vice presidency or try for another term in the senate, but Grant will be a candidate for the nomination regardless of Bard.

Two Librarians Change Positions.

Miss Susan Sherman, for the past five years librarian of the children's department of the Homestead Carnegie library, has resigned to accept the position of librarian at the Carnegie library at Bradford. Miss Francis Cluley, who has had charge of the children's department of the Wylie Avenue branch Carnegie library, will succeed Miss Sherman in the Homestead library.

Walked Off With 8,000 Pounds of Beams

John Mallrey, colored, a laborer employed by William Miller & Sons, contractors, who are building the new Kaufmann building in Diamond street, was given a hearing before Alderman John Groetzinger yesterday on a charge of being implicated in the stealing of 13 iron beams weighing about 8,000 pounds, from the yard where they were stored at Ross street and Fifth avenue. They were sold to a scrap iron dealer for $40. Mallrey denied knowing the beams were stolen, and said he had merely accompanied a friend to the junk dealer, where the latter sold them. He was held for court.

SECEDING PAINTERS ARE HEAVILY FINED

Must Promptly Rescind Their Action or Lose All Trades Union Support.

The members of local No. 109, Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paper Hangers of America, which seceded from the district council, and also from the American Federation of Labor, are in a predicament. George Hedrick, first vice president and M. F. Carrick, secretary and treasurer of the national organization, will arrive in Pittsburgh today to assist the district council in waging a fight against the seceders. The indications are that the Allegheny members will be shut out from all affiliations with trades unions.

What led the Allegheny local to secede is known only to those interested. They withdrew from the district council two weeks ago. The council then decided to admit all the seceding members to any other of its locals on presentation of withdrawal cards from the Allegheny local. Some of the members transferred while others refused. The district council then decided to fine the recalcitrant members from $25 to $450, according to their activity in causing the local to withdraw.

This action spurred the members and last Saturday evening they made application to the Building Trades council for affiliation. Upon hearing the facts in the case the application was refused. Now the Allegheny members intend to organize an independent national organization.

As matters now stand the members of the seceded organization must make application to re-enter the district council and pay their fines or they will be declared non-union men. This means they will not have the support of the Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paper Hangers, the Building Trades council, the American Federation of Labor, or the Iron City Central Labor council.

TWO TRADES CLASH.

Hoisting Engineers and Boiler Makers Fight Over Boiler Repairing.

The boiler makers and the engineers are inculded in the list of clashing organizations. The trouble has been brewing for some time and is now in the hands of the grievance committee of the Building Trades Council for adjustment.

The trouble is over the question which organization members are entitled to repair boilers. A hoisting engine is generally simple in construction and when it gets out of order the engineer repairs it. Often a pipe leaks and the engineer replaces it with a new one. The boiler makers claim it is their work to repair all engine boilers.

TAKEN TO ATLANTA.

Georgia Postmistress Must Face Charge of Embezzling $560.

BALTIMORE, June 22.—Miss Dora Campbell, the former postmistress of Maysville, Ga., who was arrested here last Friday, charged with embezzling funds from the postoffice at Maysville, was given a hearing before United States Commissioner Rogers today, and was remanded by him for the action of the federal grand jury of the northern district of Georgia, which has jurisdiction over Maysville.

The young woman was taken charge of by Deputy United States Marshal Emery who left with her this afternoon for Atlanta. The only witness examined here was Postoffice Inspector Barry of Atlanta, who testified that a balance of $560 had not been accounted for at the Maysville office.

Gold Bars for Exports.

NEW YORK, June 22.—(Special.)—Gold bars, amounting to $2,500,000, were purchased at the assay office today for export tomorrow. Foreign bankers said that the shipments ought not to cause alarm. Nearly $20,000,000 of gold is coming to this country from the Klondike this summer, and it was natural that some of it should go to Europe.

Big Coal Company Chartered.

The Colonial Coal Company of Pittsburgh was incorporated at Dover, Del., yesterday afternoon by a number of Pittsburghers. Its capital is $1,000,000 and its stated object is to buy, sell and mine for coal and other ores and metals. The incorporators are W. H. Silvington, J. L. Pyle, H. M. Chorpe, C. A. Hilfle, J. A. Brown and Lewis Klein.

PATRONS FILE REMONSTRANCE

Trolley Passengers at Browns Station Up in Arms Against Traction Company.

Poor Accomodations on the Second Avenue Line Calls Forth Petition for Better Service and More Courteous Treatment.

Alleged indifferent treatment of passengers on the Second avenue street car line has provoked a remonstrance from the employes of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke Company at Browns station, and the Strap-hangers' league in consequence will gain many recruits in that neighborhood. An organizer will be sent there and the whole community is likely to rise up in an appeal for better service.

The accommodations on the Second avenue line have never been first-class. Poor cars were always the rule and the number has long been insufficient to meet the demands of the traffic. The workmen at Browns station, who have composed the bumper-riders in that district, have made numerous appeals for better service, but the appeals fell on the deaf ears of the traction managers. Finally they prepared the following remonstrance, which will be presented to General Superintendent John Murphy:

Browns Station,
Pittsburgh, Pa., June 19, 1903.

To the Pittsburgh Railways Company:

We, the undersigned employes of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke Company at Browns shops, Browns station, beg to call your attention to acts of your employes in charge of your cars about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The car in charge of Conductor No. 606 had been ordered to go ahead by a signal to the motorman before all of us were able to get aboard, throwing some of us violently to the ground and against the car, endangering our limbs and lives. On Monday evening of last week the same thing happened. It is a frequent occurrence for this to take place while passengers are getting aboard your cars. There is a notice for all cars to stop at the summit here, but this is violated every day. Cars frequently run by us with a few passengers on board, and the following car so full that we are unable to get aboard. The majority of the men are destined for Glenwood and Hazelwood.

(Signed) Thomas Mee, Robert Weaver, George F. Boone, Steven McKay, Harry Reynolds, Peter Mack, Sigmund Miller, Fatrus Kling, Edgar Flesher, J. T. Wallace, John Mulligan, Harry McFee, Peter McGinnis, Frank Kennedy, John Logan, W. H. Harper, John Murphy, Albert Hoer, Thomas Mulligan, William J. Wood, Gustav Hagemon, G. A. Heiler, Wm. Mirabelle, Richard Woods, Alvin Stephen, John King, Harry Hardy, Lawrence McClintock, W. L. Gintel, R. L. Sullivan.

An agent of the Strap-hangers' league will go into that section of the Monongahela valley early this week, and hundreds of street car patrons there are expected to become members. The grievances against the traction company as voiced in the petition are said to be backed up by every patron of the Second avenue line residing in that section.

COLORED BAPTISTS ACTIVE.

Home to Be Established for Aged and Infirm Mt. Pleasant.

A movement has been started by the colored Baptist ministers to establish a home for aged and infirm of their denomination. An option has been secured on land near Mt. Pleasant, and the work of erecting buildings will begin this fall. A charter has been applied for by the association, which will be known as the Union Baptist association of western and central Pennsylvania. The officers are the Rev. R. C. Fox, pastor of the Carson street Baptist church, president; the Rev. F. W. Anderson, vice moderator; the Rev. W. E. Moore, clerk; William Struthers, treasurer, and the Rev. L. C. Garland of Williamsport, corresponding secretary. The association will also take up other religious work, such as establishing Sunday schools and churches.

TO CONFER ON CRIME.

District Attorney Haymaker Has Appointment With County Commissioners.

The establishment of a county bureau of detectives, or a criminal investigation bureau for crimes committed within the county, is to be taken up this afternoon when District Attorney John C. Haymaker will hold a conference with the county commissioners.

The county commissioners have declared that all that is necessary is for Mr. Haymaker to make the suggestion for the bureau and that it will be established. The district attorney refuses to state whether or not he will ask for a bureau, but he has said that there is too much crime at present in Allegheny county for one man to attend to.

Mr. Haymaker stated yesterday that he had been too busy trying murder cases during the past week to arrange for a conference before.

SUNDAY SCENE IN SHERADEN

F. D. Kinsey Unable to Prevent His Daughter from Leaving With Married Man.

A SENSATIONAL EPISODE

Posing as a Single Man, Edgar J. Custer So Engaged the Affections of Cora L. Kinsey That Even After His Exposure She Followed Him.

Edgar L. Custer of Cleveland, who, it is said, abandoned his wife there within the past three months, on Sunday induced a respectable young woman of Sheraden to leave her home with him. Even after the elopement was publicly known, the man went back to his work in the yard office of the Panhandle railroad at Sheraden, within a stone's throw of the girl's home, and evidently expected to continue at his employment unmolested.

The girl is Cora L. Kinsey, who up to three weeks ago, when she missed a re-election, was a Sheraden school teacher. Her father is F. D. Kinsey, and he and his wife and family have not only the respect but the sympathy of the entire borough.

The neighbors of the Kinseys, in Zephyr street, Sheraden, were brought to their doors at 11 o'clock Sunday morning by hearing the screams of a woman, remonstrances from other women, and finally the voice of Kinsey, saying, "Go, then! But you're a daughter of mine no longer, and you shall never darken my door again."

The Old Man's Denunciation.

The next moment they saw Edgar L. Custer leave the house, followed by Cora Kinsey, whom they had known as one of the prettiest and nicest girls in Sheraden. "There goes my daughter," cried the old man, turning to the neighbors who were standing on their porches and looking out of windows. "There goes my daughter with a married man. I call you all to witness that she goes without my consent and despite my appeals to her to stay."

Last night Kinsey told of the affair and how it came about. Three months ago, he said, Edgar L. Custer came to Sheraden with his father, the Rev. Mr. Custer, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of Martins Ferry. The two called at Kinsey's house and the father asked if Kinsey would board the young man, who had obtained employment with the Panhandle Railroad Company. Kinsey consented and the father left.

"That was all there was to it," said Kinsey. "The young man looked to be about 21 years old. The father did not say he was married, although he must have known, having made inquiries about my family before bringing his son here, that he had three daughters and the house. It was not two weeks before it became evident that my daughter, Cora, who was teaching school, and young Custer were in love with each other.

Was Rapid in His Wooing.

"Before the third week was over Custer asked me if he could not marry my daughter, and Cora went to her mother with the same request. The thing seemed absurd to me, of course, and I told Custer so. He said he was over 21 years old; that he knew my daughter was 25 years old and could make her own choice, but he thought it only right that her parents' consent should be secured. I consulted with my wife and we agreed that if Cora would teach the next term of school they could be married next year, on condition that the young man's father consent to the marriage and promise to come to Sheraden and sanction them. This seemed to be satisfactory. Two or three weeks later I heard that Custer was married and that his wife was still living, and I immediately confronted him with what I knew.

"He said that when he was 17 years old he had run away with a little girl and had married her, but that he had never lived with her; that his father had taken him home and given him an unmerciful licking, and that he had later on obtained a divorce. In a few days he showed me a letter, purporting to come from his father, saying that he had been married but was divorced. The letter the father afterwards denied having written.

Father Proved Son a Liar.

"About a month ago the father came here. He proved that his son lied when he said he was divorced and that he had forged the letter supposed to have come from Mr. Custer and that he was only 19 years old. It was then I should have thrown him out of the house, but the father pleaded with me and finally induced me to consent that his son and daughter should agree to be married after the school term ended next year, that in the meantime he would secure a divorce for the boy and then the marriage should take place. Again I consented, and my daughter and young Custer promised that they would be no more friendly to each other than she and the other boarders were. During the past months matters were coming to a head.

"They did not keep their promise and despite protests by myself and my wife, they would go out walking at night. I realized then that I had been weak and I telephoned to Martins Ferry for Mr. Custer. He was here last Saturday. It was then agreed that his son should leave the house the next day, giving him time to get a room elsewhere. That night we had a terrible scene, my daughter insisting that she would follow Custer to the end of the world, even if he had 40 wives.

Last Scenes Were Exciting.

"On Sunday morning Custer, his father having gone home, came to the house with a handbag. He said he wanted some of his clothes and that he was going to take Cora along. He went to his room and then came down stairs, calling to Cora to follow him. I went up to prevent her from coming down. She tried to jump out of the second-story window, but I restrained her. She cried to Custer to help her and he came running up the stairs.

"When I saw the man I forgot myself and turned to get my shotgun, which was in my room, but my older daughter threw her arms around me, my little girl clasped my legs, and both implored me to be calm and not to shed blood. In the meantime Cora had run down stairs and out on the sidewalk. Then I ordered her from the house and told her never to cross my threshold again. She went away with Custer."

SMALLPOX PATIENTS ARE PERMITTED TO RUN AT LARGE

NEW BRIGHTON, June 22.—(Special.)—Owing to a disagreement in the local council smallpox patients were permitted to run about the streets Saturday and Sunday. A few days ago all the members of the board of health resigned, with the exception of the president, Dr. J. S. Wade. Saturday two cases of smallpox broke out and neither doctor nor nurse could be secured to tend them. No one would attempt to quarantine the house until this morning.

Still Thinks He Shot Capt. Ford.

William Shorter, the negro policeman who has been locked in No. 4 police station since Sunday morning, when he became insane, has been committed to jail for 10 days, the order being issued by Supt. John P. McTighe. Shorter's condition was more normal last evening, but he is still under the hallucination that he shot Capt. Ford. He had an attack of delirium tremens while patrolling his beat, shot at something he saw and jumped through a window sash.

DEATH RESULTED FROM A FIGHT

Torso Miaovitch a Slav, Arrested, Charged With Inflicting Mortal Wounds.

ANOTHER HELD AS WITNESS

Exploding Ladle of Slag Killed Crane Operator—Two Sisters Die from Green Apples—Girl About to Be Married Expired Mysteriously.

Torso Miaovitch and Michael Obrocovitch, Slav laborers employed at Ambridge, were arrested yesterday afternoon by Constable Frederick Knoedler of Economy. The former is charged with killing Simon Miaovitch who died at the West Penn hospital shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday morning, and the latter is held as a witness. The dead man was wounded in a fight on Saturday night.

The affray took place in a boarding house at Ambridge. Simon Miaovitch, who is said to be a relative of Torso, was eating supper when Torso entered the room and began to abuse him. A fight started and in the struggle Simon was stabbed half a dozen times.

Miaovitch and Obrocovitch both ran away and the wounded man was found by early pedestrians in Economy and removed to the West Penn hospital. Yesterday morning Obrocovitch, sought out Constable Knoedler of Economy, and told him the story. After investigation the constable arrested Obrocovitch and later in the day found Miaovitch in hiding and arrested him. Both will be brought before the Beaver county grand jury at the September term.

Killed by Explosion.

Ira S. Hazeltine, aged 33 years, a crane operator at the plant of the Carnegie Steel Company at Homestead, residing at Swissvale, died at the Mercy hospital yesterday morning from burns received by the explosion of a ladle of slag Sunday night. Hazeltine was in the cage of the crane, directly over the ladle, which he was conveying from one end of the building to the other, when suddenly the contents of the vessel exploded enveloping him in a mass of fire.

Louisa Martin, 5 years old, and Margaret Martin, 3 years old, children of Peter Martin, of No. 514 Soles street, McKeesport, suddenly died Sunday and the cause of their death is supposed to be unripe apples. The children were taken suddenly ill, and after their deaths it was learned that they had been eating green apples.

James Duff Spamapes of Duquesne died yesterday afternoon while being brought to a hospital in this city, from injuries received at 1 o'clock at the Duquesne steel works. Spamapes was a millwright and while stepping out of the way of a train fell into the pit of a fly wheel and received injuries which caused his death. He was 41 years old and married.

Girl's Mysterious Death.

The young girl who mysteriously died at Horseman's hotel, North Canal street, Sharpsburg, on Sunday night, was Kate Eppker, aged 22 years, a Polish domestic. The girl was to have been married this week. The case is being investigated by the coroner.

Stephen O'Conner of Johnstown yesterday identified the body of the man who was killed by a train at East Liberty station, April 20, as that of his brother John. The body had been buried in an unmarked grave in Highland cemetery.

Hugh Hunter, aged 35 years, died at the Mercy hospital yesterday, where he was taken Saturday night as the result of being struck by a street car at Hope Church.

The coroner was notified last night that a 11-year-old boy named Sing, of No. 4822 Plum alley, was drowned yesterday afternoon in the Allegheny river at Forty-ninth street. The body had not been recovered at a late hour last night.

CALLED A MOVEMENT FOR THE GOOD OF HUMANITY

Rev. Campbell of London Explains the Free Church Movement in Europe.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 22.—As remarkable a religious meeting as has ever been held in this city, was called to order at noon today. Presbyterian, Baptist and Congregationalist clergymen gathered to hear the Rev. Reginald John Campbell of the City Temple, London.

He said he wished to explain some of the problems of the ministry across the water, and outlined the chief questions now before the British clergy.—The Free Church Federation movement, the educational problem and the spiritual outlook. The speaker declared that the Free Church Federation movement was one the few movements for the good of humanity which did not originate in this country. It was, he said, the result of a centrifugal tendency which had made itself felt among the various non-conformist denominations in England and had brought them all to see that they had much in common and could well get together.

"Now," said he, "we embrace practically the whole of the Free Church, especially the younger ministry. We have more than 5,000,000 adherents and more communicants than the established church itself."

ST. MARY'S GRADUATES.

Pupils from Convent High School Ready to Enter Business World.

The commencement exercises of St. Mary's high school were held last night in the hall of St. Mary's convent in Webster avenue. A feature of the gathering was in the fact that all the students who have planned careers in the business world will be ready at once to embark in their chosen life-work, good positions having been secured for all graduates who had made application for employment.

The school hall was attractively decorated with the class colors and the walls of the room were ornamented with drawings which had been executed by the pupils. The souvenir programs were tastefully executed by hand, quaint lettering and an ornamental cover having been made by the pupils of the drawing classes. The principal address was made by the Rev. Father Miles M. Sweeney. The valedictory was delivered by Leo A. McQuillen and the salutatory by Miss Estelle R. Butler. An entertaining musical program was rendered. Diplomas were awarded to the following:

Estelle Rosalia Butler, George William Crowl, Mary Elizabeth Dwyer, David Leo Lawrence, Hugo Edward Montgomery, Daniel Michael McCaffrey, Mary Elizabeth McCarthy, Leo Aloysius McQuillen, Marie Cecilia O'Keefe, Eleanor Frances Stafford, Elizabeth Elliott Swaine, Cecilia Angela Sweeney, Katherine Frances Sweeney, James Francis Shaughnessy.

Cawley Examined Again.

Charles Cawley, the young man who murdered his mother and four brothers and sisters at their home in Homestead last October, was examined for insanity at the county jail yesterday, by Dr. T. M. T. McKennon and Dr. M. K. Walker of Dixmont. This is the third examination District Attorney John C. Haymaker has ordered. The trial of young Cawley is listed to come up at this term of court.

Snatched Woman's Pocketbook.

P. Grosser was arrested on the Johnstown accommodation at Manor station last night by Pennsylvania Railroad Detectives A. H. Swinehart, Charles Robinson and Fred Gobert. Grosser is said to be the man who snatched a pocketbook from Mrs. Clark McKail of Bolivar, Pa., in the Union station yesterday afternoon. He was lodged in the Greensburg jail.

DIRECTOR MOORE TALKS OF WHITEHOUSE'S CASE

He Says an Efficient Man Who Has Come Up from the Ranks Will Be the New Inspector to Fill the Vancancy in the Police Department.

According to Director Harry Moore, of the department of public safety, politics will not figure in the appointment of a successor to Henry Whitehouse, police inspector of the Oakland district whose removal was recommended by the police board yesterday morning on charges preferred by Director Moore. The man to secure the place will, it is said, be one who has risen from the ranks in the police business and who understands it thoroughly. Matthew Gormail, a brother-in-law of Supt. John P. McTighe, and at present acting inspector of the district, in all probability will not be the man.

It was thus Director Moore expressed himself yesterday, after the police board's finding had been made. The director when asked who would be Whitehouse's successor said the man had not yet been selected, but that he would be an efficient man, who would walk over his district and not drive through it in a buggy. When asked if Gorman would be the man the director replied "No," and then amended his reply by adding, "At least I don't think he will." Supt. McTighe had nothing to say about the appointment.

Whitehouse was temporarily suspended a week ago by McTighe. His dismissal was the outcome of a raid on the Oakland Rod and Gun club, conducted by Inspector Bernard McStay of the First district. McTighe alleges that he ordered Whitehouse to close up all the speakeasies and gambling clubs in the district. Yesterday McTighe submitted evidence that between 30 and 40 speakeasies and unlawful clubs exist in the Fourteenth ward. Whitehouse pleaded ignorance as to all of them and said there was spitework being carried on against him. Whitehouse's case is now up to Mayor Hays.

MACHINERY FOR THE ANTIPODES

Westinghouse Company Secures Contracts for Valuable Electric Equipment.

ONE ORDER IS FOR $700,000

Auckland, New Zealand, to Spend That Amount on Lighting Plant—Bath, England, Electric Tramways Contracts for Large Plant.

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, June 22.

Westinghouse interests have just captured an important contract for the equipment of British and New Zealand electric traction systems. Westinghouse electrical machinery is also to be installed in one of the largest English marine engineering plants.

The first mentioned contract was secured from the Bath electric tramways. It includes the construction of the generating station and car sheds, and the supply, delivery and erection of the entire equipment. The generating station is to be installed with three compound wound generating sets of 600 kilowatt to run at a speed of 100 revolutions per minute. There will also be a small set to operate at 300 revolutions per minute. Two negative boosters, a 12-panel switchboard, as well as such other auxiliary apparatus as is involved in an electric traction generating station, have also been ordered.

There will be 40 double-deck, 56-passenger cars, as an initial equipment. The cars will be fitted with the Westinghouse magnetic brake, because of the number of severe grades on the road.

The New Zealand contract refers to the extensive Dunedin electric traction system. The Australasian engineering and contracting firm of Noyes Brothers, which concern represents the Westinghouse Company in the antipodes, secured the contract. A big water power plant is to be erected on a river about 20 miles distant from the New Zealand city. Three-phase current will be generated and transformed up to 15,000 volts for transmission to Dunedin. From a point near the city the main transmission line will be divided and branch off to the various sub-stations, which will be equipped with rotary converters, storage batteries and all necessary appliances. While the hydraulic plant is under construction a temporary steam plant will be built, which will also have Westinghouse machinery.

The Noyes firm in this instance, also acting on behalf of the Westinghouse interests, have practicaly closed a contract for the equipment of an electric lighting system for Auckland and suburbs, which will entail an expenditure of nearly $700,000.

The Northeastern Marine Engineering Company's shops at Timderland, northeast England, are to be driven by Westinghouse motors. The contract calls for several polyphase induction constant-speed motors and a number of variable-speed types of different sizes, together with controlling gear, starters, etc.

BLAIRSVILLE PRESBYTERY WILL MEET AT LATROBE

LATROBE, PA., June 22.—(Special.)—The June meeting of the Blairsville presbytery will be held tomorrow in the First Presbyterian church. The sermon will be preached by the retiring moderator, the Rev. E. S. Wallace of Greensburg. Probably 40 ministers and elders will be present. The principal subject of discussion will be the missionary work in behalf of the foreign-speaking population.

Four Killed By Freight Cars.

RAWLINS, WYO., June 22.—Three trainmen and one tramp were killed in a freight wreck four miles east of here today. Eight freight cars broke loose in the Rawlins yards and, running four miles, crashed into the freight train on which the victims were.

THE DEATH ROLL

James McGervy.

James McGervy, aged 74 years, died yesterday afternoon at the home of his son, W. F. McGervy, No. 82 McKee street, Crafton. The cause of his death was bronchitis, from which he had suffered for six months. Mr. McGervy was born in Cavan county, Ireland, 74 years ago. He came to America in 1845 and after a few years' residence in New York removed to this city. He was known here as a tailor of special ability. He was married in New York, his wife dying six years ago. Mr. McGervy was a veteran of the civil war, having served in Company J of the Forty-ninth Pennsylvania volunteer infantry. He was a member of St. Paul's cathedral for 45 years, but after moving to Crafton his membership was transferred to St. Philip's, at that town. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Joseph Kennedy of Grace street, Mt. Washington, and two sons, W. P. McGervy, auditor of the Kelly & Jones Company, and John J. McGervy of Roberts street. The funeral services will be held from W. P. McGervy's residence, Crafton, on tomorrow morning. Requiem mass will be celebrated at St. Philip's church at 9 a. m., and private interment will follow at St. Mary's cemetery.

Robert Marshall.

Robert Marshall, 67 years old, died at his home, No. 107 Aiken avenue, East End, yesterday morning after a long illness. He was a member of the firm of Marshall Bros.' Iron City Elevator and Machine Company and was prominently identified with other business interests in Pittsburgh for over 40 years. Mr. Marshall was born near New Castle, England, and came to this country at the age of 18. The firm of Marshall Bros. is a family establishment, it having been in existence years conducting their business in Diamond street. The deceased was an active worker in Methodist Protestant church and was connected with several philanthropic undertakings. He is survived by a brother, John Marshall, the only living member of the original firm; his widow, Mary Jones, George W. Robert S. and David Marshall, who are married and residing in Pittsburgh, and Watson Marshall, who is taking final examinations preparatory to graduating as a physician from the Johns Hopkin's university at Baltimore. The funeral services take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence.

Gottlieb G. Wagner.

After a service of nearly 40 years in the Pittsburgh postoffice, Gottlieb G. Wagner, familiarly known as "Old Reliable," passed away yesterday morning about 11 o'clock at his home in Stamm street, Mt. Oliver. He was 58 years of age. The illness which resulted fatally came upon him last December, but he held to the time of his death the office of assistant superintendent of mails at the city postoffice. Mr. Wagner was one of the best known officials at the postoffice. His long service had made him acquainted with those who came and went with various administrations, but his own services were too valuable to be dispensed with.

Mr. Wagner was born in Germany, but during his childhood his parents moved to America, settling at Wittens, O. He drifted naturally into work on the river boats. He was offered a position as mail carrier and accepted it. Rapid promotion was obtained by his strict devotion to duty and the last 20 years of his life were spent in the one office. Mr. Wagner is survived by his widow, four sons and three daughters.

Mrs. Annie Dell.

Mrs. Annie Dell, 83 years old, known to nearly every resident of Homestead as "Granny" Dell, one of the oldest residents of the town, died at the home of her son, Grant Dell, No. 148 Third avenue, yesterday morning, after an illness of but a few hours. Until a few hours before her death she enjoyed remarkably good health. Mrs. Dell was born in the Ligonier valley, in 1820; she resided there until a young woman, when she moved with her parents to Tarentum, where she was married to Joseph H. Dell, in 1841. Her husband died in 1877. For a time she lived at Laurel Hill, and 50 years ago moved to Homestead where she resided continually until her death. Mrs. Dell was a member of the Fourth Avenue (Homestead) Methodist Episcopal church. She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Mary M. Altman, Chest Haven; Mrs. Annie Sharp, Green Springs, and Mrs. Mary J. Hays, Hunhall, and one son, Grant Dell, with whom she made her home. She was a member of Ladies of Griffin circle No. 41, G. A. R.

Funeral of Thomas D. Evans.

The funeral services over the remains of Thomas D. Evans, the well-known veteran of the civil war and architect, were held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at his late residence, No. 1509 North Highland avenue. To the funeral services was imparted a military tinge by his comrades of post 167, G. A. R., attending in full dress and Chaplain Shaffer of that post reading scripture and prayer at the grave in the family plot at Homewood cemetery. The services at the house were conducted by the Rev. B. G. Nevin of the First Congregational church, of which Mr. Evans had been a member for 45 years. He was assisted by the Rev. William Sutherland of the South Side Congregational church. In addition to the old soldiers present there was a large number of fellow members from the Royal Arcanum, to which Mr. Evans belonged. His immediate friends from those two organizations served as pallbearers.

Mrs. J. T. Dunn.

Mrs. Juliette Thatin Dunn, wife of Dr. J. C. Dunn, died shortly after 10 o'clock last night at the family home, No. 208 Winebiddle avenue, East End. She was 49 years old. The late Mrs. Dunn had been a sufferer from asthma, from which she had suffered for three years. Mrs. Dunn was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Duffield, of Pittsburgh. She was educated in this city, graduating from Dr. Dunn took place in 1877. With her husband survive two sons, John Sidney Dunn and George Duffield Dunn, and one daughter, Miss Dr. Dunn is an active member of the First Presbyterian church, the pastor of that church, the Rev. Dr. W. J. Shrom, will conduct the funeral services at the late residence tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. Interment will be private.

Joseph T. Mackintosh.

Joseph T. Mackintosh, 81 years old, died yesterday at the home of his son-in-law, Wallace H. Cready, Stamm avenue, Mt. Oliver. Mr. Mackintosh was born in Philadelphia and came to the South Side about 70 years ago. He retired from active business and resided there until the early a few weeks ago. He was a member of the Bingham Street Methodist Episcopal church, having acted as trustee for a number of years. Mr. Mackintosh is survived by three sons, South Side, and two daughters, Mrs. Wallace H. Cready, and Mrs. William Rube of Sistersville.

Mrs. Hannah Follett Clark.

Mrs. Hannah Follett Clarke, the last Ohio Daughter of a Revolutionary soldier, died today at the home of her son, Orin Clark, near Croton, O., aged 100 years less four months. Mrs. Clark was born in Bennington, Vermont. Her father, Martin Follett, entered the revolutionary army at the age of 15. Near Bennington Strong Clark, has been dead 29 years. Several years ago Mrs. Clark was presented by the United States government through the National Daughters of the American Revolution with a suitable engraved silver spoon.

Judge Manuel Day.

Judge Manuel May, one of the oldest residents of Mansfield, and a prominent jurist, died yesterday afternoon of paralysis, in the house where he was born, August 6, 1824. He was an alumnus of Kenyon college and a graduate of the Cincinnati Law college. He was prosecuting attorney of the county from 1848 to 1852, a member of the state senate from 1866 to 1870, and judge of the common pleas court of Richland, Ashland and Morrow counties from 1873 to 1892. He conferred was at 32-degree Mason and an honorary life member of the Mansfield lodge of Elks. He was single and without immediate relatives.

Louis Hammerslough.

Louis Hammerslough, the pioneer dry goods merchant of Kansas City, died yesterday of dropsy, aged 68 years. He was born at Hanover, Germany, and came to this country in 1854. He was in the dry goods business at Baltimore and later at Springfield, Ill., moving to Kansas City in 1858. Mr. Hammerslough organized the first board of trade in Kansas City and later became interested in the Kansas City Globe, a morning newspaper. His son lives in New York city.

Mrs. Elizabeth F. Barrett.

Mrs. Elizabeth F. Barrett, 63 years old, died at the family residence, No. 32 Orchard avenue, Bellevue, yesterday, from heart failure. She was a daughter of the late Capt. McCleary, who was well known in Grand Army of the Republic circles. She is survived by her husband and the following children: Elizabeth C., Arthur, Frank J., James T. and Charles. Mrs. Barrett was a member of the Episcopal church of Bellevue and of the Bellevue Home and Hospital association.

John Holroyd.

BLIND MAN'S TROUBLES.

McKeesport Tube Worker is Sent to His Home in Tennessee.

Eugene Pierson, a millworker who lost the sight of his eyes in an accident at the National Tube works, McKeesport, several weeks ago, was sent to his home in Knoxville, Tenn., last night by the officials of the company. Fortune has not dealt kindly with Pierson since he left the McKeesport hospital, several days ago. After getting out of that institution Pierson begged in the streets to get enough money to take him home. He was arrested and was confined in a cell in the lockup for two days while his case was being considered by the officials of the National Tube Company.

Last night he started for Pittsburgh in charge of Officer James McCloskey of the coal and iron police. An accident delayed their train until the express from Pittsburgh was almost due to start. In the heavy rains McCloskey and his blind charge walked for more than a mile and dogged the train at Glenwood station. He was put aboard after McCloskey had promised to refund a check that was to have been given him in Pittsburgh by some one interested in his case.

SUIT FOR BREACH OF PROMISE

Youngstown Coachman Sues a Wealthy Woman for $5,000.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 22.—(Special.)—A sensation was caused this afternoon by the filing of a petition for breach of promise by Mitchell Irwin, a coachman, against Mrs. George B. Sennett, a wealthy woman of the city. Irwin claims that she promised to marry him. Everything about the case is sensational, dating back behind the time that George B. Sennett, formerly of Meadville, Pa., willed everything to his second wife. There was a contest over the will but it was settled, the second Mrs. Sennett giving the first wife and her daughters a considerable sum.

Recently Irwin threatened to bring suit for breach of promise. Upon the mention of it to Mrs. Sennett she became ill. Irwin called at the home and still the Mrs. Sennett was in bed, her attorneys in the presence of a city detective discharged the man. The suit for $5,000 followed.

STRENGTH

Is an attribute of manhood universally desired. Few people understand that the only source of physical strength is food, and that every one who has sufficient nourishing food should be strong. But there are thousands of puny people who have plenty of good food. How is that explained? The explanation is simple. Food does not nourish the body unless digested and assimilated. Diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition hinder the proper digestion and assimilation of the nutrition contained in the foodeaten. Thus the strength of food is lost, wasted.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and its allied organs. It causes the perfect digestion and assimilation of food and thus it makes men and women strong.

"I had been suffering from indigestion so badly that I could get scarcely more than half the time, but now can work every day and eat anything I want," writes Mr. Victor L. Hawkins, of Hawkinstone, Kentucky Co., Va. "When Brunner I took Dr. R. V. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It has put new life and energy in me, restored my health and made a man of me once more. I used to weigh 120 but had gotten down to 100, now am back to 120 and will soon be back at my old weight if nothing happens. Your medicine has done it all."

A Rejuvenated Being.

"'Force' is not a heavy food, and it has that substantial foundation which begets blood. If it was eaten more frequently, and the terrapin, lobster and bird eschewed, people would not complain in the morning about not feeling well. No more heavy suppers for me when I can get 'Force.' Why, since I have been eating it I feel like a rejuvenated being. Miss Jane Evans."

Good Board in Colorado $8 a week

Burlington Route

The idea that it costs a "mint of money" to spend a vacation in Colorado is all wrong. On the contrary, it is a fact that no other summer resort State has so many moderate-priced hotels and boarding houses.

Comfortable places, where one can get excellent fare and comfortable quarters for $8 to $10 a week, are to be found in many parts of the state; and then there are a number of hotels with elaborate service for those who require a great deal and are willing to pay for it.

The cost of a visit to Colorado will, of course, depend on the length of your stay. At Manitou, Colorado Springs and Glenwood Springs, a good room and first-class board can be had for $14 a week and upwards. During the summer months, the leading fashionable hotels charge $17.50 a week, and in some cases, $20, $25 and even $30. But at all of Colorado's resorts are hotels which provide good accommodations for as little as $8 or $10 a week. Boarding houses ask even less—$5 to $35 a month. Excluding railroad fare to and from Colorado, $75 is a liberal estimate of the cost of a month's stay in the mountains. In actual practice it is likely that the majority of the people who visit Colorado spend little more than $50 a month for their board, lodging and amusements. The railroad fare is a small part of the expense this year. Round-trip tickets will be sold from Chicago for $30 from June 1 to September 30; for $25 from July 1 to 10.

Send for a free copy of our "Colorado Handbook"—it tells just what you want to know about the hotels and boarding houses.

WATER! WATER!

WATER-SOAKED LOTS AT BARGAIN PRICES!

Don't you know that it has rained for so many Saturdays that the man who made the almanac has forgotten when it didn't rain on that day?

We have more than five hundred and fifty lots in our plan that were all out in the rain and consequently they all got more or less water soaked, and will have to be placed on the bargain counter for sale.

Some fellows' lots are smaller than the prices and this being the case it was easier for them to take the lots in out of the rain than the prices.

We are not built that way, and our prices are smaller than the lots so that we had no alternative but to take the price in and leave the lots out in the wet, and cut the price to suit the wetness.

There is no record of but one excursion boat advertised that would come anywhere near our plan of lots, and that was promoted by Mr. Noah some years ago.

We do better than that now. We reach our plan by the Pittsburgh & Charleroi Electric line. When this line was first proposed we heard talk of dining cars being run over the line, but under the present management you leave Pittsburgh and arrive at Charleroi before you would have time to cream your coffee and our plan of lots before you could pick up the bill of fare.

When the tunnel through Mt. Washington is completed our lots will be twenty minutes' ride from the Pittsburgh postoffice. No special day of sale; come any day. Heat expands, and as the weather grows warmer our prices are liable to increase, but the size of our lots will remain the same.

LOTS 50X135 FEET--$250 TO $500

5% DOWN AND 2½% PER MONTH.

Call at our office, 1105 Arrott Building, Cor. Wood Street and Fourth Avenue, and examine plans and we will show the goods.

NEW CASTLE LAWYER GETS A STATE APPOINTMENT

Appointee Who Is a Spanish War Veteran Will Be in Interior Department.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 22.—Attorney George W. Muse, one of the most prominent of the younger members of the Lawrence county bar, has just received an excellent appointment at Harrisburg, under the Hon. I. B. Smith, secretary of internal affairs. He will leave in a few days for Harrisburg and will begin his duties July 1.

The new appointee was a member of Company B, of the "Fighting Tenth" Pennsylvania regiment, and served with it during the Philippine campaign, being one of the three Lawrence county boys in the regiment. He was admitted to practice law here in 1896 and has always taken a very active interest in the success of the Republican party.

He has for several years been a member of the Lawrence county Republican committee and has frequently stumped the county in behalf of the Republican candidates. Attorney Muse is one of the most popular members of the Spanish-American War Veterans' association and is also an officer of New Castle lodge of the Elks.

SCORED EVERYBODY.

Clarion County Democratic Convention Adopted Sweeping Resolutions.

CLARION, PA., June 22.—(Special.)—At the Clarion county Democratic convention held here today, the following nominations were made: Sheriff, C. R. Bowman; jury commissioner, Lyman McCall; delegates to state convention, W. L. Sanson, David Hefren and George E. Ochs. David R. Lewis of Knox was re-elected county chairman. Resolutions were made denouncing the Salus-Grady libel bill and condemning every member of the state legislature who voted for or gave his support to the bill, and the governor for his approval of the law; they also call on congress to investigate the corruption in the postoffice department, ask the people of Pennsylvania to overthrow the corruption in state affairs as represented by the machine-made ticket now before the people.

Washington Democratic Ticket.

WASHINGTON, PA., June 22.—(Special.)—The Democrats of Washington county named the following ticket here this morning for the November election: Jury commissioner, D. W. Berry, of Somerset township; recorder, David A. Lagel, of Washington; delegates to the state convention, W. J. Smith, Somerset township; Benjamin Anderson, East Washington; John Eckert, Union township; John L. McClelland, Canonsburg; Leroy Alexander, West Alexander, and John W. McDowell, Washington. McDowell was also named for chairman of the county committee. Dr. R. L. South of Amwell township, W. B. Chambers of Canonsburg, and J. M. Raiston of Washington were appointed a committee to confer with similar committees from Beaver and Lawrence counties to decide upon a method of making congressional nominations in the Twenty-fourth district comprising the three counties named.

Dream Almost Proved Fatal.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., June 22.—(Special.)—John James dreamed last night that his house was on fire and that his escape by the stairway was cut off. He rushed to the window and jumped from the second floor in his night clothes. He fractured an ankle and suffered severe internal injuries.

Prominent Johnstown Men.

Harry A. Hamor,

One of the representative men in the offices of the great Cambria Steel Company in Johnstown, Pa. He is an active Republican and he has been honored by the party several times.

Dr. S. A. Peden,

He is a notable common councilman in Johnstown, Pa. He has held a seat in that body continuously since the flood. He was president of the body for many years. Recently he lost that honor by a trick of the Democratic members of the body.

HELD FOR FURTHER HEARING.

Men Implicated in Murder of Finn at Monessen Committed to Jail.

MONESSEN, June 22.—(Special.)—Matthew Ruppi, Christopher Johnson and John Manti were given a hearing before Squire William B. Croushore this morning, charged with felonious assault and battery. They were committed to jail. The men are alleged to have been implicated in the fight Saturday night in which John Bloun, a Finn, lost his life at the hands of Policeman Emanuel Antonizzi.

The officer was also arraigned before Squire Croushore to answer a charge of murder. A hearing was waived and Antonizzi was also committed. Antonizzi claimed to have been brutally assaulted by the four men while on duty. He claims the men used clubs and other deadly weapons and that he used his revolver in self-defense. It is reported that an effort will be made to rescue the prisoners when they are being taken to the county jail.

Jefferson County Ticket Named.

BROOKVILLE, PA., June 22.—The Jefferson county Republican primary election was held here today. James V. Murray of Brookville was renominated for district attorney without opposition and John Trudgen of Reynoldsville was named for jury commissioner. Leo N. Mitchell, nephew of Senator James G. Mitchell, was backed by the later for county chairman, but withdrew before the convention and William T. Darr of Brookville was unanimously elected.

One Plumber Strike Broken.

CONNELLSVILLE, June 22.—(Special.)—The plumbers strike which has seriously affected building operations here for the past six weeks, was broken today when the employes of the two establishment went to work. Heretofore there was an established wage scale, but under the new arrangement the matter of wages will be a personal one between the employers and the employed. It is thought that the other strikers will be back at work before the end of the week.

LOVE CAUSED SUICIDE.

Married Woman Killed Herself When Another Man Deserted Her.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., June 22—(Special)—Mrs. Jennie Youtey of Arthur, Ill., committed suicide here today at the Haskell hotel, by taking morphine. She is said to have been the wife of a highly respected citizen of Arthur, and came to this city to see a wealthy coal operator of the southern section of the state. Mrs. Youtey, who was a beautiful woman, came here Thursday and was met soon after by the man. He remained here until last night, and after his departure it was noticed that Mrs. Youtey was very despondent. This afternoon she was found in her room, dead, with an empty morphine bottle by her side, and a letter nearby, explained all. She asked that her husband be notified. The woman had $100, and in a dress suit case was found a big dirk knife.

EXPLOSION HURT MANY.

Fourteen Men Seriously Burned by the Igniting of Mine Gas.

TAMAQUA, PA., June 22.—(Special.)—By an explosion of gas in the No. 4 mine of the Lehigh Coal & Navigation Company, last night, 14 men were so badly burned that it is thought six of them will die. Daniel Lewis, a miner, succumbed to his injuries today.

Two English-speaking miners and three foreigners are in a critical condition and their recovery is doubtful. The explosion, it is believed, was due to a defective safety lamp.

Two Men Rob a Postoffice.

JOHNSTOWN, June 22.—Early this morning two men forced an entrance into the Vintondale postoffice building, and with either dynamite or nitro-glycerin shattered the safe. They secured a small amount of cash and some stamps. The furniture was wrecked. There is no clue.

Son Shot by His Father.

WARREN, O., June 22.—(Special)—John Shoup, aged 22 years, is dying at Niles from the effects of a bullet wound in the bowels received after angry words with his father, Benjamin Shoup. The latter says the shooting was accidental, and the son corroborates this.

WILL INSPECT CAMP.

Gen. Wiley and Quartermasters of Second Brigade Have Gone to Somerset.

CONNELLSVILLE, June 22.—(Special.)—A party composed of Brig. Gen. John A. Wiley, Brigade Quartermaster Louis Anshutz, the brigade quartermaster sergeant and all the regimental quartermasters of the Second brigade, mobilized here today on their way to Somerset, to inspect the new camping grounds, and lay off the sites of the different commands. They will spend two days at Somerset.

Gen. Wiley does not approve of the plan recently projected to have the annual reunion of the Tenth regiment, U. S. V., at Somerset during the Second brigade encampment. He thinks the festivities of the reunion would interfere with the good results of the encampment. It was suggested that each of the eight companies of the Tenth regiment, N. G. P., entertain the old companies, the members of which saw service in the Philippines. It is probable that steps will be taken to have the reunion in Somerset independent of the national guard.

DAUGHTERS OF LIBERTY IN SESSION AT CANTON

CANTON, O., June 22.—(Special.)—The ninth annual state convention of the Daughters of Liberty convened at Canton today. This evening a banquet was tendered to the delegates. Mayor Smith made the address of welcome. Among the officers present are National Secretary W. P. Edmonds of Pennsylvania, Past National Chancellor Stein of New York and State Councilior Mrs. Maggie Mitchell of Newark.

Failed to Reach a Decision.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 22.—(Special)—Although conferences were held all day between the Amalgamated association board, with President Shaffer at its head, and the Youngstown Iron Sheet & Tube Company, no agreement has been reached yet. President Shaffer said this afternoon that the only scale of any moment outside of the present one to be settled is the plate mill scale for the southern mills.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

PHILLIPI, W. VA.—George Creel, master carpenter for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, was killed yesterday by an engine.

CHARLESTON, W. VA.—Camden Watts, aged 20 years, son of Gen. C. C. Watts of this city, died here yesterday of peritonitis.

NEW CASTLE—John T. Horner, who recently resigned the superintendency of the South Sharon tin plate mill, has gone to Pueblo, Col., to manage a large tin plant.

STEUBENVILLE, O.—Ignats Krans, who has been operating an alleged banking, insurance, steamship and beneficial society office here for foreigners, has disappeared.

NEW CASTLE—Ross T. Edwards died yesterday at his home near New Bedford after an illness of three days. He was 50 years old and is survived by his widow and eight children, a brother and two sisters.

NEW CASTLE—Charles Grannis, who four weeks ago fatally wounded Mrs. Eva May Ryhal at Cascade park and then attempted self-destruction, pleaded not guilty to a charge of murder and was remanded for a hearing.

CONNELLSVILLE—Crazed by suffering, Charles Homan of Salt Spring Bottom, slashed his throat with a razor. He was hurried to the Cottage State hospital here, where it was found that the trachea had been severed. He is in a serious condition.

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—The Youngstown Fair association, one of the pioneer organizations of its kind in the state, has applied for dissolution. The races, which will be held here July 1, 2, 3 and 4 will be the last that will be given on the track.

NEW BRIGHTON—The corner stone for the handsome new Methodist church was laid Sunday afternoon in the presence of about 500 people. Services appropriate to the occasion were conducted. The building will be ready for occupancy in two months.

NEW CASTLE—Five hundred tin workers employed at the Greer and Shenango plants here will receive an increase in wages to be decided upon next Sunday at a joint meeting of the amalgamated lodge. The increase has been conceded by rollers and heaters whose wages were recently advanced.

DEATH PARTED TWO FRIENDS HERE: MAY MEET IN THE GREAT BEYOND

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

IRWIN, PA., June 22.—Richard Creighton and Peter Hunter of Larimer, and close friends, left home Saturday afternoon to see the ball game at Wilmerding. They agreed to meet at Kennywood park in the evening, but instead, they met with accidents that resulted in death, and today their bodies are lying only a short distance apart awaiting burial tomorrow.

Richard Creighton, while boarding a train at Wilmerding fell under the wheels and his legs were ground off and he died later in a Pittsburgh hospital. He leaves a widow and two small children. Peter Hunter lost his life by being struck the same evening at Wilkinsburg, while getting out of the way of one train and not noticing another coming down upon him. He was taken to his home where he died Sunday afternoon. Hunter was 56 years old and single.

THREE GENERATIONS OF ONE FAMILY ILLUSTRATE EDUCATION OF THE NEGRO

OBERLIN, O., June 22.—Among those who will graduate from Oberlin college on Wednesday, is Carroll Napier Langston (colored) of St. Louis. His brother, John Mercer Langston, graduated from the same college in June, 1901. Arthur D. Langston, principal of Dumas school of St. Louis, father of these two, graduated from Oberlin in 1877.

Hon. John M. Langston, formerly a member of congress, father of A. D. Langston, graduated from Oberlin college in 1849. Thus three generations of the Langston family have graduated from Oberlin college, and the record is said to be without precedent in the development of the negro race in America.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BOSTON, MASS., June 22.—The South End grounds were in such a slippery, muddy state today, due to the rain of last night, that the manager decided to call off the game scheduled for the Boston-Pittsburgh combination. To have attempted to play would have imperiled the lives and limbs of the players. Manager Clarke was not disposed to take any chances of injuring his men and he cheerfully acquiesced in the dictum and bought his tickets for Philadelphia. Clarke was in a jovial state of mind.

"I am quite willing to give the boys another afternoon to themselves," he said. "They have had plenty of work and rest will do none of them any harm. My pitchers are now in first-class form and I do not want to run the risk of their going stale at this critical stage of the game."

"Do you expect to win the pennant again?" was asked.

Clarke smiled. "Well," he replied, "you know the proverbial uncertainty of baseball, but I am very hopeful of being able to hoist the flag again for the third straight time next spring. One reason why is that our team is working together as one man. All heart and soul devoted to the one object of winning as many games as possible. That is what gives us the advantage over the "all-star" aggregations, which are torn with dissensions and jealousies."

The Pittsburgs go from Boston to Philadelphia. They expect to win all the games there, or at least a majority. In the meantime New York is to play with the Cincinnati Reds, proved to have been overwhelmingly superior to Boston at the bat. In the all-important matter of runs Pittsburgh tallied 27 times to Boston's 8, winning all three matches. Pittsburgh connected safely with the ball 39 times, while her pitchers were such an enigma to the Boston batsmen that only 12 safe hits were recorded. Wagner got two home runs. Pittsburgh got two two-base hits, while Boston is credited with six double-suckers. There were no three-baggers. Wagner holds the individual record at the bat with eight hits to his credit; Beaumont secured seven and Clarke six.

When it came to fielding Pittsburgh made 12 errors and Boston 5. However, Pittsburgh had the cleanest record in two of the games. Moreover, many of the errors were made by fielders, such as Wagner, Leach and Bransfield, making desperate efforts to stop balls which never should have been fought for at all. The Boston pitchers and catchers are responsible for nearly twice as many wild pitches and passed balls as were the Pittsburgh star artists. What won more than anything else was confidence and dash displayed and the machine-like unity of the team.

ONE GAME EACH.

Great Crowd Watched the Downfall of Mathewson.

NEW YORK, June 22.—New York lost a fine opportunity of regaining first place in the National league pennant race today, due to Mathewson's weakness in the final inning of the second game with the Chicago team. The locals won the first game of the double-header through errors by Taylor and Tinker in the tenth inning. The second game seemed to be as good as won by the home team at the close of the ninth inning, but with one out in the ninth the visitors began to hit Mathewson all over the field. They scored six runs, and the New York side went out in one, two, three order. The scores.

BROOKLYN WON BOTH.

Patsy Donovan's Team Suffered a Double Defeat.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., June 22.—The Brooklyns began their second series against the west at Washington park by defeating St. Louis twice. Hanlon's nine outplayed the visitors in the first contest, but were outbatted and outfielded in the second. Stupid work on the bases and Currie's wildness caused the downfall of Donovan's nine. Evans was batted hard and was finally replaced by Garvin. The home club piled up seven runs in the fourth inning of the second game. Scores:

Dreyfuss Is Back Again.

President Dreyfuss of the local baseball club, who has been in New York for almost a week, returned to the city yesterday, and while jubilant over the work of the Pirates he brought back but little baseball news. Mr. Dreyfuss will return to New York and be with the team when they meet the Giants during the latter part of the week.

CRIMSON TEAM CONFIDENT.

Feel Sure of Taking Second Game from Yale When They Meet Today.

NEW YORK, June 22.—(Special.)—Harvard won the first baseball game in the annual series with Yale in such a handy fashion that the Crimson rooters are inspired with the belief that the game tomorrow in New Haven will result in another victory for the Cambridge university. Capt. Clarkson, the star twirler of the Harvard nine, showed that he has at last settled down to his true form and all Cambridge is confident he can turn the trick again.

The Harvard nine was not at all affected with the customary stage fright on meeting Yale, and went after the game in a business-like fashion. Kernan proved very steady and reliable in his backstop work, and the old football captain should do even better in the second game, as he is fast recovering from his injury in the intercollegiate championship games.

Good Horse for Whitney.

NEW YORK, June 22.—At the sale today of the Adelbert stud yearlings, Harry F. Whitney, after some spirited bidding, obtained the full brother to Hatasoo and Mesmerist for $7,700, the top price of today's sale. He is a ch. c. by Hastings—Hoodoo. H. B. Duryea bought the 2-year-old, Eastern Shore, by the Bard-Equipoise, for $1,100.

Will Meet on Neutral Grounds.

CHARLEROI, PA., June 22.—(Special.)—The Allenport and Fayette City baseball teams will play for $100 on the Charleroi grounds Thursday afternoon. The long rivalry necessitated neutral grounds.

THE COLLEGE CREWS' HARD PRACTICE WORK

An Ex-Cornell Stroke Can See Nothing but His Old Crew. Some Long Spins.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

POUGHKEEPSIE, June 22.—After seeing all of the crews at practice on the river Fred A. Briggs, who stroked the victorious Cornell crews of 1896, 1897 and 1898, made the following statement:

"It would be natural for me to favor Cornell and to believe that no crew can whip ours until I see it done, but, to speak conservative and according to my best judgment, I do not think it possible for any man, no matter how much experience he has had at rowing, to pick a winner from among the splendid crews that are training for the coming regatta. I realize that Cornell is the general favorite and I know from observing the men at work that they are a good average Cornell crew. I have no idea how fast they can go, as Mr. Courtney has not told me the results of any of the time trials. Their form is excellent and their weights and height are to their advantage, but you must consider that all the other crews are good. I won't say that Cornell is third, but the difference is so slight that no man with any degree of certainty can form an opinion as to which is the fastest crew. I look for a very close race and believe the 'Varsity will keep a long distance to see. If the leaders are not lapped at the finish I shall be surprised."

The Syracuse crew covered 12 hard miles this evening, and all the men were in good condition at the end and showed that they are made of sturdy stock.

The Georgetown crew rowed over the four-mile course this evening, but no time was taken. Coach Dempsey is thinking of giving them a time row tomorrow, as he thinks they are in condition for a hard try-out. Shepard, who has been out of the crew for a week on account of malaria, contracted in Washington, resumed his seat at bow and is expected to be able to retain the place.

All the Cornell crews took easy practice this evening. Courtney took a trip across the river to get a view of Wisconsin. He would not express any opinion about their merits, but he observed, "it looks as if they were playing hide-and-seek, but they have to show themselves on the day of the race."

THE COLOR LINE.

It May Be Drawn at Harvard on Shortstop Matthews.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., June 22.—(Special.)—There is talk of making Matthews, the negro shortstop of the Harvard baseball team, captain of the club next year, after Clarkson, the present captain, leaves college. The suggestion has been made in all seriousness, and has caused no little discussion. Matthews has played good ball on the team this season—in fact the coaches say he is one of the best men on the nine, and it is this which has led to the talk of making his captain.

There is a good deal of opposition to the plan, however, both among some members of the team and in the undergraduate body, for race feeling exists even in Harvard. It is possible if the time does come to put the negro at the head of the ball players succeeds that some members would withdraw, while it would, it is believed, have a marked effect on the number of students reporting for work on the baseball squad. If this feeling is found to be strong it will result in the abandonment of the idea, for Harvard men are not prepared to sacrifice their chances against Yale and Princeton for the sake of the principle of race equality.

SCHOLASTICS' STRONG TEAM.

Ferguson, Hamilton and Kennoy to Play Against Homestead Today.

The All-Interscholastics will present a strong line up against the champion Homestead A. A. C. this afternoon at Homestead. Hugh Ferguson, first baseman, on the Cornell 'varsity, and Sam Hamilton, a former Princeton catcher, will be in the game. "Buck" Kennoy, shortstop, the West Virginia university team, arrived home yesterday and he will join the "Scholastics this afternoon. Either "Red" Smith, the West Virginia premier pitcher, or Jim Doyle, of Princeton, will oppose "Buck" Washer, the collegian recently added to Risher's corps of pitchers. Doyle will very likely begin the game. Phil Lewis, shortstop on the Cornell nine, will also be played today but he left last night for Vermont, where he will join a party of Cornell students making a survey.

Slippery Rock Beats New Castle.

SLIPPERY ROCK, PA., June 22.—(Special.)—Mercer academy cancelled the game scheduled for today at the 11th hour. New Castle A. C. was secured and the Normal won a fine game, 4 to 2. Davis and Lanigan were both in fine form and were given good support. Score:

Racing for Emperor's Cup.

DOVER, ENGLAND, June 22.—Eight yachts started today in the annual race for the Emperor William cup, from Dover to Heligoland, 320 miles. A light breeze was blowing. The schooner yacht Cicely, owned by Cecil Quentin and designed by Fife, speedily assumed the lead.

Will Try a New Trap.

LATROBE, PA., June 22.—The Latrobe Gun club has issued invitations for a two-days' target tournament to be held at their range in North Latrobe on Tuesday, June 30 and Wednesday, July 1. There will be 12 events each day. The targets will be thrown from a newly-invented trap.

Armed With a Bat Steen Finds Trouble

Armed with a baseball bat and fired with hatred for policemen, John Steen of Murphy street last night started in search of trouble. He was rounded up in an Oakland saloon by Acting Inspector Gorman and Officer Dunn. There was a battle in which the law triumphed. Steen has a record of having sent four "coppers" to the hospital. He has just finished a 60-day sentence in the workhouse, where he was sent by Magistrate Negley. This morning he will have to face the same judge.

MUGSY M'GRAW PICKS PIRATES

New York Manager Thinks Fred Clarke's Crew Best Team in Either League.

FINE FIELD FOR THE GIANTS

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
NEW YORK, June 22.

John McGraw, the Giants' managfier, is confident Pittsburgh will win the pennant and his own team stand third. "I figure we have an excellent chance to finish as good as third," said McGraw today. "I said before the season began that we would do that well, and we may do better. Certainly we shall try. I don't mind saying, however, that I think the Pittsburghs will win the pennant."

Although McGraw is all wrapped up in his own team, he is not too prejudiced to know a better team when he sees one. He is a great admirer of the Pittsburghs, as one will see from the following:

"The Pittsburgh team is by far the strongest in either big league—much better balanced. You cannot take a position on it but what you feel that you would like to have that man. Taken as a whole I regard the American league as better balanced in strength than the National, but there are three or four teams in the National that could hold their own in the American. There are more youngsters in the National and they put life in the game. I have one of them, Gilbert, who is the fastest fielder in the world.

"The Baltimores of the '90's were the strongest team that ever played the game, and we are trying to play the same kind of ball—mixing it up as much as possible. The Baltimores were never strong in pitchers and had to make from six to ten runs to win their games. Yet they were strong enough to do it. Their pitchers could not compare with the present New York pitchers. Possibly the New Yorks have done better than I expected, but every man on the team has shown a helpful spirit. They have all worked hard, always followed my suggestions and none of them has crossed me in any way."

McGraw has great confidence in his pitching department, as one will judge from this. The figure on Matthewson, Mcginnity and Taylor doing the bulk of the pitching. Cronin and Miller I will, of course, hold in case of necessity, and both of them are good enough to take their regular turns if need be."

Unless some unexpected hitch arises Gotham "fans" will next year have a baseball park that will cast into the shade any ball grounds in the country. It was John T. Brush, who, as president of the Cincinnati club gave the Queen City the finest park in the country, and ever since he assumed control of the New York club has been his ambition to give the Giants a home which shall eclipse that now possessed by the Reds.

It is Mr. Brush's present intention to throw the present ground and build on the immense park on which will be laid out the finest diamond, athletic field, football gridiron, cinder track and bicycle track in the world. A three-story grandstand, built of brick and steel, and fashioned on the plan of the Cincinnati stands, will be erected for the "fans." Accommodation in the line of other stands will be provided for 50,000 people, and the Giants' club house will contain every modern appointment.

SOME MISTAKE.

M. Henri Fournier Says He Will Carry Out His Contract.

PARIS, June 22.—(Special Cable.)—On being shown the cablegram from New York stating that Alexander Winton had repudiated the contract signed by his representative, Charles B. Shanks, for a series of 25-mile races, the best two out of three, on tracks agreed upon by M. Henri Fournier, said:

"There must be some misunderstanding. Mr. Shanks came to me when I was at the New York automobile show, on behalf of Mr. Winton, and I accepted his proposition. Mr. Winton, a short time afterward met me and we talked over the match and all was satisfactorily arranged, and on my part I am willing to go ahead."

WHEELING WON A GAME.

Batted Hard and Defeated Evansville.

SOUTH BEND, IND., June 22.—Game postponed, rain.

TERRE HAUTE, IND., June 22.—Terre Haute-Dayton, no game, wet grounds.

CLOTHIER STILL CHAMPION.

Defeated A. E. Mahan for the State Title.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 22.—W. J. Clothier, the present Pennsylvania state tennis champion, defeated L. E. Mahan, the former champion of Columbia university today in the final game for the championship of the state. The score was 6-4, 6-3, 6-2.

L. E. Mahen and Samuel Collom defeated J. R. Carpenter, Jr., and Mantle Fielding for the championship in doubles. The scores were 6-4, 7-5, 2-6, 4-6, 6-3.

Box Office Receipts the Feature.

The H. L. A. C. baseball club met the St. Louis female stars at Steel Works park, Homestead, yesterday, and the biggest crowd of the season was present to witness the contest, which grew into a farce in the third inning. No score was kept after that round. The feature of the game was the box office receipts.

WELSHMEN TO GO ABROAD.

Plans Being Formed to Send Winning Clubs to Wales.

The Pittsburgh Male chorus, the prize winners of the eisteddfod held in Pittsburgh Decoration day, held a meeting in the Welsh Presbyterian church, Hammet street and McDevitt place, last night. J. R. Morris presided. A committee was appointed to devise plans to make the club a permanent organization.

A concert tour is contemplated in the early fall, the proceeds of which will go toward defraying the expenses of a European trip in the summer of 1904 in connection with their attendance at the national eisteddfod in Wales. If the national eisteddfod is held in St. Louis during the Louisiana exposition the chorus will make the trip abroad during the season of 1905. Selections which were given at the eisteddfod were repeated last night.

BYERS BREAKS ALLEGHENY COUNTRY COURSE RECORD

Goes 18 Holes in 70, Three Less Than Previous Mark—Highland Wins Match.

The Highland Golf team won a hotly contested match from the Allegheny Country Golf team on the latter's course yesterday at Sewickley, 12 to 8. The match was one of the spring series of the Western Pennsylvania Golf Association championship affair and brought out a large gallery. Again the most brilliant player of the match was E. M. Byers, who has won about every amateur championship in this locality worth having.

Pitted against him yesterday was G. A. Ormiston, the Highland crack, who was disposed of by 6 up, and in so doing Byers broke the course record of 72, doing the 18 holes in 70. Buyers' score against Ormiston was the largest of the day and he, with B. S. Horne, who beat W. C. Fownes 2 up, scored all of Allegheny's points. The fact that Byers made his record over a heavy course caused by the rain makes his feat the more remarkable. The scores:

HIGHLAND.		ALLEGHENY
G. A. Ormiston	0	E. M. Byers	6
W. C. Fownes	0	B. S. Horne	2
C. H. Fownes	2½	E. Porter	0
H. Fownes	1½	D. D. Thompson	0
W. C. Fownes	0	J. S. Bowers	0
J. S. Martin	8	H. Rea	0
Total	12	Total	8

Mrs. Rohrbacher Wins.

Mrs. Joseph Rohrbacher beat Mrs. W. N. Kerr in the play-off for the loving cup offered by Edward A. Woods yesterday on the Edgeworth links by 2 up.

NEWS OF THE HOME AND THE SOCIETY WORLD

SOCIETY | WOMEN'S CLUBS

A GREAT many people went from Pittsburgh and Allegheny yesterday for the golf tournament at the Allegheny Country club. During the day a large number followed the players over the links and in the late afternoon and in the evening when the rain fell they gathered on the large porches of the club houses.

There are a number of visitors in Sewickley Heights, prominent among them being the members of the house party which Mrs. William Thaw, Jr., has been entertaining at "As You Like It," and including the out-of-town girls who came on to be bridesmaids at the wedding of Miss Boyd Thaw and Henry L. Collins on Saturday. In the house party are Miss Boyd Brown and Miss Elsie Curtis of Washington, D. C.; Miss Mabel Palmer of Baltimore and Miss Mary Metcalf of Erie, Pa. Last evening Joseph McKnight Speer gave a dinner for them, which was one of the delightfully informal entertainments of the day. Mr. Speer was one of the ushers at the wedding Saturday. Rumors of the beauty and artistic character of the wedding ceremony were heard on all sides yesterday. "As You Like It," with its rambling architectural features, afforded an admirable setting for the ceremony, which, though planned for out-of-doors, had nothing in being conducted in the great open hall because of the rain which played havoc with the cherished plans of the bride. Later in the evening the pergolas were used for promenades by the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Collins will make their home with Mrs. Thaw at "As You Like It" after their return from their wedding trip.

McCloskey—Daschbach.

In the new Roman Catholic Church of the Epiphany, in Washington street, yesterday morning at 9 o'clock occurred the marriage of Miss Mary Estelda McCloskey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. McCloskey, and Mr. Lee Daschbach. The Rt. Rev. Regis Canevin, coadjutor bishop, officiated. The nuptial mass was performed by the Rev. Bartholomew Conway, of New York, assisted by the Rev. Miles Sweeney and the Rev. Hugh Boyle. The church, which was filled with friends of the bride and bridegroom, was decorated with pedia and lilies. The service was largely choral and was rendered by the Sodality choir, with Miss Grace Daschbach, a sister of the bridegroom, as soprano soloist.

The bride had but one attendant, her sister, Miss Mildred McCloskey, and Raymond Daschbach was his brother's best man. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white crepe meteor trimmed with Irish pointe lace. She wore a large white hat trimmed with white plume and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The bridesmaid was prettily gowned in white mousseline de soie.

After the ceremony at the church a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents in Irwin avenue, Squirrel Hill, at which only the two immediate families and a few intimate friends were guests. Mr. Daschbach and his bride left soon after for their wedding trip. They will sail for England, intending to spend nearly three months in a tour of the British Isles.

Mrs. Daschbach is a graduate of Vassar and took post-graduate work at Oxford, winning high honors in history. Mr. Daschbach is a local real estate man. After their return from their wedding trip they will live in Thornburg, where they have a new house.

Golden Wedding Celebration.

The fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Morrow of New Brighton, Pa., was celebrated yesterday from 10 in the morning until 10 at night. Over 200 guests from all parts of Western Pennsylvania attended. For 48 years Mr. Morrow was constantly in the employ of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago railroad, and many prominent officials of that and other roads were there to see him and his wife. Between the hours of 2 and 5 in the afternoon the older friends of the couple were present, and in the evening, from 7 until 10, over 100 younger friends were received. To Mr. Morrow belongs the distinction of operating the first train out of Pittsburgh upon the completion of the Fort Wayne railroad to Chicago, and today he is the oldest conductor in point of service on the books of the company. Mr. Morrow was 22 when he married, and his bride 20, and both still look young. The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Ellis Posey, who died 25 or 30 years ago. Samuel Pledger, an old Fort Wayne conductor, was the groomsman and Miss Jane Miller the bridesmaid. Both are dead. Only two people are living who were present at the wedding.

Informal Luncheons.

Mrs. James McKay of "Oak Hill," Ambrose avenue, Shadyside, gave a handsome luncheon yesterday afternoon at the Country club. The guests included a number of the older married women, friends of the hostess. Covers were laid for 14 and the decorations of the round table were simple and unconventional, consisting of white daisies.

Mrs. Murry A. Verner was hostess at a very informal luncheon which she gave yesterday at her home, "Cathalyco Park," in Penn avenue, Homewood, for a number of her friends, who will soon leave the city for the summer.

Baseball Club Benefit.

An enjoyable affair will be the concert tomorrow evening at the Alvin theater for the benefit of the Duquesne baseball club. Box parties will be given by Samuel Harden Church, Leopold Vilsack, E. J. Frauenheim, and other parties will be given throughout the body of the house. There will be specialties, the musical features and Miss Sarah Truax will appear for the first time in the one-act play, "The Brayton Episode," written by Samuel Harden Church.

On Their Wedding Trip.

John E. Hughes, a prominent young business man of New Castle, Pa., and Miss Grace E. Dewolf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Dewolf of the same place, were united in marriage yesterday afternoon. Only the immediate friends of the family were present. The Rev. Dr. Charles W. Tyler, rector of the Trinity Episcopal church, officiated at the ceremony, and the couple left during the afternoon on an eastern wedding tour of three weeks.

Wedding This Evening.

Miss Florence D. Wills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Wills, and W. F. McFarland will be married this evening at the home of the bride's parents in Middle street, Allegheny. It will be a pretty home affair. A sister of the bridegroom, Miss Alberta McFarland, will be the bridesmaid and Harry Perryer will be the best man. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Thomas Park, D. D., pastor of the Fourth United Presbyterian church, Allegheny.

Annual Ride on the River.

The young people of the Emmanuel Episcopal church, Allegheny, will hold their annual boat ride on the steamer Annie Roberts Thursday evening, June 25, from 8 until 11:30 o'clock. The music will be rendered by the Gounod orchestra. All members and their friends are cordially invited, and the committee in charge promises a good time. The boat will leave the foot of Market street, Pittsburgh, at 8 o'clock.

Are Home Again.

Mr. and Mrs. David King Irwin are home from their wedding trip. Theirs was one of the early June weddings, taking place in the Shadyside Presbyterian church. They are now staying with Mrs. Irwin's father, Ralph Baggaley, at his home in Fifth avenue, East End. Mrs. Irwin was formerly Miss Mary Baggaley.

In Honor of Two Brides.

Miss McKeown of Baum street entertained yesterday afternoon at a tea in honor of two brides, Mrs. J. Vincent Maher and Mrs. John Austin Burns. The reception hours were from 2 o'clock until 4 and from 4 until 6. Assisting the hostess and her guests in receiving were Mrs. W. J. Burns, Mrs. M. A. Kuhn, Mrs. D. H. Barr and Mrs. M. F. Maloney, all of them sisters of the brides, and Miss Barnes, Miss Lauinger, Miss Riley, Miss Barr and Miss Camilla Frauenheim. The house was tastefully decorated with ferns, vines and flowers. Refreshments were served on the canvas enclosed porches. A dinner followed the reception and in the evening a card party was given for a few intimate friends.

Wedding Near Latrobe.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Witt of Beatty have issued invitations for the wedding of their daughter, Miss Carolyn E. Witt, and Thomas W. Johnston of Pittsburgh, at their home, tomorrow at 8 o'clock. William E. Ostermaier of Pittsburgh will be the best man and Miss Kathryn Bullen of Philadelphia maid of honor.

Euchre in Sewickley.

The Monday Evening Euchre club of Sewickley was pleasantly entertained by one of its members, Mrs. Edward O'Neil, at her home in Beaver street yesterday afternoon.

A Clergyman Will Wed.

Invitations are out for the marriage of the Rev. J. A. McDonald, pastor of the United Presbyterian church of Elwood City, and Miss Hannah Elder Peebles of Harrisburg, to occur tomorrow at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. Mr. McDonald and bride will spend the coming six weeks in New England, after which they will take in Crescent avenue, Ellwood City.

Seeks a Bride in Pittsburgh.

Announcement is made of the approaching marriage of Clair L. Carson of New Castle and Miss Lillian Adelaide Snow of Pittsburgh. The wedding will be held Wednesday, July 1, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. F. J. McAdam of Liberty street, a sister of the bride. The Rev. R. L. McKee, pastor of the Bloomfield Park Methodist church of Pittsburgh, will officiate at 8 p. m. The bride will be attended by Miss Ella Markley of Pittsburgh and the best man will be Blaine Snow, a brother of the bride. The bridegroom is a young business man of New Castle. Mr. and Mrs. Carson will be at home in East Home street, after August 1.

DEAF AND DUMB GRADUATES.

Interesting Exercises Will Take Place at Edgewood Tomorrow Afternoon.

The closing exercises of the Western Pennsylvania Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, at Edgewood, will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. This will be the first time public exercises of this character have been held since 1898, when fire destroyed the institution. The new buildings, recently dedicated, are larger than the ones destroyed, the seating capacity of the chapel has been considerably increased and visitors in large numbers can be entertained.

The graduates this year are Edna E. Giant of East Pittsburgh, Anna Lhota of Allegheny, William T. Lamb, Raccoon, Washington county; James N. Efford, Braddock; George W. Bloedel, Allegheny and Thomas Sarver, East Pittsburgh. One of the number, James N. Friend, has successfully passed an examination which will admit him to Gallaudet college of Washington, D. C., and he will begin his studies there in September.

The Wilkinsburg and East Pittsburgh cars pass the grounds. The Hamilton, Frankstown and Liberty avenue cars run within a short distance of the school. The Edgewood station of the Pennsylvania railroad is only a block away.

Homeville Wants to Be a Borough.

Citizens of Homeville, Mifflin township, have taken up a movement to form a borough, and a public meeting has been called to consider it. The high taxes charged in the township, and lack of improvements, is given as the cause for the movement. Citizens of Whitaker, adjoining Homeville, have a petition in court praying that a borough be formed from that community.

Youngest Postmaster Shot.

Peyton H. Nicely, postmaster at Otto, near McKeesport, is suffering from a dangerous pistol wound in his left hand, which he inflicted while attempting to repair the weapon. Nicely was recently appointed postmaster and is said to be the youngest official in the United States, having just passed his 21st birthday.

THE New Era club has $400 in its treasury as the result of its recent garden party in the Liberty school grounds. A meeting of the club was held yesterday afternoon at which reports of the different committees in charge of the entertainment were made. The appropriations to the various lines of civic work in which the members are interested were also made.

A club house of its own is a project which the New Era club has decided to take up. It already has a small fund for this purpose. The club has a membership of 125 and its annual dues are $3. At present its object is merely to provide a home for itself, where its members can gather at any time. For the last two years the club has been renting the assembly room of the Central Young Women's Christian association, and before that rented private rooms in the Hotel Lincoln.

At the meeting yesterday the club appropriated $100 for the juvenile court work in which one of its members, Mrs. E. E. Crocker, is prominent; $50 for the tenement house committee, of which the president, Mrs. Franklin P. Iams, is chairman; $10 for the streets and sewerage committee, in which Mrs. William D. Grimes and Mrs. Robert Coard are interested; $25 for the Consumers' League, in which Mrs. W. J. Askins is actively engaged; $10 for the smoke abatement committee, with Miss Suzanne Beatty, chairman; $25 for the public baths committee, of which Mrs. DeNoon is a member; $10 for the traveling library committee, in which several of its members are interested, and $50 for the summer playgrounds and summer vacation schools which enlist the interest of a large number of the members. The club previously contributed $50 to the summer playgrounds and vacations, the appropriation made yesterday raising the New Era club's donation to $100 for that work.

Visiting the Tenements.

A committee of prominent workers in the public baths committees of the permanent civic committee of Women's clubs yesterday afternoon visited the Thaw bathhouse at Penn avenue and Sixteenth street. After thoroughly inspecting the place with a view to drawing up of plans for public bath houses in other parts of the city, a plan which will be placed before the public, the women started on a tour of investigation in the Penn avenue tenement house district. They climbed rickety stairways, walked along dark and dingy halls and saw the homes of scores of poor families, many of them foreigners, who are crowded into close quarters. Almost daily trips will be made by the women into the tenement house sections of the city in order to acquaint themselves with the actual facts regarding the needs of the poor. Water in the houses is the first and most apparent need.

Cleared $1,200 at Garden Party.

The United Presbyterian women are proud of the fact that they cleared $1,200 at the recent garden party they gave at the United Presbyterian Home for the Aged in Penn avenue, Wilkinsburg. The entertainment was conducted on Thursday of last week and pain fed just after supper time. The money will be used for the support of the three institutions conducted by the United Presbyterian Women's Association, the Orphans' home, the Memorial hospital and the Home for Aged.

Wimodausis Club Outing.

The outing of the Wimodausis club will be held this afternoon and evening in Kennywood park. During the afternoon there will be supper in the pavilion and a number of boat-loads of picnic parties have been booked. The dancing pavilion has been reserved for the exclusive use of the club and its friends in the evening.

BIG EUROPEAN PARTY.

Pittsburghers Leave Today for a Three Months' Excursion Across the Sea.

A party including over two-score of Pittsburghers will leave this morning for a three months' tour of Europe. It is the largest transatlantic excursion that has left Western Pennsylvania since the embarkation of the school teachers last summer for a visit of the British Isles and the continent as the guests of the Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph. The tour will be personally conducted under the direction of the steamship agency of J. J. McCormick.

The tourists will leave in special parlor cars on the New York limited on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, at 8 o'clock this morning, and will board the North German Lloyd steamer, Neckar, which sails from Baltimore tomorrow. Reaching Bremen the party, under its conductor, Dr. John B. Kelso of Leipsic, Germany, will visit Berlin, Potsdam, Vienna, Munich, Lucerne, the Alps, the Rhine country, Paris, London and Edinburgh, and return from Glasgow on the steamer Columbia, early in September. The following Pittsburghers will join the party: Mrs. Minnie Loech, Miss E. Caruthers, Miss M. McLaren, Mrs. J. A. Dale, Miss A. Logan, Miss H. Logan, Miss E. Maxwell, Miss E. Herriot, Miss Harriet Fast, Mrs. M. S. Murray, Mrs. M. Fisher, Miss Mary Lee Murray, Miss L. Evans, the Misses Adair, Miss Mary Potter, Miss Mary Holmes Morgan, Miss Ana Hissem, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wood, Miss McBride, Miss A. Davis, Miss E. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Wagener, Miss Effie Rice, the Misses Niles, Miss Mabel Pearce, Miss Ida Crown, Mrs. A. Fleming, Miss Mary Corey, Dr. Anna Johnston, Miss Carrie Hissick, Mrs. Anna Mount, Mrs. Sarah C. Parke, Dr. W. A. Fleck, M. A. Arnold, M. S. Pearce, H. and F. M. Caughey, William S. Davies.

Verdict Favors the Maccabees.

PORT HURON, MICH., June 22.—The supreme tent of the Knights of the Maccabees was today given a verdict for $50,000 and interest against the Port Huron Savings bank. The court held that Charles B. Thompson, former finance keeper of the order, who had admitted embezzling $50,000 of Maccabee money, used the Maccabee funds to pay his shortage at the bank, where he was assistant cashier.

CLASS DAY EXERCISES FOR THE RED AND BLACK

Yesterday Was an Important One for Graduating Students at Washington and Jefferson College. Class '03 Gives Banquet.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., June 22.—The class-day exercises of the graduating class at Washington and Jefferson college proved by far the most interesting of the second day of the commencement week. In the presence of nearly 2,000 people the spoon was handed from the outgoing class to a representative of the present junior class with ceremony and pomp. The spoon orator was John T. Seaman of Washington.

The spoon is made of decorated pewter, about three feet in length and has been handed down from one class to the other for many years. The origin of the spoon is not exactly known, but the presentation of the spoon is one of the unique customs of commencement week and a highly interesting one. David Stonecipher of Clinton, Pa., president of the present junior class, received the spoon for his class and promised faithfully to preserve the old relic which will be kept in the college trophy room until next commencement day, when it will again be brought forth and presented to another class.

The class day exercises were held this afternoon at 1:30 in the college gymnasium. The exercises lasted about two hours and were interesting throughout. The entire class, attired in the senior caps and gowns, occupied the stage, with the performers to the front. Edwin F. Kline of Wheeling, W. Va., was master of ceremonies and introduced the performers of the afternoon. The members of the class who took part in the class day program were: Orator, Rufus S. Marriner, Belmont, N. Y.; prophet, Oliver P. Brown, New Castle; historian, William B. Stevenson, Oakdale; poet, Margrave B. Colebery, Avalon; spoon orator, John T. Seaman, Washington; knocker, William E. Walsh, Allegheny; donor, William W. McAdams, Mt. Pleasant, and artist, MacLean Libbey, Pittsburgh.

Not an unpleasant feature occurred to mar the class day exercises, which were the best in years. The program today was an extensive one. Tonight at 9 o'clock the Rev. James D. Moffatt, president of Washington and Jefferson, gave his annual reception to the graduates and their friends in the main college building and the gymnasium. The reception lasted for about an hour and was followed by an informal dance by the college men. Not the least interesting feature of the day to the members of the class of 1903 was the annual banquet held tonight at 12 o'clock at the Siegel hotel on Main street. It had been originally intended to hold the class banquet last Friday night at the Hotel Henry, Pittsburg, but for various reasons it was postponed until tonight and held in Washington. At this banquet Earle Vance Branded of Wheeling, W. Va., president of the class, acted as toastmaster, and these toasts were responded to: "1903," Wilbert Honer Rankin, Indiana; "Faculty," John Taylor Seaman, Washington; "The 'Sem'," Oliver Lee Goldthorpe, Wilkinsburg; "Fond Recollections," Lawrence Robinson Stewart, Washington; "Senior Serenade," Pearson Beechel Kiger, Course Landing, N. J.; "Das Zimmer," John Edwin Park Chess, Greentree; "Unsophisticated Psycloses at Buena Vista," Ed. Forrest Blayney, West Alexander; "Pipe Dreams," George Stewart Garner, Shirleysburg; "Our Girls," Ralph Salem Heilman, Sharon; "Our Future," George Seymour Dible, Murraysville; "Class Poem," Hargrave F. Colebery, Avalon. The banquet committee comprised of Harry Bixler, Kittanning; Joseph F. Pauli, Jr., Wheeling, W. Va., and Alvin D. Stitt, Jamestown, N. Y.

The seventh junior oratorical contest was held in the college gymnasium tonight as a portion of the commencement exercises. There were five contestants. First prize was won by James Roy Dickey of Pittsburgh. His subject was, "A Conquering Nation." Second prize was won by Homer Proctor of Washington, his subject being "The Love of Destination." The other three contestants and their subjects were: James S. Ferris of Houston, "Our Country's Flag;" Elder W. Marshall of Wilkinsburg, "The Municipal Problem;" and Charles A. Tultt of Uniontown, "The Yankee of the East." John Fielding of Allegheny, who was scheduled to appear, was kept away by illness.

CHAUTAUQUA, PA., June 22.—(Special.)—The Tubbs Business college of Chautauqua closes this week with commencement exercises on Thursday night. The largest class in the history of the college will be graduated. The following will receive diplomas: F. Eugenia Bonnell, Samuel Ferguson, Jr., Irene West Moffitt, Nellie M. Reams, Mary M. Mangan, Walter Elliott, Harry Assenmit, Theodore Jones, Ann M. Bastow, Robert J. Coulter, Alta B. Riggs, Dewitt C. Buckhodt, Sue A. Beazell, Jeannette L. Snyder, Earl Nelan, Grace Reedar, Lena Goodall, Bertha Alton, Mollie Williams, Eva Murray, Harry S. Whetzel, Bessie J. Wilson, Sara Greer, Mary McCallum, Maggie Lowstutter, Charles Fulton, Frances Eistenfelder, Portia Lee, Grace Raines, Bessie Williams, Effie L. Moss, Ella Boyd, Mary Springer, Cora M. Kline, Rhoda Armstrong, Cora Worrell, Blanch L. Llewlyn, Mattie John, Mary Ruppert, Bessie Bryan, Jeanne M. Rusk, John Bastow, Malvia Sibbit, Agnes Campbell, Lettie Raines, Bessie Patterson, Bessie Smock, Mae Beam, Lucretia G. Nutt, Anna Pickering, Elizabeth M. Elwood.

LEWISBURG, PA., June 22.—(Special.)—The exercises of the fifty-third commencement of Bucknell university were continued today. After the commencement meeting of the faculty of the college of liberal arts, it was announced that there will be a scholarship society. With next year will begin a system of honor divisions in each class in the college. A place in the honor division will depend on two conditions. First, the student must be in full standing, having all his preparatory work and all the work of the preceding year made up. Second, he must in the preceding year have made a standing of not less than 94, exclusive of honors.

The anniversary of literary societies took place this evening. The societies with their alumni met in their respective halls and marched to Commencement hall. The orator of the occasion was Merrit Edwards Cate, L.L.D., of Washington. President Gates' topic was "Patriotism Under the Conditions of Our National Life." There was a very large attendance at the annual reunion of the literature alumni today. During the reunion it was announced that the Philadelphia club has established a $1,000 scholarship.

Witness for One Wife Said Husband Had Offered Her for Sale.

TONY GREGG MURDER CASE

Italian Accused of Killing Fellow Countryman in Wilson Street Agnes Breitenstein Leaves Property to Charity—Father Sues Son.

Divorce cases were disposed of yesterday in common pleas court No. 2 by Judges R. S. Frazer and J. W. Shafer, with great rapidity.

Katherine Todd accused her husband, Edward Todd, of desertion and claimed he tore up her wearing apparel. The husband told a story about a man named Robinson, who, he said, was found by him in his house late one night. At the meeting Todd said his wife remarked: "I think more of him than I do of you. I only married you for a living."

In the case of Clara Delanbach against John Delanbach, it was testified, the latter said he liked a girl named "May" better than he did his wife.

Elizabeth Larson accused Frank P. Larson of abusing her by pulling her hair, striking her with a clothes brush and calling her vile names.

Arthur Martin alleged that his wife, Lizzie Martin, had a violent temper and had frequently struck him. Annie Fahrion said Henry Fahrion, her husband, deserted her the day after they were married.

In the case of Philip Fatsch against Esther Fatsch, it was shown that they were married 31 years ago and that they have nine children. The libellant said that eight years ago he learned that his wife had been previously married and had not obtained a divorce.

"Well, the testimony will have to be very strong," said Judge Frazer, "before we will grant a divorce to parties who have lived together 30 years."

Another case was that of Anna F. Panek against Guido E. Panek. They were married February 21, 1889, and the libellant alleges her husband left her on May 30, 1896, and later married Anna Millstein. William Oxley testified that he knew Panek and his second wife, and later took a room at the house of the libellant, but he did not know she was Panek's first wife. The witness was shown a photograph of the respondent and he identified it as that of the Panek he had known.

In the case of Rosa Schmidt against Steven Schmidt, it was testified that the latter deserted his wife and went back to Hungary six years later. George Pongras, a witness, who is also seeking a divorce from his wife, testified that he met Schmidt in Hungary and that he offered to sell the witness his wife in this country.

Desertion was the principal charge in the other cases.

Tony Greggon Trial for Murder.

In criminal court, before Judge James R. Macfarlane, Tony Gregg, an Italian, was on trial on a charge of murdering Nicholas Francone, who was shot and killed at Wilson and Townsend streets, May 6, last. The commonwealth's witnesses testified that the two men had been together during the evening. They were overheard quarreling in their native tongue opposite a Wylie avenue saloon, about 9:30 in the evening, and Francone was later found dying.

Estates Disposed Of.

The will of Agnes Breitenstein, late of Emsworth, leaves part of her estate to charitable institutions. Franklin Martin is bequeathed $100, a sister of the decedent, Mrs. Matilda Jackel $1,500. Mrs. Louisa Flack is left property at Emsworth and the residue of a $6,300 estate is to be divided as follows: Institution of Protestant Deaconnesses, two parts; Passavant hospital, one part; Orphans' Home and Farm school, Zelienople, one part; Passavant Memorial home, one part.

The will of Albert Trug, "bachelor," late of Allegheny, was filed. He bequeathed the use of his entire estate to Mrs. Johanna Ulmer, and when her children arrive at the age of 21 years, they are to have it absolutely.

George Wittmer filed a bill in equity against his son, George Wittmer, Jr., in which the court is asked to restrain the latter from interfering with his father's possession of property in Reserve township.

MATTERN CAN TAKE CHARGE.

Writ of Ouster Against S. P. Connor Was Issued Yesterday.

A writ of ouster, in accordance with the opinion of Judge John D. Shafer, handed down last week, was issued yesterday in the case of Robert G. Mattern against Samuel P. Connor.

Mattern now has the authority to take charge of the office of county delinquent tax collector at once, unless the decision of the lower court should be set aside by the supreme court. No appeal has yet been taken.

TO A LAWYER'S MEMORY.

Members of Bench and Bar Act on the Death of George Elphinstone.

A special meeting of the Allegheny County Bar association was held yesterday afternoon to take action on the death of George Elphinstone, a well-known attorney. Several made eulogistic addresses and a resolution to the memory of Mr. Elphinstone was adopted. The officers of the meeting were: President, Judge F. H. Collier, vice presidents, Judges Elliott Rodgers, J. D. Shafer, R. S. Frazer, J. R. Macfarlane, Marshall Brown, S. A. McClung, J. A. Evans, J. M. Kennedy, J. J. Miller and J. W. Over; secretaries, W. H. McGarry, D. W. Miller, Leander Trautman, committee on resolutions, R. B. Petty, Clarence Burleigh, John C. Haymaker, C. C. Dickey, W. A. Blakeley.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

Alexander Calhoun, late of Lincoln township, bequeathed an estate worth $20,335 to his widow and children.

A decree in divorce was granted in the case of Margaret A. Greatrake against Henry J. Greatrake, on the ground of desertion.

Thomas Bunner took out letters of administration on the estate of James G. Bunner. Attorney John M. Morrison has charge of the estate.

Letters of administration were taken out by Herman M. Rebele on the estate of Elsie Koenig. Attorney A. H. Moeser represents the administrator.

James Donahue, George Cates and James L. Kidd in criminal court, pleaded no defense to charges of robbing Andrew Gill in Allegheny and were each sentenced to the workhouse for 30 days.

Mary J. Platt sued Daub Bros. for the death of Harry Platt, who died as the result, it is stated, of falling down the elevator shaft at the defendant's place of business. The plaintiff asks for $25,000 damages.

The Dilworth Coal Company yesterday entered four suits in admiralty against the following named boats to recover amounts alleged to be due for coal: Gertrude, $77 50; Gold, $159 60; Florence Belle, $90 31; Elizabeth, $675 52.

Robert Warwick of McKeesport entered suit against the Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Connellsville Railway Company for $10,000 for the death of his daughter, Grace, who was struck by a car in Versailles avenue, McKeesport, April 7, 1902.

An answer was filed in the case of the Henry J. Vogt Machine Company against the Duquesne Ice Company to recover about $62,000, alleged balance due on ice machinery. The defendant claims the machinery was improperly constructed and therefore asks for a setoff of $48,161 95.

A hearing was held in the habeas corpus proceedings in the case of John Flaherty from the workhouse. Flaherty was arrested in the downtown section by two detectives and sent to the workhouse for 90 days by Magistrate P. D. Stewart. The court reduced the sentence to 60 days.

The orphans court handed down a decree of distribution in the matter of the estate of Edith P. Biddle, who is supposed to have committed suicide at No. 100 Second avenue, March 8, 1902, disallowing the claim of J. C. Bentley as her husband and only heir. He claimed to have married her. The Fidelity Title & Trust Company is administrator of the estate and is directed to distribute the balance of $1,326 69 to her children.

Loading to Full Capacity Saved Money for One Railroad Here

How important the practice of loading freight cars to their full capacity has become in these latter days when every point on a large system means large results in the earnings of the whole, is shown by a report which has just been issued by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. The loading of cars to their full capacity is a practice which the present management of the Baltimore & Ohio has insisted upon, following it up by the closest records of the car capacity and car loads. The result have shown an increased earning of thousands of dollars, or far beyond the cost of seeing that the rule was obeyed.

This has been made doubly necessary in the past year by the surprisingly large increase in the cost of all that a railroad buys, especially the cost of labor. The liberal wage advances granted about the first of this year is the largest item in this increase, but at the same time the cost of many other supplies has gone upwards to a point never reached before.

The report of the Baltimore & Ohio deals particularly with coke and soft coal shipments from the Pittsburgh district.

In April, 1903, there were loaded on the system, exclusive of the business of the Ohio Southwestern, 372,150 tons of coke into 15,562 cars. At the rate of loading obtained in April, 1902, this tonnage would have required 16,526 cars, so that there was a saving in the use and movement of 964 cars in April, 1903 over April, 1902, due to better average loading per car.

There were on the same portion of the system 1,416,207 tons of soft coal loaded into 40,868 cars in April, 1903. At the April, 1902, rate of loading, this tonnage would have required 44,680 cars, so that there was a saving in the use and movement of 3,881 cars in April, 1903, over April, 1902, due to better average loading per car.

The total saving in the use and movement of coke and coal cars due to this cause, was for the month 4,845 cars, and for the 10 months, to April 30, 1903, 42,659 cars, over the corresponding period of the last fiscal year. It may be well to add that the weights herein mentioned cover commercial shipments only. The company's fuel is not represented in them.

NET EARNINGS HIGHER.

May Report of Panhandle Shows Recovery from the Slump.

Like the April report, the May report of the earnings of the Panhandle, or Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis railroad, shows an increase in net income over April of the preceding month, and the months of regular decreases in net income this report causes much rejoicing among both the officials of the railroads and the owners of the stock. The two months have not yet made such increase as to overcome the total decrease in net for the year to date, but if the record of April and May is maintained it is likely that the end of the year will show in net, as well as in gross income, a handsome advance over the report for 1902. The report of the increases follows:

	May.	Year to May 31.
Gross earnings	$142,257	$736,020
Operating expenses	128,010	847,308
Net earnings	13,347	191,348 Dec.

Pennsy Meets Low Boston Rate.

It is officially announced that the Pennsylvania railroad will meet the $13 Boston rate of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie in the latter's petition for the passenger business to Boston for the convention of Christian Scientists assembling there this week. The announcement is of particular interest as showing the position of the low Boston rate. The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie is offering the trip via Niagara Falls as its special inducement, and the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh, from New York the Pennsylvania offers an option on either the all rail rate or the Sound steamer rate.

Faster Conneaut Time Feasible.

The Bessemer & Lake Erie officials, who are interested in the inauguration of faster time for the Bessemer express, for the week end excursions to Conneaut lake, are much pleased with the record express from the Baltimore & Ohio's Allegheny station to Conneaut lake was made in only three minutes more than the schedule time. This schedule time is half an hour shorter than any other schedule that has been tried heretofore, and the records of the first trip are taken to show that the faster time is entirely feasible.

Railroad Notes.

W. T. Lechliter, chief clerk to the general superintendent of the Baltimore & Ohio, returned to his desk yesterday after a few weeks' absence caused by bad health.

The completion of the work of connecting the two ends of the north bank of the Wabash tunnel through Mt. Washington was accomplished Sunday morning. There was no celebration over the event.

R. D. Smith, assistant general passenger agent of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, went to Somerset yesterday to make arrangements for transporting the troops of the second brigade to the annual encampment, which is to be held there this year.

Secretary C. W. Woolford of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad spent yesterday here on official business. The details of the new work have required attention of an executive character, and Mr. Woolford represents that department of the railroad in its dealings with the many subsidiary companies in the system.

The Panhandle expects to be able to restore to service across the Monongahela river the heavier passenger equipment within a couple of weeks. The repairs on the bridge have reached such a stage as to make safe this operation. For some time the heavy engines have been replaced by lighter ones at the Point station.

In a special train, over the Bessemer & Lake Erie, there will leave this morning the largest delegation of the summer from the Turtle creek valley. The excursionists are members of the Braddock Fraternal Societies association, and their destination is Conneaut lake. Heptasophs, Knights of Malta, Ben Hurs, Woodmen of the World, Royal Arcanum members and Maccabees comprise the party.

The Baltimore & Ohio run three trains today to Olympia park, carrying 2,000 people, pupils of the Fourth ward public school, with their parents and friends, their annual picnic. On Thursday, June 25, the same line will convey the children of the First ward school to Olympia park in two special trains. G. A. Orr, traveling passenger agent of the railroad, says that the number of excursions this year promises to exceed that of any previous year.

DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Flint Glass Workers' Factory at Summitville, Ind., Burned Yesterday.

The glass factory at Summitville, Ind., owned and operated by the American Flint Glass Workers' union, was destroyed by fire early yesterday morning. The loss is estimated at $20,000. John F. Tobin, general superintendent, left Summitville Sunday night for Pittsburgh with the books which are to be audited at the office here. How the fire started is not known.

When the factory was built it was not for the purpose of making money, but to furnish employment for idle members and to compete with non-union flask factories in the west. Last year the factory was idle, but was started this year on flint bottles. About 125 men were employed, 48 of whom were skilled blowers.

Highwayman Made Confession.

James Butler, a negro, was arrested yesterday on a charge of highway robbery, by Special Officer James Conners and Inspector P. F. Kelly of the South Side, and after being identified by his victim, confessed and gave the police the name of his accomplice. The robbery took place Saturday night in the rear of the old Chessham glass factory. William Kostus was kicked and beaten by two men and then robbed of $3.

WE NEED MORE MONEY.

But we don't propose to put our company in the hands of capitalists, as we have gone into the coal business to stay and want no "one man" power.

Profits are large and future bright, and if you have from $100 to $10,000 to invest near home in a mine now paying 15 per cent or more, we can use it to good advantage to install machinery to increase to 1,000 tons with larger margin of profit.

1,458 acres four seams, 60 miles from Pittsburgh, on direct line to lakes, 1½ miles railroad frontage.

Can demonstrate in half day's time—if you know anything about coal—by showing the property, that we have a gilt-edgedly profitable and safe investment to offer for a limited time. For further information inquire of

STOCK MARKETS WERE STAGNANT

One of the Dullest Days of the Year in Wall Street and Pittsburgh—Gold Exports Were Resumed.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

Yesterday was one of the dullest days of the year, the sales on the New York board reaching only 327,000 shares, of which about 200,000 shares were handled during the first two hours. The tone of the markets were heavy. London quotations for American securities were again lower, and foreigners were sellers on balance, although their operations were not large. Initial transactions did not show much change from Saturday's closing bids, but after the opening they began to sag, and a little later, when announcement was made of the engagement of gold for shipment to Europe by today's steamer, the heaviness became more pronounced, and the declines averaged ½ to 1 per cent. Colorado Fuel and Iron was the weakest of the industrials, selling off to 60, a decline of 2½ per cent, but later when the meeting of the directors which was scheduled for yesterday was postponed, the stock recovered its loss. Tennessee Coal and Iron declined from 50 to 48¾, but recovered to 49. United States Steel common rallied to 30¼ in the early dealings, but later sold off to 29½. The preferred declined from 79¼ to 79¼ and closed near the bottom. The weakest of the miscellaneous list was Brooklyn Rapid Transit, which sold off from 57 to 54⅞, and recovered to 55¼. The weakness was based upon reports that the annual statement would make an unsatisfactory showing. Amalgamated Copper was affected by the decline in the metal, and sold off from 54⅛ to 53, closing at the lowest. As a rule the losses in the railroad list were confined to fractions. Pennsylvania, St. Paul and Atchison lost a little more than a point, but Union Pacific, Baltimore & Ohio and the low-priced issues declined only fractionally. Closing prices were generally at the lowest of the day.

⊙ ⊙ ⊙

When the stagnation in business and the incidents of the day are taken into consideration, there is some encouragement in the comparative steadiness in values. There was much disappointment over the bank statement, the effects of which should have appeared in the market yesterday, if the country were disposed to take an unfavorable view of the monetary situation. But the general public did not sell, there was no resumption of liquidation, and there was no change in the easy rates for call money, which ruled at 2 to 2½ per cent. The total amount of gold taken for export reached $2,750,000, but this had no influence upon money rates, and the event was not seized upon by the bears to depress values. The weakness in International Mercantile Marine on the curb, the common stock selling down to 5 and the preferred being nominally quoted at 20 bid, 25 asked, was based upon the announcement that the Cunard line had withdrawn from the North Atlantic passenger agreement. If the bear party had felt as vigorous as it did two weeks ago this incident would have been seized upon as the pretext for a raid, but it was allowed to pass unnoticed. The firmer tendency of the grain markets, and the selling of stocks by western operators, which was the feature of the closing half hour, did not attract any following from the shorts. Late in the afternoon a rumor gained currency to the effect that Mr. Schwab's resignation as president of the United States Steel Corporation would be handed in today, but the rumor excited little interest. It was argued that if such a step were contemplated it would probably be deferred until the return of J. P. Morgan, who is scheduled to arrive in New York tomorrow. The hearing in the application for a receiver for the United States Shipbuilding Company was held in Trenton yesterday, but it attracted only passing interest. In fact, the stock market was becalmed, and the only conclusion that seemed to be justified by the course of events was that the forced liquidation had been completed, otherwise an effort would have been made to again start the unloading process. In the opinion of experienced operators, yesterday's market is only a sample of many that are to follow, until the outlook for labor and the crops becomes clearer.

⊙ ⊙ ⊙

The dealings on the Pittsburgh board felt a little short of 3,300 shares. No single stock furnished as much as 500 shares to the total. The nearest approach to this was Pittsburgh Coal preferred, 479 shares changing hands at 86½ to 86, the stock closing at 85¾ bid. The common sold at the uniform price of 27 and closed at that bid. River Coal was unchanged at 10½ for the common and 40½ for the preferred. Harbison-Walker was weak and lower, the common being offered at 10 and the preferred selling down to 67½, a net decline of 82 a share. Just before the close of the market National Fire Proofing preferred advanced a dollar a share to 37, no cause being assigned for the rather sudden movement. The steel stocks were dull and nominally unchanged. Only 60 shares Crucible common and 10 shares of the preferred changed hands all day. United States Steel common, after selling at 30, declined to 29⅝, and the preferred declined from 79⅞ to 79½, closing at 79¾ bid. Consolidated Gas preferred sold at 43, a decline of a dollar a share from the last previous sale. There were no transactions in Westinghouse Electric and the stock was quoted at 94½ bid, 95¼ asked, ex-dividend. Airbrake sold at 156, an advance of a point, and a small lot of Union Switch and Signal sold at 82, an advance of ¾. The rights on 100 shares of the latter sold at 2½, the first transaction made in them. Window Glass preferred sold at 80, a slight decline, and closed at that price bid. Natural gas stocks were dull, Manufacturers advancing to 30¼ and Ohio Fuel Supply declining to 42¾. Philadelphia Company was quoted at 41⅜@ 41¾, and the preferred was offered at 47½. Changes in the remainder of the industrial list were unimportant.

⊙ ⊙ ⊙

There was a similar degree of stagnation in the bank and trust company group and with one exception prices were lower. Dollar Savings Fund and Trust advanced to 290 and closed at that price bid, Federal National Bank and Home Trust each declined 2 per cent, and North American Savings was a point lower at 150. There was one small transaction in American Trust at 500, and the stock closed offered at 500. Colonial Trust was offered at 595 and closed without sale or bid. Farmers Deposit National Bank was offered at 1,750 and closed without bid or sale. The tone of the general market at the close was barely steady.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The best proof of the dullness of the market was the fact that not a single transaction occurred in Westinghouse Electric. The stock was quoted ex-divident at 94½ bid, 95¼ asked. A broker, commenting upon the dullness, ascribed it mainly to the scarcity of loanable funds. The public is favorably disposed toward the stock, but brokers do not care to increase the amount they are carrying on margin, for the reason that they cannot borrow money under 6 per cent, and, inasmuch as they charge customers more than that rate, there is no profit in the transaction. Some of the best houses are recommending Electric as an investment for a long pull, but are not at the moment encouraging speculative purchases.

Holders of Union Switch & Signal yesterday received official notice of the allotment of subscriptions for the new stock at $70 a share. Each holder is entitled to subscribe at that price for one-third the amount of his holdings of old stock on or before July 10, the privilege to go to stock of record June 30. Payment is to be made in three installments, $30 with the application, $20 on or before August 15 and $20 on or before September 15. There was a sale yesterday of the rights at 2½, which would represent 7½ for the new stock.

The rights on Pennsylvania Railroad stock expire next Saturday, when the first installment of $30 a share is payable on subscriptions. The street feels considerable interest in the course of the market for the stock after that date. Except on the 9th and 10th inst., there has been no indication that the syndicate was supporting the stock, and there will be no particular necessity for support next week, because the company will have received the first payment on the new stock. If the syndicate has been compelled to take any considerable proportion of the new stock, it would not be unreasonable to look for some manipulation directed toward advancing the market price, for the purpose of disposing of the surplus thus acquired. This manipulation would be aided by the report of earnings for May, which should be due about next Monday, and which, it is predicted, will show a large increase in net earnings.

There was no sign on the local board yesterday that insiders felt called upon to support the prices of Colonial Trust in the market. At the opening several brokers offered the stock at 590 and later at 595, but there were no bids all day. Stockholders are beginning to manifest some impatience over the delay in announcing the exact terms on which Colonial will participate in the deal. The special meetings of stockholders of the American and Pennsylvania Trust companies will not be held until next week, so no action can be taken in some quarters it is thought that announcement of the details of the larger deal is being deferred until after these meetings. A considerable amount of Colonial Trust is believed to be carried on margin, the buying being based upon tips credited to insiders some months ago that the stock will eventually have a market value of $1,000. Brokers have been demanding liberal margins on this stock. American Trust, but the declines of the past week or ten days in both stocks have rendered necessary calls for additional margins. Some traders are of the opinion yesterday that if support were not forthcoming in Colonial, stop-loss orders might be caught that would temporarily, at least, cause lower prices.

The Real Estate Trust Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent, payable July 1 to stock of record June 30.

The regular monthly dividend of 1½ per cent on Philadelphia Company common is payable August 1 to stock of record July 1. The 2½ per cent semi-annual on the preferred is payable July 20 to stock of record July 10.

The Iron City Trust Company has notified stockholders that by a unanimous vote of the directors it has been decided to eliminate from the capital assets of the company the value of the Union Realty Company, which sells retaining ownership of the entire capital stock consisting of 2,000 shares of the par value of $250,000. This action is taken in order that all assets of the company should have a cash value and not alone earning power. The earnings of the Union Realty Company for the past four months exceeded 6 per cent, and it will continue valuable as a contributor to the profits of the company. The policy announced by the board in this matter is highly commended by stockholders and financiers generally. The Iron City Trust has a paid-up capital of $2,000,000. Its surplus now stands at $500,000 and its undivided profits at about $90,000.

American Window Glass Machine preferred stock was offered on the exchange at 70. American Window Glass preferred sold at 80.

Iron City Trust was offered at 156 at the close. Safe Deposit was offered at 470, and Fidelity Title & Trust at 498.

Westinghouse Airbrake advanced a dollar a share to 156 on sales of 85 shares. At this price it pays about 7.68 per cent.

A small lot of Third National Bank sold at 180, which was unchanged from the last previous sale.

New York traction stocks were quite weak yesterday, and Metropolitan Securities established a new low point.

All of the industrial stocks appear to have suffered more or less from the news that a receivership had been asked for the United States Iron Pipe & Foundry Company. This coming after the revelations concerning the United States Ship Building Company created an unsettled feeling about all such properties.

According to Philadelphia advices, $11,000,000 has already been paid on account of subscriptions to Pennsylvania railroad stock.

The Pittsburgh Organ & Piano Company has declared a semi-annual dividend of 6 per cent, payable July 20 to stock of record July 6.

ARRIVALS.

Kanawha, Rice, Charleston.
Dan Rice, Rice, Parkersburg.
Jno. Hay, Hays, Parkersburg.
Edgar Cherry, Cherry, Brownsville.

DEPARTURES.

Columbia, Abrams, Morgantown.
Dan Rice, Rice, Parkersburg.
Edgar Cherry, Cherry, Brownsville.

The local inspectors reported the Ed. Davidson, in the Allegheny river, yesterday.

The local Marine Engineers Benevolent association held their annual outing at Olympia park yesterday.

The tug Scranton is having new cylinders built to fit the Ohio's United Wharf at Clinton-ham. It is expected that her power will be increased.

The new Columbia made another fast run from Wheeling. She came from Moundsville, a distance of 60 miles, to the Pittsburgh wharf in 13½ hours.

John L. Vance, president of the Ohio River Improvement association, will hold a series of meetings at the principal towns along the Ohio river, beginning at Wheeling.

The Bagnell packet officers and their families were out yesterday on the Phoenix J. Torrance. The weather could not have been more inviting, and the event was pronounced by all participating a most delightful one.

The wheelboat at Wheeling, owned by the Cracklen & Boots Company, sank Sunday. A diver was put to work on it yesterday, and it will be raised. Heavy loads of freight caused it to sink.

Fred East, superintendent of the Dam No. 4 and dam, has presented to Harbor Master Hill a blue print containing many useful facts about the distance and height of water at the various locks and dams between Pittsburgh and Wheeling.

Twelve flatboats belonging to Wayne, Gray & Co. broke loose from their moorings at Wheeling Sunday. Some of them were pulled out, but others are still in the ice in a dangerous position for navigation.

The officials of the packet lines are talking of running their steamers to St. Louis during the summer season. It is said that such an arrangement would afford a pleasant means of transportation for Pittsburghers and other residents of the valley.

The packet companies are talking of cutting down the number of trips they make here on account of the high wharfage charges. The town is small and the freight trifling, and the officials there charge as much wharfage as the Pittsburgh wharf, asked to pay at Pittsburgh and Wheeling.

Capt. R. C. Carnell of Vicksburg has the best horns which were carried for many years on the packets Prospect, R. E. Lee and Natchez. He will present them to Capt. Thomas P. Kountzky, who was a son of Capt. W. W. Canada, who was in command of the R. E. Lee when she won the fame which still attaches to her as the fastest packet that ever plied the Mississippi.

OUTLOOK IS ENCOURAGING.

Packets and Excursion Steamers Are Enjoying a Good Season.

The continued cool weather and rains, with the amounts of water in the rivers, make the outlook for a good stage of water encouraging. There was seven feet of water in the harbor yesterday, but the reports from upriver points indicate that all the water of the last rains has reached here. The rivers are now recovering with supplies. The Volunteer, John Moren and T. C. Rieber arrived yesterday, and the Tennessee was due to come in during the night. The stage of the river is being done by the packet lines and excursion boats. Towboats are active in taking empties up into the pools and bringing back loaded barges.

OXFORD HOTEL IS SOLD TO ATTORNEY

A Well-Known Second Avenue Property Has Changed Hands for $60,000.

NORTH SIDE SALE OF $24,000

Two Residence Transactions—St. Andrews Church Coming Down—Building of Sisters of Good Shepherd Will Cost $350,000—South Side Warehouse.

The Oxford hotel, one of the best-known properties in Second avenue, was sold yesterday, through the Commonwealth Real Estate and Trust Company, for $60,000 cash. The hotel is a three-story brick structure, a landmark downtown, as it was built in 1845, shortly after the big fire. It stands on a lot facing 48 feet in Second avenue, just above Grant street, and having a depth of 95 feet. A wing, 20x65 feet, adjoins this and runs through to Third avenue. The property belonged to August Cobbell and was bought by a prominent attorney for an investment. Its location and two frontages make it a very desirable lot and it is considered cheap at the price paid, which averages $805 a front foot, or $12.82 a square foot. Last week No. 441 Second avenue was sold for $953 a front foot, or $12.82 a square foot, and the property of Dalzell, Scott & Gordon, in Third avenue, near Grant street, was bought for $1,353 a front foot, or $18.78 a square foot. The improvements rate about the same on the three properties.

Move in a New Direction.

Through the Union Realty Company Joseph Moore sold to Calvin King the property at the northwest corner of River avenue and Cherry alley, in the Fourth ward, Allegheny, for $24,000. The lot measures 24x80x150 feet, and extends through to Sawmill alley. The buildings are old and of little value. The purchase, which was made for an investment, is the first deal in this neighborhood for several months.

Charles Ruben has sold to Mrs. Tillie Spandau a property, 24x120 feet, on the north side of Carson street, near Twenty-second street, Twenty-fifth ward, for $13,000. The lot is improved with a good residence.

Simon Linton bought from George F. Jost a residence property 22x124 feet, on the south side of Wylie avenue, near Fulton street, Eighth ward, for $13,500.

Bookings Made After January.

Under the direction of the J. Little Planing Mill Company of Allegheny, a gang of men started yesterday to tear down the old St. Andrews Protestant Episcopal church in Ninth street. Architect George Mason of Detroit has completed plans for the Star theater, which R. H. Gulick and Frank Buhl will finally planned to erect on the site, but no bids will be taken until the labor situation is more settled. It is probable that the theater will be erected to the left of the old church, with a Ninth street entrance, and that the church lot itself will be used for a hotel. Mr. Gulick said last night that bookings had been made for the theater from January 1, but prior to that date no contracts could be made until it was known more definitely when the building would be completed.

The contract for the first group of buildings to be erected by the Sisters of the Good Shepherd in Lincoln avenue, Twenty-first ward, has been awarded to Francis E. McGuire. Plans were prepared by Architect J. A. Long and the total cost of the buildings is estimated at $350,000. They will be three-story brick structures, fireproof, and provided with an outside plant for heating and lighting. It is expected that the first group will be completed by February 1.

Deal Will Involve $1,500,000.

The details will probably be announced today or tomorrow in one of the largest and most important realty deals made this year. The total amount involved in the project will be close to $1,500,000, and if it goes through, as now seems certain, it will mean the complete transformation of a large block of property.

The surveys have been completed for the system of warehouses which the Pittsburg River & Railroad Terminal Company will build on the site of the old Oliver nail mill in Fourth street, South Side. Architect Charles Bickel has now preparing the working drawings, which will provide for at least 40 warehouses and the most complete system of connections known in any group of storage houses in the country. The mill is to be razed by Dorris and Hall, it is thought that work on the warehouses can be started by August 1. With good progress the company expects to move into them next April, after having expended over $2,000,000 for building.

Improvements costing $360,000 have just been completed to the plant of the D. Lutz & Sons Brewing Company, on Spring Garden avenue, Allegheny. The new buildings include a stack house 40x100 feet, a bottling house 66x80 feet, and a cooling house 16x50 feet. New machinery has been installed throughout, and the capacity of the plant doubled.

Broker Called to Chicago.

John F. Baxter of the Commonwealth Real Estate & Trust Company, with his wife, left on the limited last night for Chicago, to attend the funeral of his son-in-law, C. S. Kelsey, who died in Los Angeles. Mr. Kelsey was a former Pittsburgh resident.

Bluff street: The Aronson Realty Company sold for M. Willets to Jacob Little, No. 1011 Bluff street, a modern brick house on a lot 21x102 feet; for $7,000.

Southern avenue: Frank A. Land sold to Gustav Wilde a vacant lot 260x325 feet, in Southern avenue, beyond Kaoxville, for $9,000. The property adjoins the old Phillips homestead and will be improved with a fine residence.

Allegheny: The Williams-Evans Company sold for Francis E. Evans to A. R. Hamilton, two lots 60x240 feet each, facing Riverview park, in the Fifteenth ward, Allegheny, for $5,000. The buyer will build.

HAY AND CORN PRICES ARE STILL ADVANCING

Old Potatoes Getting Scarce. Flour Firm—Creamery Butter Unchanged.

The onward march of prices in the hay market continues, this time affecting clover and mixed grades, which have moved to a higher range. Timothy remains very firm at the quotations which closed last week. Corn is strong, with demand active and supplies limited, prices for shelled going forward yesterday, reaching a top notation of 55 cents. Oats are firm at former figures and milfeed is unchanged.

Very few old potatoes are to be found in the market, and only small lots of Mc Is almost impossible to quote correct figures, for values are uncertain. However, the price from store for such as there are to offer is not far from $1 per bushel, perhaps a little higher than that for fancy stock. New potatoes are 5c lower, quotations slightly above those ruling at the close of the week. Cucumbers are not so plentiful as they were and prices are higher. Cabbage is coming forward more freely and prices have gone off slightly. Berries of all kinds remain uncharged from figures quoted on Saturday.

All grocery staples remained unchanged yesterday, prices of Saturday still prevailing. Flour was firmer, but local jobbers allowed quotations to stay at former range. The cereal market is quiet, but millers say that further advances are not unlikely, although they have not yet arrived. Coffee is steady and sugar is firm.

There was no change in the price of creamery butter at Elgin yesterday, and local quotations are the same as last week. Cheese and eggs are also unchanged.

CEREALS CLOSE HIGHER IN ALL CHICAGO PITS

Unfavorable Thrasher's Reports Sent Up the Price of Wheat. Weather Hurts Corn.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, June 22.—A bullish sentiment again prevailed in the grain pits today and September wheat closed 2@2½c higher. September corn was up 3c and oats 1c higher, but provisions were easier, the September products closing from 2½@5c lower.

Wheat showed strong and unfavorable reports from the southwest, showing that the returns from the threshing machines were disappointing and no heavy rains in that section of the country, coupled with the continued lack of precipitation in the northwest, where rains are much needed. July was up 1¾@2c to 74¾@75c, while September was up 2@2½c to 77@77½c, while September was up 2@2½c to 77@77½c. Cash wheat was higher. Receipts, 247,000 bushels; shipments, 435,000 bushels. No. 2 red, 74@75c; No. 3 red, 72@73c; No. 2 hard winter, 74@75c; No. 3 hard winter, 72@73c; No. 1 northern spring, 74@75c; No. 2 northern spring, 72@73c; No. 3 spring, 70@72c.

Corn was strong and quite active most of the day on a renewal of bullish crop talk and a big shipping demand. The market was subject to violent manipulation. The weather map showed no rains in the northwest, where needed, but one or two local rains and reports of rains in other sections helped to check the advance. Cash wheat was higher. Sales included No. 2 red July, 53¾@54c; closed 54c; September, 54¾@55c; closed 55c; December, 50¾@51c; closed 50¾c.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

The Calumet & Arizona mine, at Bisbee, Ariz., made 1,026 tons of copper last month. Two furnaces are in connection. The machinery for the third has been shipped from Pittsburg and will be installed as soon as possible. There is a large quantity of ore in sight. Millions of tons of ore, rich in copper and carrying important values in gold and silver, are blocked out. The first dividend will be paid probably next December or January, and the disbursements to June will aggregate $10 or $12 per share.

A vein of oxidized ore, 27 per cent copper, has been encountered at the 500-foot level of the Calumet & Pittsburgh mine. The heavy inflow of water interfered with development, but it is expected that the permanent available ore body will be encountered in a short time. The company is officered by the same people as the Calumet & Arizona and Lake Superior & Pittsburgh, consequently Pittsburgh capitalists are heavily interested.

The Montezuma lode is about 20 feet wide where penetrated by the crosscut at the Aberdeen property. The entire property is developed and part of it is heavily charged with copper. It is expected that steps will be taken shortly towards the opening of a permanent working basis.

A season of assessment seems to have set in early this year in the Lake Superior district. No less than $1,000,000 has been called for, and there will be more to follow. Some of the assessments ranging from one to two dollars per share. In four out of the seven cases the mines are not regular producers, and additional funds were required for development and equipment.

Prof. Samuel Aughey of Spokane, who has visited the Belcher mines, says it has the greatest copper property in the world. The crosscut south of Rossland, in the crosscut from the red tunnel the first 12 feet of the Belcher vein, which is about 50 feet in width, averages about $16 in gold and copper, principally the former, and it is thought that the balance of the vein, which has just been crosscut, will give even a larger average value. One 5-cup-feet crosscut gives a general average of $36 to the ton.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, June 22.—There was an average of 17s 6d for spot tin in London and of 78 for futures, the former closing at 17s 3d and the latter at 77s 6d. The market closed easy in London, with spot down 2s 6d to £126 2s 6d and futures 2s 6d to £126 15s. Locally tone was steady and trade fair. Lake copper was unchanged, with 1 dollar, 10 cents asked, at 12¾@12.90. No. 1 foundry, northern, at 12¾@12.90. No. 1 foundry, southern, at 12¾@12.90. Lead was steady at $4.35@4.40. Spelter was dull at $4.75@4.80.

The Drygoods Market.

NEW YORK, June 22.—The drygoods market continues its upward tendency with prices held firmly in all directions. Buyers are not operating extensively but have a share in quotations as they are ready to pay the prices asked. Jobbers report that buyers do not as yet appear to have exhausted their requirements and are willing to secure goods before the season's business opens or an increased assembly develops.

NEW CARDINALS CREATED AT ROME

Pope Leo XIII. Officiates at Important Consistory at the Vatican.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ROME, June 22.—The consistory today was specially important, owing to the persistent rumors regarding the pope's ill health and the previous postponements. Naturally, a ceremony in which the pope, hair hidden in vestments, is borne on a chair and is continually assisted, is not the best opportunity to judge of his appearance or the state of his health, but a man capable of undergoing the strain of such a function has plenty of vitality.

The pontiff's features seemed slightly more clear cut and his hands trembled perceptibly, but his voice was plainly heard, though it had lost something of its power. The ceremony was shortened as much as possible and only lasted about 35 minutes.

New Cardinals Created.

The following were created cardinals: Monsignor Fischer, archbishop of Cologne; Monsignor Taliani, papal nuncio at Vienna; Monsignor Cavicchioni, secretary of the congregation of the council; Monsignor Ajuti, papal nuncio at Lisbon; Monsignor Nocella, secretary of the consistorial congregation; Monsignor Katschthaler, archbishop of Salzburg, Austria; Most Rev. Herrero Y. Espinosa, archbishop of Valencia. The pope transferred Cardinal Serano Vannutelli from the bishopric of Frascati to that of Porto Santa Rufina, which is of higher rank.

Cardinal Satoli was transferred from the titular bishopric of Santa Maria, in Araceeli, to the diocese of Frascati, near Rome, the summer residence of the Roman aristocracy. Afterward the pope announced the nominations of several archbishops who had been appointed by brief.

The pontiff appointed Cardinal Agliardi, who has been replaced as prefect of economy of the propaganda, to be vice chancellor of the Chiesa Della Volpe.

The Pontiff's Speech.

The pope at the consistory delivered a short address, which he intended to be kept private, though containing nothing of great importance. He merely greeted the cardinals and said he liked to discuss only pleasant subjects, but satisfactory events were mingled with painful occurrences. The demonstrations of loyalty from all over the world on the occasion of his jubilee had caused him great joy. He had been saddened, however, by the persecutions of which the church was the object.

The pope did not add anything, but he evidently referred to the suppression of the unauthorized congregations in France.

At the conclusion of the consistory, the pope went to the throne room, where, surrounded by the cardinals and the papal court, he received the homage of the new archbishops and bishops. The ancient ceremonies were observed, each of the prelates kissing the pontiff's foot and receiving the apostolic benediction.

In the meanwhile the masters of ceremonies, accompanied by church dignitaries, proceeded to the residence of Monsignors Fischer, Cavicchioni and Nocella, announced their appointments and informed them that the pope would bestow the red hats on them at a public consistory to be held Thursday. Specially selected members of the noble guard will be sent to officially convey the news to appointees who are abroad.

BRIEFS OFF THE CABLE.

PARIS, June 22.—The municipal council today voted the sum of $10,000 for the representation of the city at the St. Louis exposition.

LONDON, June 22.—In a recent battle with the sultan of Sokoto at Durmi, Nigeria, four British were killed and 60 wounded, and the column was obliged to retreat.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 22.—Troops had to be called recently to quell a mutiny of prisoners in the jail at Vladi-Kavkas, capital of Terek district, Ciscaucasia. Four mutineers were killed and eight wounded.

LONDON, June 22.—When asked in the house of commons today what steps were being taken to induce Germany to cease differentiation against Canada, Secretary Chamberlain replied: "I am not aware that there are any that can be taken under our present fiscal system."

MEETING OF PREACHERS.

Matters Discussed by Methodists Yesterday Related to Camp Meeting.

The Presbyterian and Methodist Episcopal ministers were the only ones who held meetings yesterday morning. The Baptists went on an excursion up the Monongahela and the Methodist Protestants have ceased to hold meetings for the summer. The Rev. H. D. Whitfield of Elizabeth spoke before the Methodist Episcopal ministers on the "Shifting of Old Landmarks."

The program for the camp meeting at Valley Camp, July 9-18, has been nearly completed. The Rev. C. M. Miller of the South Side will have supervision of the meetings. The Itinerants' club of the Pittsburgh conference will hold sessions July 9-10. The Rev. N. H. Cameron will preach on July 11, and the morning of Sunday, July 12. The Rev. M. J. Sleppy will speak on the evening of the 14th, and Dr. T. J. Pender will preach on the 13th. The Rev. W. W. Hall will be the speaker for the 14th, Dr. R. J. Wolf on the 17th and Dr. E. M. Weed on the 18th.

The Rev. J. Wright of Philadelphia, spoke to the Presbyterian ministers on "Emerson." The Rev. Dr. Russell A. McKinley, who occupied the pulpit of the East End Presbyterian church last Sunday, made a good impression on the congregation and may be called to the pastorate. The Monongahela Presbytery meets one week from today at Hebron.

FEAR FIRED THE PISTOL.

Stephen Hunydi, Threatened by Two Men, Tries to Kill Himself Before His Wife.

Stephen Hunydi, a bartender at the Hotel Jerome, McKeesport, returned home from his work shortly after midnight, and going up to the bedroom he woke his wife and told her he intended to kill himself. Before his wife could interfere he had pulled out a revolver and shot himself just behind the ear. He may recover.

He said that he tried to kill himself because two men had threatened to assassinate him.

MRS. ROOSEVELT GOES TO SUMMER HOME

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Mrs. Roosevelt, accompanied by two or three of the White House domestics, will leave Washington at 7 o'clock tomorrow for Oyster Bay. It was expected that she would remain here until the president went to Oyster Bay for the summer, but it was deemed desirable on account of the presence of the children at Sagamore Hill that she should go home in advance of the president.

WALKING DELEGATE PARKS IS RE-ELECTED

NEW YORK, June 22.—Samuel Parks, who is under criminal charges in connection with the Hecla iron works and other strikes, has been re-elected as one of the four walking delegates of the Housesmiths' and Bridgemen's union, according to the final count tonight, by the second largest vote polled in the balloting for delegates. President Neidig, who has fought Parks, was re-elected, but ran 250 votes behind Parks.

SCHOOL OF METHODS OPENS FOR ONE WEEK

Sunday School Workers to Receive Free Instruction by Experts in That Service.

For a week's session the Pittsburgh School of Methods for Sabbath School Workers opened yesterday morning at the Pennsylvania College for Women, Fifth avenue. Work was started at once, and by last evening nearly every department had been set going. The instructors for the week are: Mrs. J. W. Barnes, Newark, N. J.; Miss Alice B. Hamlin and Mrs. M. G. Kennedy, Philadelphia; Hugh Cork, Philadelphia; Dr. Jesse Holbert, Morristown, N. J.; Miss Florence Dannell, Philadelphia; Dr. W. B. Forbush, Boston, and Dr. W. J. Erdman.

The welcoming address yesterday was delivered by A. A. Bruce in the absence of S. E. Hill, president of the Allegheny County Sunday School association, and a similar adress was made by H. J. Heinz, chairman of the state executive committee.

At 11:45 a Bible class was conducted by Dr. Erdman, and in the afternoon the wrk in the various departments was organized.

In the evening there was a trolley ride to the various points of interests about the city.

There is no charge for tuition at the school and about 40 were in attendance at its opening yesterday. The cost is defrayed by the state committee. The president of the board of managers is John Wanamaker, Philadelphia.

TWENTIETH WARD TEACHERS

All but Six of the Old Instructors Were Re-Elected by the Board.

The new Twentieth ward school board met last night in the Shakespeare school and elected teachers for next year. Prof. J. P. Cameron, who has been principal of the Twentieth ward schools for 33 years, was re-elected.

The assistant principals are: M. A. Buswinkle, E. H. Flundenberg, Ella Hanlon and M. Z. Anderson. The other teachers are: E. C. Neeper, physical culture; E. A. Greves and H. E. Pool, high school; K. P. Hartman, Martha F. Vance, A. M. Asper, Annie A. Dines, E. W. Danley, Lourena B. Smith, H. Bryan, L. Dalbey, B. Reese, M. E. Haanion, T. L. Carmack, C. Riddle, S. Douglas, writing; J. Handlon, F. McComb, K. Slocum, N. Black, C. F. McMillan, M. E. Dickson, A. R. Mackenzie, L. K. Petty, C. Grove, J. V. Burns, L. B. Skelly, Lulu Loomis Beck, Jane Nelson Little, Cora B. Withington, L. McHatie, Anna L. Lafferty, S. S. Black, R. E. Milligan, L. Saint, K. Chambers, B. Young, G. Cox, A. Baxter, P. Black, G. F. Bossart, C. Wasseli, L. Provost, M. W. Campbell, M. S. Martin, M. Rankin, E. R. Dyer, M. B. Rees, C. Letters, G. Trill and Lorena Smith.

Six vacancies were filled by the appointment of Misses Nance, Dines, Lourena B. Smith, Beck, Little and Withington. The entire corps of old teachers, with the exceptions of the six who resigned, were retained. The picnic of the high school department is scheduled for today and the commencement takes place on June 25, at the Friendship school.

FAILED TO CAPTURE LEADER OF THE GANG

Unsuccessful Effort Made to Arrest Fifth Man Connected With Many Robberies.

Hugh Brassel and W. R. Laughlin, who were arrested at West Elizabeth at midnight Sunday, along with Neel and "Rube" Bowers, charged with being implicated in many robberies in the Monongahela valley, north from McKeesport, were given a hearing before Alderman W. D. Mansfield of McKeesport yesterday and committed to jail. They were brought to the Allegheny county jail later in the day by Detective Adolph Biernkrantz, who arrested them.

At noon yesterday Detective P. J. Morrissey, head of the agency which ran the robbers to earth, went to Finleyville hoping to capture a fifth man connected with the burglaries, and who is said to be the leader of the gang. Morrissey's trip was unsuccessful, but he still has hopes of capturing the man and another search for him will be made today.

Relief Fund Grows Rapidly.

KANSAS CITY, June 22.—The bodies of Albert Mathews and Theodore Barbour, who were drowned at Lawrence, were found there today. A pontoon bridge across the Kansas river will probably be completed tomorrow. The Kansas City, (Kan.) relief fund passed the $70,000 mark today.

COLFAX PLACE PLAN OF LOTS

Located in the Centre of Industry, 14 Miles from the City, in the Allegheny Valley, on the West Penn Railroad.

Only One Square from the Depot—Street Cars Will Run Through the Plan Within a Year.

The Plan is only three minutes' walk from one hundred and fifty acres of the finest manufacturing sites within 50 miles of Pittsburgh.

There is a large Plate Glass plant within two minutes' walk from the Plan, which is doubling its capacity. Homes will be needed for one thousand or more people within a year.

A syndicate has just purchased a large manufacturing site within a few minutes' walk of the Plan, paying over $65,000 for it.

Two hundred houses have been built within the last two years, and a large number are now under construction and will be completed within a short period. Not a vacant house within two miles.

The government is now expending Twelve Million Dollars improving the Allegheny river.

The dam at Herrs Island is completed. The one at Colfax, where our plan is located, will be finished in a couple of months, and work is being rushed on the dam at Aspinwall. When it is finished, which will be soon, the Allegheny Valley will have facilities far ahead of the Monongahela.

The Pennsylvania railroad is rushing the work on the Brilliant "cut-off," which will bring Colfax Place to within Eleven Miles of Pittsburgh. Passenger trains will run from the Plan into the Union depot, Pittsburgh.

Colfax Place will only be Twenty Minutes distant from Pittsburgh.

Think of it. Good level lots, within one square of the railroad depot and with street cars at your own door—only Twenty Minutes distant from Pittsburgh.

WHICH CAN BE BOUGHT NOW FOR

$165, $180, $200, $250, $300, $350, $400, $450 and $500

ON 50-FOOT STREETS TO 15-FOOT ALLEYS.

These lots are 40 per cent lower than lots can be purchased anywhere in the town.

Don't miss this grand opportunity of providing yourself with a home site or of investing your money where it will come back to you double in a short time.

Lots costing $200 now in this Plan will be worth $500 in a year.

We will pay car fare to and from the plan of every purchaser of one or more lots. Any distance within 50 miles of the Plan.

In the Allegheny Valley is where money is to be made by investing in real estate, especially in Colfax Place Plan.

To reach the Plan from Pittsburgh take West Penn trains at Chestnut street, Allegheny, or Aspinwall. Get off at Colfax. Plan only one square distant from depot.

Agents will be on the Plan all day Saturday. Don't miss it

TERMS OF SALE: 10 per cent cash; Balance 5 per cent per Month. No Interest. No Taxes. A Discount of 10 per cent will be Allowed for Cash if Paid Within 30 Days of Sale. No Taxes Until 1905.

AN ORDINANCE—Amending section 28 of an ordinance entitled "An ordinance to carry into effect in the city of Allegheny an act of assembly entitled 'An act for the government of cities of the second class,' approved March 7, 1901, and the supplements thereto, and fixing salaries," approved June 1, 1903.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the select and common councils of the city of Allegheny, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That section 28 of an ordinance entitled "An ordinance to carry into effect in the city of Allegheny an act of assembly entitled 'An act for the government of cities of the second class,' approved March 7, 1901, and the supplements thereto, and fixing salaries, approved October 31, 1901, which reads as follows:

Sec. 28. There shall be and there is hereby created the following police districts: District No. 1 shall be comprised of the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth and Thirteenth wards; the Tenth ward shall constitute District No. 2; the Twelfth ward, District No. 4, and the Fourteenth and Fifteenth wards, District No. 5. The magistrates shall be at least 25 years of age, citizens of the United States and residents of the city at the time of their appointment; they shall continue to reside therein during their term of service. The magistrate in the First district shall receive a salary of fifteen hundred ($1,500) dollars per annum; the magistrate in the Third district shall receive a salary of twelve hundred ($1,200.00) dollars per annum, and the magistrates in the Second, Fourth and Fifth districts shall receive a salary of fifty ($50) per annum each.

The magistrate in the First district shall give a bond in the sum of two thousand ($2,000) dollars, the magistrate in the Third district shall give a bond in the sum of two thousand ($2,000) dollars, and the magistrates in the Second, Fourth and Fifth districts shall each give a bond in the sum of five hundred ($500) dollars, conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of said office; said bonds to be filed with the mayor. They shall each make weekly reports to the mayor of cases disposed of by them. In the event of an alderman being appointed a police magistrate, in all cases where an information of an arrest is made or process served by a police officer employed by the city of Allegheny, all costs, fines, forfeitures and fees shall be paid into the treasury, whether such police magistrate was acting as police magistrate or alderman.

Sec. 2. That so much of any ordinance as may conflict with or be supplied by the foregoing, be and the same is hereby repealed.

Ordained and enacted into a law in councils, this 17th day of June, A. D. 1903.
